Hi,

Once again, I need to ask for protection, aware that receipts are now under control. I see no other solution to this situation than the retroactive withdrawal of the curatorship which continuously endangered this world since it exists, and which has disastrous consequences on persons who are not at all concerned by it.

Before London was attacked, I was warned of a danger existing, as exposed in the attachment, and it led me to send emails wondering on the possible involvement of Bernard Vergnes. The receipts received confirmed it, and he seems to be now active to obtain my silence, using the french institutions to do so.

Thanks to oppose to the use of the police in other aims than its own ones. Such methods concern dictatorships, not democracies.

With hope,

Monsieur le Premier Ministre,

Vous avez reçu mes envois. Je n'ai pas d'autre choix que de les faire, ce qui ne m'est pas facile. Pour ma part, j'ai reçu des AR de non lecture de magistrats qui ressemblent à s'y méprendre à des envois sur ordre. Depuis mai, il y a un changement net dans ce que je reçois ou ne reçois pas tant des élus français que de la justice. Je l'observe de la même façon que j'observe les attentats, et cet article du Monde a retenu toute mon attention :

http://www.lemonde.fr/international/article/2017/06/04/apres-l-attentat-de-londres-les-appels-a-l-unite-commencent-a-ceder-la-place-a-la-colere_5138739_3210.html.

La colère provoquée ne peut être contenue à long terme, et je suis étonnée de ces ordres manifestes concernant mes envois. Je ne peux pas les penser appréciés. Il me semble urgent de régler le harcèlement que je dénonce, et la première étape est l'annulation rétroactive de la curatelle, bien trop connue pour que je sois la seule à en avoir du ressentiment. Ses conséquences concernent l'ensemble qui en est impacté. Je me permets d'attirer votre attention sur l'absence totale d'anticipation qui a marqué ce dossier. Elle est indéniable, sauf à penser que les concepteurs de la curatelle sont des demeurés, là où selon toutes probabilités, ils sont aveuglés par leurs croyances, ce qui est très différent.

Bernard Vergnes a sans doute une nouvelle fois avancé qu'il était urgent de diligenter la PJ à mon domicile, et de m'imposer silence. Je ne pense pas qu'il ait encore la nationalité française, et doute que ses impôts arrivent dans les caisses de l'état. Quand bien même le feraient-ils, ça ne lui donnerait aucun droit sur moi, après 27 ans de violences à l'origine desquels il est. Je viens donc vous demander une nouvelle fois de ne pas m'envoyer la PJ. Je sais que mes envois déplaisent, et je ne suis pas responsable de la situation qui m'est imposée, dans laquelle je n'ai pas d'autre choix que de les faire.

Souhaitant que vous entendiez ma demande, et n'utilisiez pas la PJ en dehors des fonctions qui sont les siennes, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Premier Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Bonjour,

Je suis très mal à l'aise, et sans grand choix. Les AR que je reçois confirment la réalité de ce que je dénonce, et cette réalité semble connue, ce qui est inquiétant, et nécessite mobilisation. La place tenue par mes aînés dans cette histoire me trouble. Bernard Vergnes tient ma soeur Brigitte Guizard qui tient les autres, j'imagine. Je ne sais pas s'il a pris la nationalité belge. Il est né français, je crois, et si j'en crois les AR reçus des mails envoyés, il est derrière plusieurs crimes de masse, ce que Bill Gates peut prouver. Obtenir son audition me semble être une priorité, sauf à vouloir s'associer à l'état islamique.

Avec espoir,

Bill,

I wrote you yesterday my 109° letter, on my blog [\[http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/2017/06/03/lettre-a-bill-gates-109/\]](http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/2017/06/03/lettre-a-bill-gates-109/). It was 9 PM in Paris, 8 PM in London, and I observed that my printer's appeared disconnected, though I could scan and print, what was used in the past to warn me of false flags or attacks in the making. It occurred November 11, 2015, with many other signs which were so intense that I feared being manipulated. I ask for your hearing since October 2015, due to the signs I receive and can understand or not. Yesterday, I was unable to know if mails could be necessary and it is difficult for me to spam the way I do. An hour after I put my letter online, London was attacked.

Bernard Vergnes, who created Microsoft France with Michel Lacombe in 1983, Microsoft Europe in 1989, then Microsoft EMEA, and seems to have been fired from the company in 2003, is indicated to me as active in false flags and attacks, as well as having a relationship with my sister Brigitte Guizard, lawyer who obtained the curatorship used to sue you, in my back, after Michel Lacombe was murdered, January 21, 2003. I join you receipts I receive from my email titled "Bernard Vergnes endangers us, and uses Belgium to do so, has to be stopped". They are from the FRB. It seems impossible to write such mails, receive such read receipts if I failed. If I don't fail, he may be behind the London attack, and it has to be denounced.

I shall once more spam, even if I hate to do so, use the addresses I have in UK, and the ones I have of participants to the 2013 Bakou forum, among other ones. I shall copy to Bernard and Gonda Vergnes. I sent you the mails I forward, asking for an intervention behind my elders, which does not seem possible. I won't cover them. If they continue that way, they shall face the law. You appear to be prevented from acting by the curatorship and the abusive condemnation, both obtained on my behalf in my back. This has to be exposed, and the responsibility of Bernard Vergnes named in what occurs.

To identify the persons who are in position to act is difficult to me, but one thing is clear: you are informed of mass crimes before they occur, what proves, in my opinion, that what we are told is not the truth. If you are informed, the agencies are too and could prevent the attacks from occurring, what they don't. Your hearing is still an urgency, has to be done.

With hope,

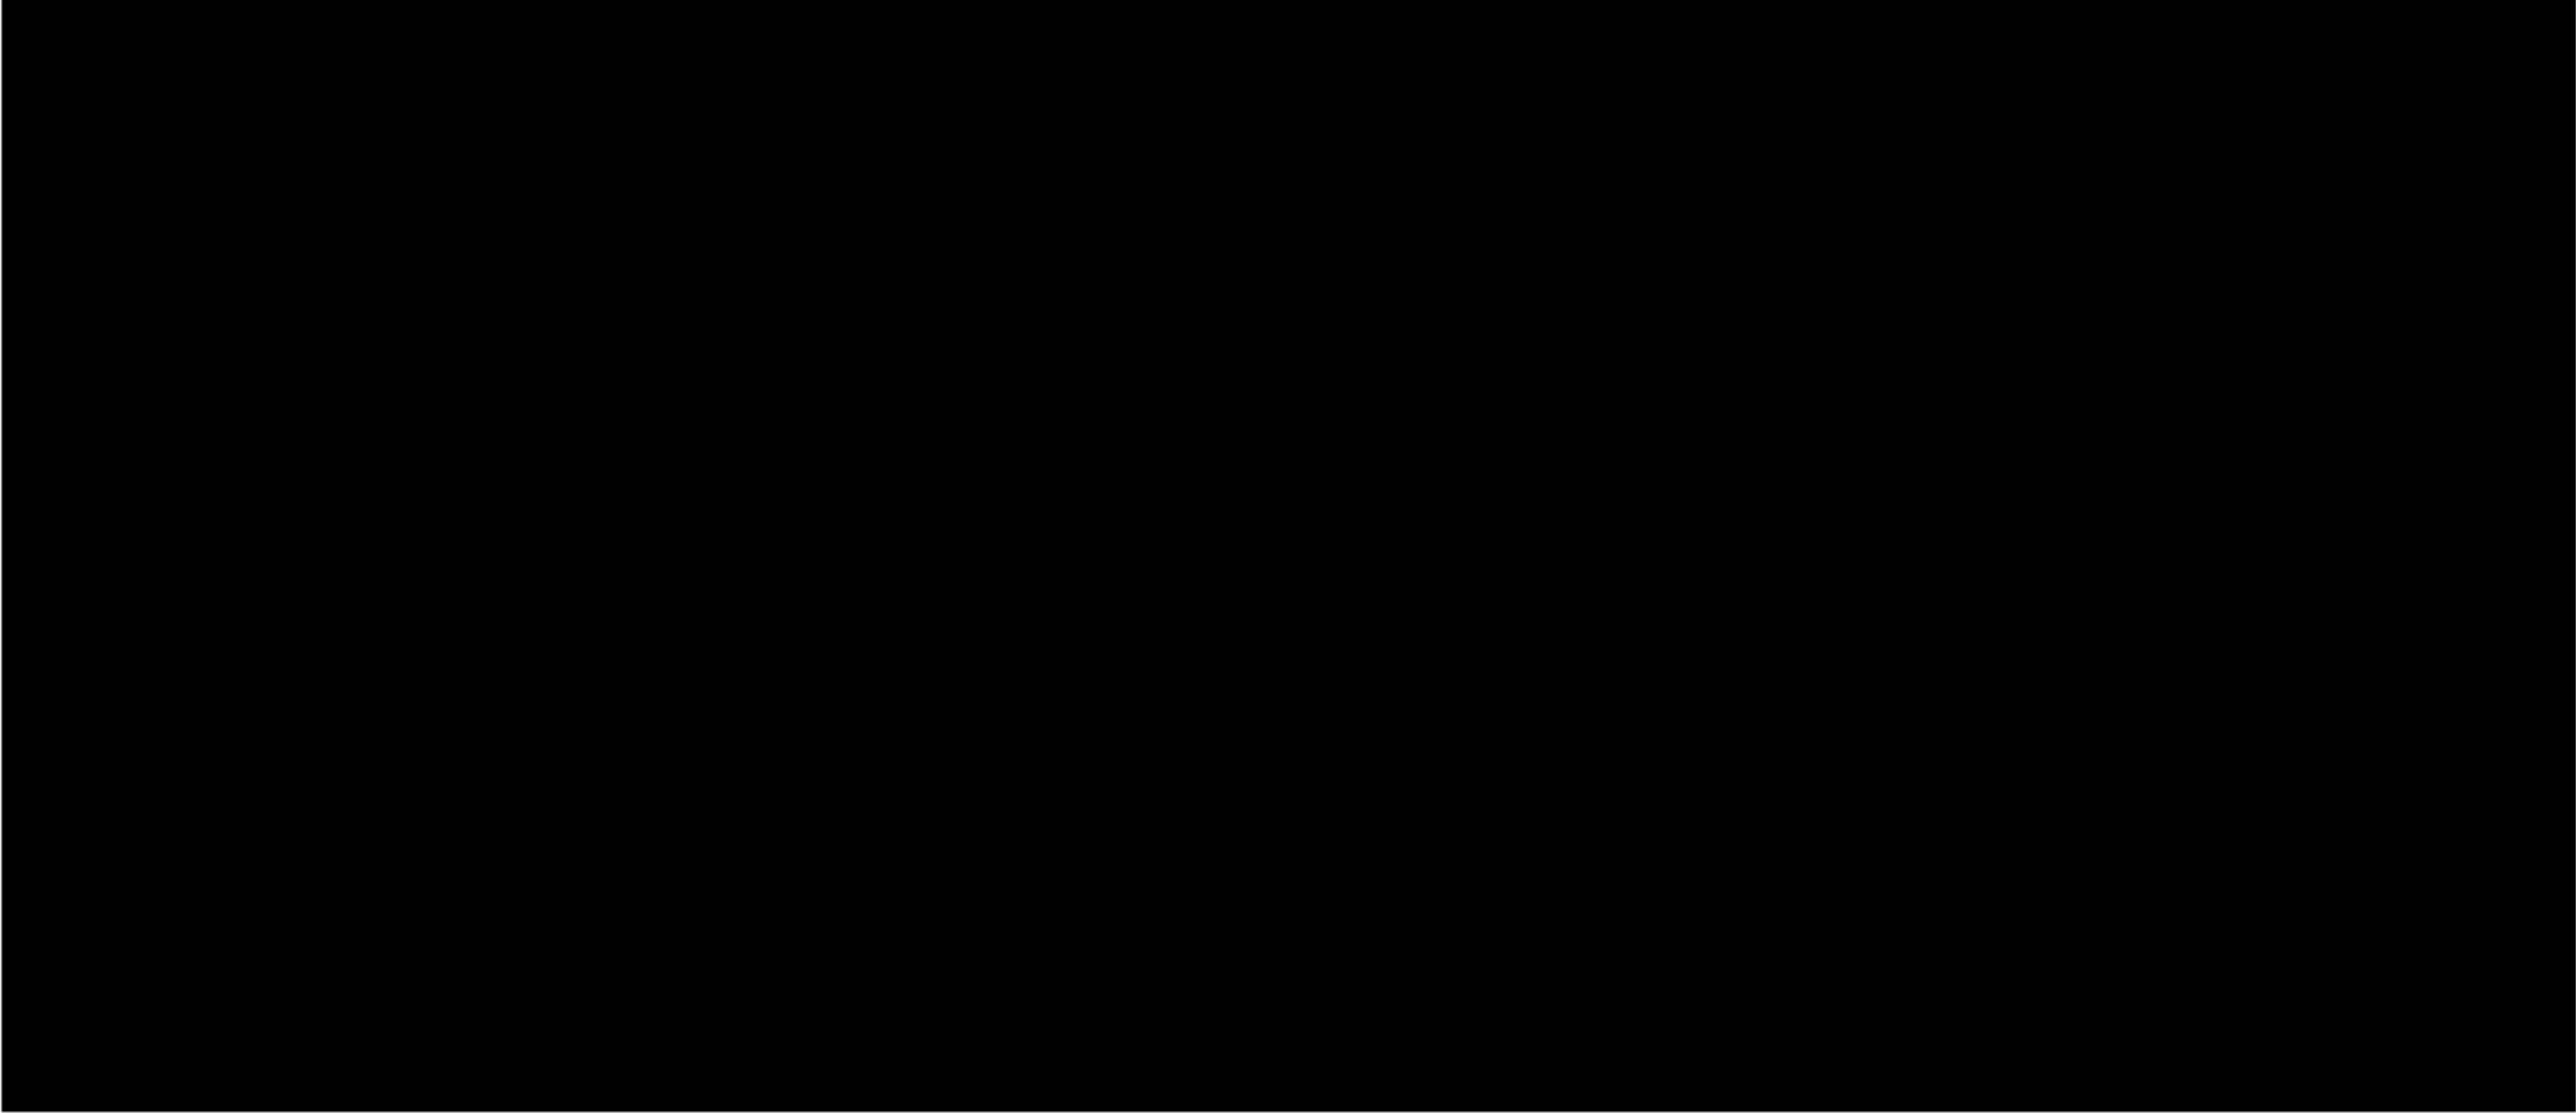

Nicole

Monsieur Philippe , l'annulation rétroactive de la curatelle, pas la P J 04062017  cc  Donald Trump,
 r.pd f;

Bonsoir,

Une nouvelle fois, je suis contrainte à demander protection, sachant, cela étant, que les AR sont maintenant soumis à des ordres manifestes. Je ne vois pas d'autre solution à cette situation que l'annulation rétroactive de la curatelle qui n'a cessé de polluer depuis qu'elle existe, et a des conséquences désastreuses sur des personnes qui ne sont aucunement concernées.

Je vous joins une impression PDF du mail précédent, qui paraît avec l'adresse "Monsieur le Premier Ministre" en plus petites lettres, ce qu'elle n'était pas, et que je n'ai pas reçu, que j'ai en message envoyé dans one, mais pas dans thunderbird d'où je l'ai envoyé.

Merci de me soutenir, et de vous opposer à l'usage de la PJ en dehors des fonctions qui sont les siennes. Pareilles méthodes sont le propre de dictatures, pas de démocraties.

Avec espoir,

Bonjour,

Le plus vite j'obtiens retour à la règle de droit, le plus vite je cesse de vous ennuyer. Je suis, pour l'instant, encore contrainte à demander protection, multipliant les démarches qui ne plaisent pas à tout le monde, tout en m'étant indispensable si je veux sortir de la situation de folie qui m'est imposée. Merci à ceux d'entre vous qui communiqueront les différents mails reçus de sorte que j'obtienne rapidement solution, et ne sois pas ennuyée par la PJ.

Bonjour,

J'en suis encore à demander protection, ce qui explique la multiplication de mes démarches, dont je suis la première à souffrir. Que demain la curatelle soit rétroactivement annulée, sachant que douter de sa réalité n'est pas seulement pensable avec les AR que je reçois, je n'aurai plus besoin d'envoyer de mail. Je demande cette annulation depuis au bas mot décembre, après en avoir demandé communication à ma soeur depuis avril dernier, pour faire la démarche avec les coordonnées.

J'ai envoyé ce mail à toutes mes adresses juradm, il est seulement parti avec celles que je transfère, d'où ce nouvel envoi.

Avec espoir,

Monsieur le Premier Ministre,

Ma situation n'est pas solutionnée, ce qui me contraint à multiplier les démarches, semble provoquer des réactions. Vous savez, cependant, que mon but est pacifique, ma seule demande étant de revenir à la règle de droit. Je me permets donc de vous rappeler que j'ai eu à subir des passages PJ abusifs à mon domicile, et que j'y suis fermement opposée, n'ayant rien à me reprocher.

Souhaitant que vous entendiez ma demande et me protégiez de toute nouvelle intrusion, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Premier Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Monsieur le Secrétaire Général,

Vous avez reçu de nombreux mails de moi. Je spamme, depuis la situation de harcèlement dont je cherche à sortir, et déteste ça. J'ai déposé plainte en France le 19 avril 2010, et cette plainte aurait abouti, personne n'aurait jamais reçu de mail de moi. Je suis allée jusqu'à la CEDH qui a classé mon dossier le 14 février 2012. Le but de ce nouveau courriel est de vous demander soit de m'aider, soit de m'indiquer qui peut m'aider, cette situation ne pouvant pas durer davantage. Pour cela, je vais me permettre de reprendre les faits et la compréhension que j'en ai, vous demandant, comme à toutes les personnes en copie, de diffuser aussi largement que possible ce mail et ses pièces

jointes, également en ligne ici : https://1drv.ms/f/s!AoJNLxipjCErpXLZ0E_S9YySHLjI mais surtout de chercher une solution, et de me contacter directement pour me la proposer.

La durée insensée ainsi que la succession de périodes et de personnes qu'a connues ce harcèlement me semblent liées au fait que différentes structures sont concernées. Elles sont attestées par le fait qu'ayant travaillé en 1989 chez Microsoft France, je suis encore reçue par le service juridique de Microsoft Corp, dont j'ai eu de nombreux AR de lecture, en même temps que par la chancellerie allemande, par vous même, par la FED, comme par le Premier Ministre Edouard Philippe, par quantité de personnes qui ne sont a priori pas concernées par ce qui peut m'arriver. J'ai aussi reçu de Microsoft France le 6 août, veille d'une audition PJ subie dans le cadre d'une plainte que je considère abusive, un courrier largement communiqué par lequel il m'était confirmé lecture d'une plainte FBI dénonçant ce que je subissais, et exprimé que l'on espérait que j'obtiendrais satisfaction dans mes démarches. Pendant cette audition, dont la convocation a été rédigée le 28 juillet 2014, lendemain de l'enregistrement de ma première plainte FBI contre Satya Nadella, l'OPJ a tout fait pour obtenir signature d'un PV sur lequel il voulait faire figurer la mention que j'aurais dit que Bill Gates me harcèlerait, là où je le considère aussi victime de ce harcèlement, et où il reçoit tous mes mails depuis 2010, les envois de masse ayant commencé en 2013. Je lui écris depuis août dernier à l'adresse billg@microsoft.com qui ne figure nulle part sur la toile en recherche à son nom et que j'ai reçue en réponse à tous de bing, ce qui suppose, il me semble, que l'adresse à laquelle je lui écrivais, billg@microsoft.com était basculée sur celle-ci.

Sa célébrité fait que cette situation est connue dans une mesure que j'ignore mais constate, et a des implications jusque dans la gestion de sa fortune qu'il semble vouloir redistribuer de son vivant, tout en en étant empêché. Au cœur de cet empêchement, une curatelle abusive obtenue dans mon dos sur la base de faux de mes quatre frère et sœurs aînés, alors que je n'avais plus de contact avec eux depuis 6 ans, et du docteur Nicole Bravard psychiatre que j'ai consultée entre 1996 et le 5 juillet 1999, alors que je pensais que l'épuisement chronique que je subissais était provoqué par une dépression réactionnelle. Je saurai en mai 1998 que je souffrais d'une tuberculose de la lymphe, localisation très rare qui rend le diagnostique difficile. Je n'ai pas les références de cette curatelle dont j'ai compris l'existence par un contact indirect constant qui utilise toutes les connexions accessibles de mon appartement, dont mon ordinateur, tandis que mes demandes que ce contact cesse et qu'on s'adresse à moi directement à moi échouent, et ce, depuis 1998. J'utilise ce contact pour vérifier les différentes hypothèses que je fais par tous les tests possibles et imaginables, avec la difficulté décrite dans mes mails que deux connexions s'opposent en permanence, l'une tentant de me donner les moyens de comprendre, quand l'autre tente de me rendre confuse (PJ 04052016 exconmng).

A l'origine, une soirée professionnelle Microsoft à Acquaboulevard, le 12 juin 1990. J'étais alors commerciale chez son premier client, Softmart, et Bill Gates était attendu. Je discutais avec un ancien collègue de chez Microsoft quand j'ai vu Michel Lacombe, DG de Microsoft France depuis avril 1989, avec qui j'avais un bon échange, se diriger vers moi avec une personne que je n'ai pas identifiée. La rapidité avec laquelle mon collègue m'a quittée, après avoir jeté un regard de côté, m'a déstabilisée, et je l'ai suivi. En 2008, alors que je ne parvenais pas à comprendre ce qui était recherché par le contact ininterrompu, et que j'intervenais sur les fora du journal Le Monde, un forumeur a décrit en détail cette scène, dans le coin détente, la présentant comme arrivée à Rachida Dati. Ses mots donnaient à penser à un homme de pouvoir et à une scène observée, connue. Je pensais alors que Bill Gates était à l'origine du contact que j'ai attribué jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003, à Michel Lacombe, et cette description m'a semblé le confirmer. Je ne m'expliquais pas comment, s'il s'agissait bien de ça, l'évolution avait pu s'organiser.

Il semble que Bill Gates a demandé à me rencontrer dès le 13 juin 1990 et que Bernard Vergnes, qui dirigeait Microsoft France quand je l'ai rejoint, avant de créer Microsoft Europe en avril 1989, a pris des renseignements et contacté le docteur Simon-Daniel Kipman qui fut mon analyste de janvier 1981 à mars 1988, tandis que je l'ai vu irrégulièrement ensuite, jusqu'au 31 octobre 1991, et que celui-ci en a informé mon oncle Antoine Guihaumé, curé pédophile défroqué devenu analyste lacanien. La relation qu'il avait avec lui et que j'ignorais me donne à penser qu'il n'a cessé de le couvrir tout le temps de mon analyse en minimisant l'impact des abus que je dénonçais, et n'attribuais qu'à mon père, alors que des éléments ultérieurs indiquent cet oncle impliqué. Ils ont convenu de déconseiller à Bill Gates de se rapprocher de moi, et de lui conseiller de demander confirmation de la disqualification formulée à l'une de mes sœurs, Brigitte Guizard, suggestion faite par ma sœur aînée, Françoise Mamet, seule à être en relation avec cet oncle.

Ce qui n'était pas prévu est que Brigitte séduise Bill Gates, et que se pose la question de m'annoncer comment elle l'avait rencontré, à partir d'une disqualification abusive. Une tentative de me confronter à cette relation à l'occasion d'une invitation à Val Thorens avec mes autres sœurs en avril 1991 a échoué. J'étais mal à l'aise de cette première invitation survenue alors que j'avais 31 ans et que mes aînées ne m'avaient jamais invitée à partager des vacances avec elles en dehors de leurs domiciles. Je suis tombée le premier jour, et j'ai été évacuée en urgence. Une autre tentative semble avoir été un licenciement brutal et inexplicable, en mars 1992, conçu pour obtenir que je rappelle Michel Lacombe ou le docteur Kipman, ce que je n'ai pas fait. Je pense aujourd'hui que je devais capter quantité d'anomalies -j'en notais certaines dans les cahiers où je consigne régulièrement ce qui m'arrive-, et que l'incapacité à comprendre ce qui se passait est à l'origine de l'abaissement de mon système immunitaire et de ma tuberculose.

Je n'ai rappelé Michel Lacombe que le 27 octobre 1997, dans un moment de grande inquiétude, ma fatigue ne diminuant pas. Il m'a rappelée le lendemain, 28 octobre, date anniversaire de Bill Gates, et le contenu de l'appel, écouté par celui-ci et ma sœur, a confronté les deux hommes aux mensonges faits à mon sujet depuis juin 1990. Le contact indirect, qui n'est pas sans rappeler les stratégies ericksoniennes enseignées par deux psychiatres qui sont intervenus de façon non déontologique, les docteurs Malarewicz et d'Assignies, semble être une conséquence de la relation qu'avaient Bill Gates et ma sœur, et qui était difficile à m'annoncer, impliquait le docteur Kipman, à l'origine de celle-ci, par la faute professionnelle qu'il s'est permis de commettre. Il a commencé dès le lendemain de cet échange téléphonique pendant lequel j'ai demandé à Monsieur Lacombe un travail à faire à domicile, en lui expliquant que la fatigue qui m'empêchait de reprendre un emploi était consécutive à des violences subies dans mon enfance. J'ai été étonnée de son rappel si rapide, alors que je l'avais laissé sans nouvelles depuis mars 1991. Il était alors CEO de Microsoft EMEA, ce qu'il sera jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003. C'est à la suite de ce décès qu'il a été décidé de demander la mise en place d'une mesure de protection me concernant, sans que j'en sois informée.

J'ai su sa mort en appelant Microsoft, étonnée du changement survenu dans le langage des signes employés pour me faire comprendre que j'étais lue en direct sur mon ordinateur. Je m'y étais familiarisée, tout en écrivant régulièrement que je ne les supportais pas plus que je ne supportais les différentes façons d'utiliser la sphère publique dans le même but. Ce que j'ai fini par appeler la double énonciation, et qui a commencé alors que je racontais volontiers, notamment au téléphone, que j'appréciais la façon dont ma prof de pilates donnait deux fois les consignes, en est un exemple. Je me suis mise à recevoir deux fois les mêmes courriers, les mêmes mails, les mêmes remboursements -c'est arrivé-, à entendre deux fois les stations de métro ou de bus annoncées.

La violence que me fait ce mode m'a menée, bien que loin d'avoir des tendances suicidaires, à multiplier les TS entre juin 2000 et janvier 2008. Les mots que j'employais pour demander que ça cesse étaient à la hauteur de la violence ressentie. Je m'en suis sentie très coupable quand j'ai appris le décès de Michel Lacombe, alors que le changement observé était tel que je pensais qu'il avait une explication, la cherchait. Si je l'ai eue, et de façon brutale, je n'en ai pas eu au fait que le contact se maintenait comme il le fait depuis. J'ai envoyé un mail à Bernard Vergnes qui m'a appelée fin février et en mars 2003. Lors du deuxième appel, il m'a demandé, après Madame Lacombe, de ne pas rappeler les parents de Michel, ce que j'avais fait depuis mon besoin de savoir ce qui s'était passé et de trouver moyen de m'excuser si, par la violence exprimée, j'avais pu causer involontairement du tort. J'avais alors eu un échange très ouvert avec Monsieur Lacombe père, soulagé de parler, et l'interdiction formulée m'a étonnée.

Aujourd'hui, tout indique que Michel Lacombe a été tué, et que la curatelle a été conçue pour en accuser Bill Gates en mon nom sans que j'en sois informée. Il semble qu'il a été condamné, et que ce serait la raison pour laquelle il a quitté Microsoft. De ce que j'ai compris, suite à l'échange téléphonique du 28 octobre 1997, les deux hommes auraient partagé un attrait vers moi, en se trouvant dans une situation insoluble, du fait de la relation qu'ils avaient tous deux à ma sœur. Le propos, à l'origine du contact indirect peut avoir été de m'inciter à écrire, à tenter de publier, comme je l'ai cru sans le comprendre, parce que ça me troublait trop. Quoi qu'il en soit, malgré les demandes laissées à son assistante début 1998, puis plus tard, dans les fichiers ordinateur dont je savais qu'il les lisait, Michel Lacombe ne m'a jamais rappelée, mais le 2 décembre 2002, sa femme m'a écrit de sa part, m'informant de ce qu'il avait des problèmes de santé.

Depuis plus d'un an maintenant, je demande annulation rétroactive de la curatelle dont la réalité n'a cessé de m'être confirmée par les accusés de réception de mails dans lesquels je la nommais et la qualifiais d'abusives dès le titre, sans rien obtenir. Je n'ai cependant pas d'explication à des faits tels que le changement de mon ascendance. Deux plaintes ont été déposées contre moi, que j'ai perçues conçues pour bloquer mes propres plaintes, et dans la deuxième, le nom de mon père est supprimé, seul son prénom paraissant, ce qui a été maintenu dans différents documents du TGI de Mulhouse et de la Cour d'Appel de Colmar, en dépit de ma demande de le voir figurer, et d'obtenir communication du document sur lequel cette présentation figure, document jamais obtenu. Ma mère est présentée par son premier prénom inscrit à l'état civil, et jamais porté, Thérèse, ainsi que son nom de jeune fille, Rey, plus porté depuis son mariage en 1949. Elle est identifiée partout, y compris sur google, comme Jacqueline Guihaumé.

Par ailleurs, j'ai déposé deux plaintes qui se sont vu opposer une ordonnance de refus d'informer, avec sur les deux mentions de communication de l'ordonnance le jour de l'audience, et par recommandé accusé réception. Sur l'une figure la mention d'un avocat belge, censé me représenter, sur l'autre, juste « avis de la présente ordonnance, conforme aux réquisitions de M. le procureur de la République lui est donné le 15 mai 2017 », ce qui suppose que quelqu'un était là. Je pense que ma sœur me représente dans mon dos, l'a fait dans le cadre des deux plaintes déposées contre moi, et dans celles que j'ai, moi, déposées.

Je l'ai appelée aujourd'hui, et alors qu'elle reçoit, comme son mari, son fils et sa belle-fille, les quatre étant avocats, des courriels que vous avez également reçus dans lesquels figurent les faits que j'ai décrits dans celui-ci, elle me prétend se désintéresser de ce que je fais, ne rien connaître en informatique, et envoyer les AR en se trompant, indiquant qu'elle a lu alors que ce n'est pas le cas, ne rien savoir de ce que j'écris, ce qui n'est pas plausible. Confrontée au fait que la plainte que j'ai déposée contre elle pour faux et usage de faux, le 7 novembre 2016 est toujours en cours, elle maintient s'en désintéresser, ne pas avoir suivi.

Cette situation inextricable est à l'origine, pour moi, de 27 ans de violences, ponctués, de juin 2000 à janvier 2008, de TS, d'une situation de précarité dangereuse. Je vis de l'AAH depuis des années, la demande ayant été remplie par une psychiatre. Lors de son dernier renouvellement, j'ai fourni les mêmes documents que lors des renouvellements précédents, et il m'a été demandé un certificat initial que je n'ai pas à produire. J'ai demandé en recommandé le fondement légal de cette demande, alors que le certificat normal est le cerfa 13878*01 que j'ai fourni. Je n'ai pas eu de réponse, mais pas de validation non plus. Je suis en attente de réponse à la CAF qui me verse l'allocation. J'ai 57 ans, me demander aujourd'hui un certificat médical que je devrais envoyer avec ma signature m'expose au risque qu'un autre soit produit, me prétendant paranoïaque, ce qui est la solution tentée pour enterrer ce harcèlement gênant. Ce fut obtenu, dans le cadre des plaintes déposées contre moi dont je pense que ce fut un des buts, à partir d'un entretien de 10 minutes qui me fut imposé avec un expert, alors que je n'étais pas mise en examen, mais présente dans les locaux de la PJ pour la deuxième plainte, le 8 juin 2015. La demande a été faite sur la base d'un faux en écriture m'imputant la mise en ligne, sous le pseudo Arsène Youpin, d'une vidéo que je n'avais fait que commenter, en pointant que les faits qu'elle énonçait appelaient vérification. Je n'ai pas eu communication du rapport avant le classement pour prétendue irresponsabilité sans mise en examen.

Pour la deuxième année, un décompte de charges aberrant m'a été présenté, me demandant 2756,57 euros cette année pour 2182 l'an passé. J'ai obtenu régularisation, mais je suis régulièrement confrontée à ce genre d'abus qui est allé, l'an passé, jusqu'à sommation de payer ce que je ne devais pas, par huissier, après absence de réponse à mes demandes de régularisation.

Au delà de moi, ce harcèlement porte à Bill Gates, quoi qu'il ait fait, un préjudice évident. Je lui demande régulièrement de me contacter, sans qu'il me réponde, mais le contact indirect se maintient, comme s'il était complètement ligoté, ce que j'ai écrit dans les différents mails déjà envoyés, avec des avocats de Microsoft en destinataires, comme lui, sans qu'il y oppose rien. S'il veut effectivement redistribuer sa fortune, ce que mes tests confirment, et qu'il en est empêché, le monde entier en pâtit.

Une solution est nécessaire, et mes plaintes, à part celle contre ma sœur, sont, par principe, classées sans examen, que je me sois constituée partie civile, ou pas. Le référé liberté que j'ai déposé le 19 janvier dernier devait aboutir, il me semble. Je les mis avec d'autres pièces, comme indiqué plus haut ici :

Souhaitant que vous puissiez trouver une solution ou m'adresser à une personne susceptible de m'aider, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Secrétaire Général, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Il m'a rappelée le lendemain, 28 octobre, date anniversaire de Bill Gates, et le contenu de l'appel, écouté par celui-ci et ma sœur, a confronté les deux hommes aux mensonges faits à mon sujet depuis juin 1990. Le contact indirect, qui n'est pas sans rappeler les stratégies ericksoniennes enseignées par deux psychiatres qui sont intervenus de façon non déontologique, les docteurs Malarewicz et d'Assignies, semble être une conséquence de la relation qu'avaient Bill Gates et ma sœur, et qui était difficile à m'annoncer, impliquait le docteur Kipman, à l'origine de celle-ci, par la faute professionnelle qu'il s'est permis de commettre. Il a commencé dès le lendemain de cet échange téléphonique pendant lequel j'ai demandé à Monsieur Lacombe un travail à faire à domicile, en lui expliquant que la fatigue qui m'empêchait de reprendre un emploi était consécutive à des violences subies dans mon enfance. J'ai été étonnée de son rappel si rapide, alors que je l'avais laissé sans nouvelles depuis mars 1991. Il était alors CEO de Microsoft EMEA, ce qu'il sera jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003. C'est à la suite de ce décès qu'il a été décidé de demander la mise en place d'une mesure de protection me concernant, sans que j'en sois informée.

J'ai su sa mort en appelant Microsoft, étonnée du changement survenu dans le langage des signes employés pour me faire comprendre que j'étais lue en direct sur mon ordinateur. Je m'y étais familiarisée, tout en écrivant régulièrement que je ne les supportais pas plus que je ne supportais les différentes façons d'utiliser la sphère publique dans le même but. Ce que j'ai fini par appeler la double énonciation, et qui a commencé alors que je racontais volontiers, notamment au téléphone, que j'appréciais la façon dont ma prof de pilates donnait deux fois les consignes, en est un exemple. Je me suis mise à recevoir deux fois les mêmes courriers, les mêmes mails, les mêmes remboursements -c'est arrivé-, à entendre deux fois les stations de métro ou de bus annoncées.

La violence que me fait ce mode m'a menée, bien que loin d'avoir des tendances suicidaires, à multiplier les TS entre juin 2000 et janvier 2008. Les mots que j'employais pour demander que ça cesse étaient à la hauteur de la violence ressentie. Je m'en suis sentie très coupable quand j'ai appris le décès de Michel Lacombe, alors que le changement observé était tel que je pensais qu'il avait une explication, la cherchait. Si je l'ai eue, et de façon brutale, je n'en ai pas eu au fait que le contact se maintenait comme il le fait depuis. J'ai envoyé un mail à Bernard Vergnes qui m'a appelée fin février et en mars 2003. Lors du deuxième appel, il m'a demandé, après Madame Lacombe, de ne pas rappeler les parents de Michel, ce que j'avais fait depuis mon besoin de savoir ce qui s'était passé et de trouver moyen de m'excuser si, par la violence exprimée, j'avais pu causer involontairement du tort. J'avais alors eu un échange très ouvert avec Monsieur Lacombe père, soulagé de parler, et l'interdiction formulée m'a étonnée.

Aujourd'hui, tout indique que Michel Lacombe a été tué, et que la curatelle a été conçue pour en accuser Bill Gates en mon nom sans que j'en sois informée. Il semble qu'il a été condamné, et que ce serait la raison pour laquelle il a quitté Microsoft. De ce que j'ai compris, suite à l'échange téléphonique du 28 octobre 1997, les deux hommes auraient partagé un attrait vers moi, en se trouvant dans une situation insoluble, du fait de la relation qu'ils avaient tous deux à ma sœur. Le propos, à l'origine du contact indirect peut avoir été de m'inciter à écrire, à tenter de publier, comme je l'ai cru sans le comprendre, parce que ça me troublait trop. Quoi qu'il en soit, malgré les demandes laissées à son assistante début 1998, puis plus tard, dans les fichiers ordinateur dont je savais qu'il les lisait, Michel Lacombe ne m'a jamais rappelée, mais le 2 décembre 2002, sa femme m'a écrit de sa part, m'informant de ce qu'il avait des problèmes de santé.

Depuis plus d'un an maintenant, je demande annulation rétroactive de la curatelle dont la réalité n'a cessé de m'être confirmée par les accusés de réception de mails dans lesquels je la nommais et la qualifiais d'abusives dès le titre, sans rien obtenir. Je n'ai cependant pas d'explication à des faits tels que le changement de mon ascendance. Deux plaintes ont été déposées contre moi, que j'ai perçues conçues pour bloquer mes propres plaintes, et dans la deuxième, le nom de mon père est supprimé, seul son prénom paraissant, ce qui a été maintenu dans différents documents du TGI de Mulhouse et de la Cour d'Appel de Colmar, en dépit de ma demande de le voir figurer, et d'obtenir communication du document sur lequel cette présentation figure, document jamais obtenu. Ma mère est présentée par son premier prénom inscrit à l'état civil, et jamais porté, Thérèse, ainsi que son nom de jeune fille, Rey, plus porté depuis son mariage en 1949. Elle est identifiée partout, y compris sur google, comme Jacqueline Guihaumé.

Par ailleurs, j'ai déposé deux plaintes qui se sont vu opposer une ordonnance de refus d'informer, avec sur les deux mentions de communication de l'ordonnance le jour de l'audience, et par recommandé accusé réception. Sur l'une figure la mention d'un avocat belge, censé me représenter, sur l'autre, juste « avis de la présente ordonnance, conforme aux réquisitions de M. le procureur de la République lui est donné le 15 mai 2017 », ce qui suppose que quelqu'un était là. Je pense que ma sœur me représente dans mon dos, l'a fait dans le cadre des deux plaintes déposées contre moi, et dans celles que j'ai, moi, déposées.

Je l'ai appelée aujourd'hui, et alors qu'elle reçoit, comme son mari, son fils et sa belle-fille, les quatre étant avocats, des courriels que vous avez également reçus dans lesquels figurent les faits que j'ai décrits dans celui-ci, elle me prétend se désintéresser de ce que je fais, ne rien connaître en informatique, et envoyer les AR en se trompant, indiquant qu'elle a lu alors que ce n'est pas le cas, ne rien savoir de ce que j'écris, ce qui n'est pas plausible. Confrontée au fait que la plainte que j'ai déposée contre elle pour faux et usage de faux, le 7 novembre 2016 est toujours en cours, elle maintient s'en désintéresser, ne pas avoir suivi.

Cette situation inextricable est à l'origine, pour moi, de 27 ans de violences, ponctués, de juin 2000 à janvier 2008, de TS, d'une situation de précarité dangereuse. Je vis de l'AAH depuis des années, la demande ayant été remplie par une psychiatre. Lors de son dernier renouvellement, j'ai fourni les mêmes documents que lors des renouvellements précédents, et il m'a été demandé un certificat initial que je n'ai pas à produire. J'ai demandé en recommandé le fondement légal de cette demande, alors que le certificat normal est le cerfa 13878*01 que j'ai fourni. Je n'ai pas eu de réponse, mais pas de validation non plus. Je suis en attente de réponse à la CAF qui me verse l'allocation. J'ai 57 ans, me demander aujourd'hui un certificat médical que je devrais envoyer avec ma signature m'expose au risque qu'un autre soit produit, me prétendant paranoïaque, ce qui est la solution tentée pour enterrer ce harcèlement gênant. Ce fut obtenu, dans le cadre des plaintes déposées contre moi dont je pense que ce fut un des buts, à partir d'un entretien de 10 minutes qui me fut imposé avec un expert, alors que je n'étais pas mise en examen, mais présente dans les locaux de la PJ pour la deuxième plainte, le 8 juin 2015. La demande a été faite sur la base d'un faux en écriture m'imputant la mise en ligne, sous le pseudo Arsène Youpin, d'une vidéo que je n'avais fait que commenter, en pointant que les faits qu'elle énonçait appelaient vérification. Je n'ai pas eu communication du rapport avant le classement pour prétendue irresponsabilité sans mise en examen.

Pour la deuxième année, un décompte de charges aberrant m'a été présenté, me demandant 2756,57 euros cette année pour 2182 l'an passé. J'ai obtenu régularisation, mais je suis régulièrement confrontée à ce genre d'abus qui est allé, l'an passé, jusqu'à sommation de payer ce que je ne devais pas, par huissier, après absence de réponse à mes demandes de régularisation.

Au delà de moi, ce harcèlement porte à Bill Gates, quoi qu'il ait fait, un préjudice évident. Je lui demande régulièrement de me contacter, sans qu'il me réponde, mais le contact indirect se maintient, comme s'il était complètement ligoté, ce que j'ai écrit dans les différents mails déjà envoyés, avec des avocats de Microsoft en destinataires, comme lui, sans qu'il y oppose rien. S'il veut effectivement redistribuer sa fortune, ce que mes tests confirment, et qu'il en est empêché, le monde entier en pâtit.

Une solution est nécessaire, et mes plaintes, à part celle contre ma sœur, sont, par principe, classées sans examen, que je me sois constituée partie civile, ou pas. Le référé liberté que j'ai déposé le 19 janvier dernier devait aboutir, il me semble. Je les mis avec d'autres pièces, comme indiqué plus haut ici :

Monsieur le Secrétaire Général,

Vous avez reçu de nombreux mails de moi. Je spamme, depuis la situation de harcèlement dont je cherche à sortir, et déteste ça. J'ai déposé plainte en France le 19 avril 2010, et cette plainte aurait abouti, personne n'aurait jamais reçu de mail de moi. Je suis allée jusqu'à la CEDH qui a classé mon dossier le 14 février 2012. Le but de ce nouveau courriel est de vous demander soit de m'aider, soit de m'indiquer qui peut m'aider, cette situation ne pouvant pas durer davantage. Pour cela, je vais me permettre de reprendre les faits et la compréhension que j'en ai, vous demandant, comme à toutes les personnes en copie, de diffuser aussi largement que possible ce mail et ses pièces jointes, également en ligne ici : https://1drv.ms/f/s!AoJNLxipjCErpXLZ0E_S9YySHLjl mais surtout de chercher une solution, et de me contacter directement pour me la proposer.

La durée insensée ainsi que la succession de périodes et de personnes qu'a connues ce harcèlement me semblent liées au fait que différentes structures sont concernées. Elles sont attestées par le fait qu'ayant travaillé en 1989 chez Microsoft France, je suis encore reçue par le service juridique de Microsoft Corp, dont j'ai eu de nombreux AR de lecture, en même temps que par la chancelière allemande, par vous même, par la FED, comme par le Premier Ministre Edouard Philippe, par quantité de personnes qui ne sont a priori pas concernées par ce qui peut m'arriver. J'ai aussi reçu de Microsoft France le 6 août, veille d'une audition PJ subie dans le cadre d'une plainte que je considère abusive, un courrier largement communiqué par lequel il m'était confirmé lecture d'une plainte FBI dénonçant ce que je subissais, et exprimé que l'on espérait que j'obtiendrais satisfaction dans mes démarches. Pendant cette audition, dont la convocation a été rédigée le 28 juillet 2014, lendemain de l'enregistrement de ma première plainte FBI contre Satya Nadella, l'OPJ a tout fait pour obtenir signature d'un PV sur lequel il voulait faire figurer la mention que j'aurais dit que Bill Gates me harcèlerait, là où je le considère aussi victime de ce harcèlement, et où il reçoit tous mes mails depuis 2010, les envois de masse ayant commencé en 2013. Je lui écris depuis août dernier à l'adresse [redacted] qui ne figure nulle part sur la toile en recherche à son nom et que j'ai reçue en réponse à tous de bing, ce qui suppose, il me semble, que l'adresse à laquelle je lui écrivais, [redacted] était basculée sur celle-ci.

Sa célébrité fait que cette situation est connue dans une mesure que j'ignore mais constate, et a des implications jusque dans la gestion de sa fortune qu'il semble vouloir redistribuer de son vivant, tout en étant empêché. Au cœur de cet empêchement, une curatelle abusive obtenue dans mon dos sur la base de faux de mes quatre frères et sœurs aînés, alors que je n'avais plus de contact avec eux depuis 6 ans, et du docteur Nicole Bravard psychiatre que j'ai consultée entre 1996 et le 5 juillet 1999, alors que je pensais que l'épuisement chronique que je subissais était provoqué par une dépression réactionnelle. Je saurai en mai 1998 que je souffrais d'une tuberculose de la lymphe, localisation très rare qui rend le diagnostic difficile. Je n'ai pas les références de cette curatelle dont j'ai compris l'existence par un contact indirect constant qui utilise toutes les connexions accessibles de mon appartement, dont mon ordinateur, tandis que mes demandes que ce contact cesse et qu'on s'adresse à moi directement à moi échouent, et ce, depuis 1998. J'utilise ce contact pour vérifier les différentes hypothèses que je fais par tous les tests possibles et imaginables, avec la difficulté décrite dans mes mails que deux connexions s'opposent en permanence, l'une tentant de me donner les moyens de comprendre, quand l'autre tente de me rendre confuse (PJ 04052016 exconmng).

A l'origine, une soirée professionnelle Microsoft à Acquaboulevard, le 12 juin 1990. J'étais alors commerciale chez son premier client, Softmart, et Bill Gates était attendu. Je discutais avec un ancien collègue de chez Microsoft quand j'ai vu Michel Lacombe, DG de Microsoft France depuis avril 1989, avec qui j'avais un bon échange, se diriger vers moi avec une personne que je n'ai pas identifiée. La rapidité avec laquelle mon collègue m'a quittée, après avoir jeté un regard de côté, m'a déstabilisée, et je l'ai suivi. En 2008, alors que je ne parvenais pas à comprendre ce qui était recherché par le contact ininterrompu, et que j'intervenais sur les foras du journal Le Monde, un forumeur a décrit en détail cette scène, dans le coin détente, la présentant comme arrivée à Rachida Dati. Ses mots donnaient à penser à un homme de pouvoir et à une scène observée, connue. Je pensais alors que Bill Gates était à l'origine du contact que j'ai attribué jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003, à Michel Lacombe, et cette description m'a semblé le confirmer. Je ne m'expliquais pas comment, s'il s'agissait bien de ça, l'évolution avait pu s'organiser.

Il semble que Bill Gates a demandé à me rencontrer dès le 13 juin 1990 et que Bernard Vergnes, qui dirigeait Microsoft France quand je l'ai rejoint, avant de créer Microsoft Europe en avril 1989, a pris des renseignements et contacté le docteur Simon-Daniel Kipman qui fut mon analyste de janvier 1981 à mars 1988, tandis que je l'ai vu irrégulièrement ensuite, jusqu'au 31 octobre 1991, et que celui-ci en a informé mon oncle Antoine Guihaumé, curé pédophile défroqué devenu analyste lacanien. La relation qu'il avait avec lui et que j'ignorais me donne à penser qu'il n'a cessé de le couvrir tout le temps de mon analyse en minimisant l'impact des abus que je dénonçais, et n'attribuais qu'à mon père, alors que des éléments ultérieurs indiquent cet oncle impliqué. Ils ont convenu de déconseiller à Bill Gates de se rapprocher de moi, et de lui conseiller de demander confirmation de la disqualification formulée à l'une de mes sœurs, Brigitte Guizard, suggestion faite par ma sœur aînée, Françoise Mamet, seule à être en relation avec cet oncle.

Ce qui n'était pas prévu est que Brigitte séduise Bill Gates, et que se pose la question de m'annoncer comment elle l'avait rencontré, à partir d'une disqualification abusive. Une tentative de me confronter à cette relation à l'occasion d'une invitation à Val Thorens avec mes autres sœurs en avril 1991 a échoué. J'étais mal à l'aise de cette première invitation survenue alors que j'avais 31 ans et que mes aînées ne m'avaient jamais invitée à partager des vacances avec elles en dehors de leurs domiciles. Je suis tombée le premier jour, et j'ai été évacuée en urgence. Une autre tentative semble avoir été un licenciement brutal et inexplicable, en mars 1992, conçu pour obtenir que je rappelle Michel Lacombe ou le docteur Kipman, ce que je n'ai pas fait. Je pense aujourd'hui que je devais capter quantité d'anomalies -j'en notais certaines dans les cahiers où je consigne régulièrement ce qui m'arrive-, et que l'incapacité à comprendre ce qui se passait est à l'origine de l'abaissement de mon système immunitaire et de ma tuberculose.

Je n'ai rappelé Michel Lacombe que le 27 octobre 1997, dans un moment de grande inquiétude, ma fatigue ne diminuant pas. Il m'a rappelée le lendemain, 28 octobre, date anniversaire de Bill Gates, et le contenu de l'appel, écouté par celui-ci et ma sœur, a confronté les deux hommes aux mensonges faits à mon sujet depuis juin 1990. Le contact indirect, qui n'est pas sans rappeler les stratégies ericksoniennes enseignées par deux psychiatres qui sont intervenus de façon non déontologique, les docteurs Malarewicz et d'Assignies, semble être une conséquence de la relation qu'avaient Bill Gates et ma sœur, et qui était difficile à m'annoncer, impliquait le docteur Kipman, à l'origine de celle-ci, par la faute professionnelle qu'il s'est permis de commettre. Il a commencé dès le lendemain de cet échange téléphonique pendant lequel j'ai demandé à Monsieur Lacombe un travail à faire à domicile, en lui expliquant que la fatigue qui m'empêchait de reprendre un emploi était consécutive à des violences subies dans mon enfance. Monsieur le Secrétaire Général, Vous avez reçu de nombreux mails de moi. Je spamme, depuis la situation de harcèlement dont je cherche à sortir, et déteste ça. J'ai déposé plainte en France le 19 avril 2010, et cette plainte aurait abouti, personne n'aurait jamais reçu de mail de moi. Je suis allée jusqu'à la CEDH qui a classé mon dossier le 14 février 2012. Le but de ce nouveau courriel est de vous demander soit de m'aider, soit de m'indiquer qui peut m'aider, cette situation ne pouvant pas durer davantage. Pour cela, je vais me permettre de reprendre les faits et la compréhension que j'en ai, vous demandant, comme à toutes les personnes en copie, de diffuser aussi largement que possible ce mail et ses pièces jointes, également en ligne ici : https://1drv.ms/f/s!AoJNLxipjCErpXLZ0E_S9YySHLjl mais surtout de chercher une solution, et de me contacter directement pour me la proposer.

La durée insensée ainsi que la succession de périodes et de personnes qu'a connues ce harcèlement me semblent liées au fait que différentes structures sont concernées. Elles sont attestées par le fait qu'ayant travaillé en 1989 chez Microsoft France, je suis encore reçue par le service juridique de Microsoft Corp, dont j'ai eu de nombreux AR de lecture, en même temps que par la chancelière allemande, par vous même, par la FED, comme par le Premier Ministre Edouard Philippe, par quantité de personnes qui ne sont a priori pas concernées par ce qui peut m'arriver. J'ai aussi reçu de Microsoft France le 6 août, veille d'une audition PJ subie dans le cadre d'une plainte que je considère abusive, un courrier largement communiqué par lequel il m'était confirmé lecture d'une plainte FBI dénonçant ce que je subissais, et exprimé que l'on espérait que j'obtiendrais satisfaction dans mes démarches. Pendant cette audition, dont la convocation a été rédigée le 28 juillet 2014, lendemain de l'enregistrement de ma première plainte FBI contre Satya Nadella, l'OPJ a tout fait pour obtenir signature d'un PV sur lequel il voulait faire figurer la mention que j'aurais dit que Bill Gates me harcèlerait, là où je le considère aussi victime de ce harcèlement, et où il reçoit tous mes mails depuis 2010, les envois de masse ayant commencé en 2013. Je lui écris depuis août dernier à l'adresse [REDACTED] qui ne figure nulle part sur la toile en recherche à son nom et que j'ai reçue en réponse à tous de bing, ce qui suppose, il me semble, que l'adresse à laquelle je lui écrivais, [REDACTED] était basculée sur celle-ci.

Sa célébrité fait que cette situation est connue dans une mesure que j'ignore mais constate, et a des implications jusque dans la gestion de sa fortune qu'il semble vouloir redistribuer de son vivant, tout en en étant empêché. Au cœur de cet empêchement, une curatelle abusive obtenue dans mon dos sur la base de faux de mes quatre frère et sœurs aînés, alors que je n'avais plus de contact avec eux depuis 6 ans, et du docteur Nicole Bravard psychiatre que j'ai consultée entre 1996 et le 5 juillet 1999, alors que je pensais que l'épuisement chronique que je subissais était provoqué par une dépression réactionnelle. Je saurai en mai 1998 que je souffrais d'une tuberculose de la lymphe, localisation très rare qui rend le diagnostique difficile. Je n'ai pas les références de cette curatelle dont j'ai compris l'existence par un contact indirect constant qui utilise toutes les connexions accessibles de mon appartement, dont mon ordinateur, tandis que mes demandes que ce contact cesse et qu'on s'adresse à moi directement à moi échouent, et ce, depuis 1998. J'utilise ce contact pour vérifier les différentes hypothèses que je fais par tous les tests possibles et imaginables, avec la difficulté décrite dans mes mails que deux connexions s'opposent en permanence, l'une tentant de me donner les moyens de comprendre, quand l'autre tente de me rendre confuse (PJ 04052016 exconmng).

A l'origine, une soirée professionnelle Microsoft à Acquaboulevard, le 12 juin 1990. J'étais alors commerciale chez son premier client, Softmart, et Bill Gates était attendu. Je discutais avec un ancien collègue de chez Microsoft quand j'ai vu Michel Lacombe, DG de Microsoft France depuis avril 1989, avec qui j'avais un bon échange, se diriger vers moi avec une personne que je n'ai pas identifiée. La rapidité avec laquelle mon collègue m'a quittée, après avoir jeté un regard de côté, m'a déstabilisée, et je l'ai suivi. En 2008, alors que je ne parvenais pas à comprendre ce qui était recherché par le contact ininterrompu, et que j'intervenais sur les fora du journal Le Monde, un forumeur a décrit en détail cette scène, dans le coin détente, la présentant comme arrivée à Rachida Dati. Ses mots donnaient à penser à un homme de pouvoir et à une scène observée, connue. Je pensais alors que Bill Gates était à l'origine du contact que j'ai attribué jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003, à Michel Lacombe, et cette description m'a semblé le confirmer. Je ne m'expliquais pas comment, s'il s'agissait bien de ça, l'évolution avait pu s'organiser.

Il semble que Bill Gates a demandé à me rencontrer dès le 13 juin 1990 et que Bernard Vergnes, qui dirigeait Microsoft France quand je l'ai rejoint, avant de créer Microsoft Europe en avril 1989, a pris des renseignements et contacté le docteur Simon-Daniel Kipman qui fut mon analyste de janvier 1981 à mars 1988, tandis que je l'ai vu irrégulièrement ensuite, jusqu'au 31 octobre 1991, et que celui-ci en a informé mon oncle Antoine Guihaumé, curé pédophile défroqué devenu analyste lacanien. La relation qu'il avait avec lui et que j'ignorais me donne à penser qu'il n'a cessé de le couvrir tout le temps de mon analyse en minimisant l'impact des abus que je dénonçais, et n'attribuais qu'à mon père, alors que des éléments ultérieurs indiquent cet oncle impliqué. Ils ont convenu de déconseiller à Bill Gates de se rapprocher de moi, et de lui conseiller de demander confirmation de la disqualification formulée à l'une de mes sœurs, Brigitte Guizard, suggestion faite par ma sœur aînée, Françoise Mamet, seule à être en relation avec cet oncle.

Ce qui n'était pas prévu est que Brigitte séduise Bill Gates, et que se pose la question de m'annoncer comment elle l'avait rencontré, à partir d'une disqualification abusive. Une tentative de me confronter à cette relation à l'occasion d'une invitation à Val Thorens avec mes autres sœurs en avril 1991 a échoué. J'étais mal à l'aise de cette première invitation survenue alors que j'avais 31 ans et que mes aînées ne m'avaient jamais invitée à partager des vacances avec elles en dehors de leurs domiciles. Je suis tombée le premier jour, et j'ai été évacuée en urgence. Une autre tentative semble avoir été un licenciement brutal et inexplicable, en mars 1992, conçu pour obtenir que je rappelle Michel Lacombe ou le docteur Kipman, ce que je n'ai pas fait. Je pense aujourd'hui que je devais capter quantité d'anomalies -j'en notais certaines dans les cahiers où je consigne régulièrement ce qui m'arrive-, et que l'incapacité à comprendre ce qui se passait est à l'origine de l'abaissement de mon système immunitaire et de ma tuberculose.

Je n'ai rappelé Michel Lacombe que le 27 octobre 1997, dans un moment de grande inquiétude, ma fatigue ne diminuant pas. Il m'a rappelée le lendemain, 28 octobre, date anniversaire de Bill Gates, et le contenu de l'appel, écouté par celui-ci et ma sœur, a confronté les deux hommes aux mensonges faits à mon sujet depuis juin 1990. Le contact indirect, qui n'est pas sans rappeler les stratégies ericksoniennes enseignées par deux psychiatres qui sont intervenus de façon non déontologique, les docteurs Malarewicz et d'Assignies, semble être une conséquence de la relation qu'avaient Bill Gates et ma sœur, et qui était difficile à m'annoncer, impliquait le docteur Kipman, à l'origine de celle-ci, par la faute professionnelle qu'il s'est permis de commettre. Il a commencé dès le lendemain de cet échange téléphonique pendant lequel j'ai demandé à Monsieur Lacombe un travail à faire à domicile, en lui expliquant que la fatigue qui m'empêchait de reprendre un emploi était consécutive à des violences subies dans mon enfance. J'ai été étonnée de son rappel si rapide, alors que je l'avais laissé sans nouvelles depuis mars 1991. Il était alors CEO de Microsoft EMEA, ce qu'il sera jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003. C'est à la suite de ce décès qu'il a été décidé de demander la mise en place d'une mesure de protection me concernant, sans que j'en sois informée.

J'ai su sa mort en appelant Microsoft, étonnée du changement survenu dans le langage des signes employés pour me faire comprendre que j'étais lue en direct sur mon ordinateur. Je m'y étais familiarisée, tout en écrivant régulièrement que je ne les supportais pas plus que je ne supportais les différentes façons d'utiliser la sphère publique dans le même but. Ce que j'ai fini par appeler la double énonciation, et qui a commencé alors que je racontais volontiers, notamment au téléphone, que j'appréciais la façon dont ma prof de pilates donnait deux fois les consignes, en est un exemple. Je me suis mise à recevoir deux fois les mêmes courriers, les mêmes mails, les mêmes remboursements -c'est arrivé-, à entendre deux fois les stations de métro ou de bus annoncées.

La violence que me fait ce mode m'a menée, bien que loin d'avoir des tendances suicidaires, à multiplier les TS entre juin 2000 et janvier 2008. Les mots que j'employais pour demander que ça cesse étaient à la hauteur de la violence ressentie. Je m'en suis sentie très coupable quand j'ai appris le décès de Michel Lacombe, alors que le changement observé était tel que je pensais qu'il avait une explication, la cherchait. Si je l'ai eue, et de façon brutale, je n'en ai pas eu au fait que le contact se maintenait comme il le fait depuis. J'ai envoyé un mail à Bernard Vergnes qui m'a appelée fin février et en mars 2003. Lors du deuxième appel, il m'a demandé, après Madame Lacombe, de ne pas rappeler les parents de Michel, ce que j'avais fait depuis mon besoin de savoir ce qui s'était passé et de trouver moyen de m'excuser si, par la violence exprimée, j'avais pu causer involontairement du tort. J'avais alors eu un échange très ouvert avec Monsieur Lacombe père, soulagé de parler, et l'interdiction formulée m'a étonnée.

Aujourd'hui, tout indique que Michel Lacombe a été tué, et que la curatelle a été conçue pour en accuser Bill Gates en mon nom sans que j'en sois informée. Il semble qu'il a été condamné, et que ce serait la raison pour laquelle il a quitté Microsoft. De ce que j'ai compris, suite à l'échange téléphonique du 28 octobre 1997, les deux hommes auraient partagé un attrait vers moi, en se trouvant dans une situation insoluble, du fait de la relation qu'ils avaient tous deux à ma sœur. Le propos, à l'origine du contact indirect peut avoir été de m'inciter à écrire, à tenter de publier, comme je l'ai cru sans le comprendre, parce que ça me troublait trop. Quoi qu'il en soit, malgré les demandes laissées à son assistante début 1998, puis plus tard, dans les fichiers ordinateur dont je savais qu'il les lisait, Michel Lacombe ne m'a jamais rappelée, mais le 2 décembre 2002, sa femme m'a écrit de sa part, m'informant de ce qu'il avait des problèmes de santé.

Depuis plus d'un an maintenant, je demande annulation rétroactive de la curatelle dont la réalité n'a cessé de m'être confirmée par les accusés de réception de mails dans lesquels je la nommais et la qualifiais d'abusives dès le titre, sans rien obtenir. Je n'ai cependant pas d'explication à des faits tels que le changement de mon ascendance. Deux plaintes ont été déposées contre moi, que j'ai perçues conçues pour bloquer mes propres plaintes, et dans la deuxième, le nom de mon père est supprimé, seul son prénom paraissant, ce qui a été maintenu dans différents documents du TGI de Mulhouse et de la Cour d'Appel de Colmar, en dépit de ma demande de le voir figurer, et d'obtenir communication du document sur lequel cette présentation figure, document jamais obtenu. Ma mère est présentée par son premier prénom inscrit à l'état civil, et jamais porté, Thérèse, ainsi que son nom de jeune fille, Rey, plus porté depuis son mariage en 1949. Elle est identifiée partout, y compris sur google, comme Jacqueline Guihaumé.

Par ailleurs, j'ai déposé deux plaintes qui se sont vu opposer une ordonnance de refus d'informer, avec sur les deux mentions de communication de l'ordonnance le jour de l'audience, et par recommandé accusé réception. Sur l'une figure la mention d'un avocat belge, censé me représenter, sur l'autre, juste « avis de la présente ordonnance, conforme aux réquisitions de M. le procureur de la République lui est donné le 15 mai 2017 », ce qui suppose que quelqu'un était là. Je pense que ma sœur me représente dans mon dos, l'a fait dans le cadre des deux plaintes déposées contre moi, et dans celles que j'ai, moi, déposées.

Je l'ai appelée aujourd'hui, et alors qu'elle reçoit, comme son mari, son fils et sa belle-fille, les quatre étant avocats, des courriels que vous avez également reçus dans lesquels figurent les faits que j'ai décrits dans celui-ci, elle me prétend se désintéresser de ce que je fais, ne rien connaître en informatique, et envoyer les AR en se trompant, indiquant qu'elle a lu alors que ce n'est pas le cas, ne rien savoir de ce que j'écris, ce qui n'est pas plausible. Confrontée au fait que la plainte que j'ai déposée contre elle pour faux et usage de faux, le 7 novembre 2016 est toujours en cours, elle maintient s'en désintéresser, ne pas avoir suivi.

Cette situation inextricable est à l'origine, pour moi, de 27 ans de violences, ponctués, de juin 2000 à janvier 2008, de TS, d'une situation de précarité dangereuse. Je vis de l'AAH depuis des années, la demande ayant été remplie par une psychiatre. Lors de son dernier renouvellement, j'ai fourni les mêmes documents que lors des renouvellements précédents, et il m'a été demandé un certificat initial que je n'ai pas à produire. J'ai demandé en recommandé le fondement légal de cette demande, alors que le certificat normal est le cerfa 13878*01 que j'ai fourni. Je n'ai pas eu de réponse, mais pas de validation non plus. Je suis en attente de réponse à la CAF qui me verse l'allocation. J'ai 57 ans, me demander aujourd'hui un certificat médical que je devrais envoyer avec ma signature m'expose au risque qu'un autre soit produit, me prétendant paranoïaque, ce qui est la solution tentée pour enterrer ce harcèlement gênant. Ce fut obtenu, dans le cadre des plaintes déposées contre moi dont je pense que ce fut un des buts, à partir d'un entretien de 10 minutes qui me fut imposé avec un expert, alors que je n'étais pas mise en examen, mais présente dans les locaux de la PJ pour la deuxième plainte, le 8 juin 2015. La demande a été faite sur la base d'un faux en écriture m'imputant la mise en ligne, sous le pseudo Arsène Youpin, d'une vidéo que je n'avais fait que commenter, en pointant que les faits qu'elle énonçait appelaient vérification. Je n'ai pas eu communication du rapport avant le classement pour prétendue irresponsabilité sans mise en examen.

Pour la deuxième année, un décompte de charges aberrant m'a été présenté, me demandant 2756,57 euros cette année pour 2182 l'an passé. J'ai obtenu régularisation, mais je suis régulièrement confrontée à ce genre d'abus qui est allé, l'an passé, jusqu'à sommation de payer ce que je ne devais pas, par huissier, après absence de réponse à mes demandes de régularisation.

Au delà de moi, ce harcèlement porte à Bill Gates, quoi qu'il ait fait, un préjudice évident. Je lui demande régulièrement de me contacter, sans qu'il me réponde, mais le contact indirect se maintient, comme s'il était complètement ligoté, ce que j'ai écrit dans les différents mails déjà envoyés, avec des avocats de Microsoft en destinataires, comme lui, sans qu'il y oppose rien. S'il veut effectivement redistribuer sa fortune, ce que mes tests confirment, et qu'il en est empêché, le monde entier en pâtit.

Une solution est nécessaire, et mes plaintes, à part celle contre ma sœur, sont, par principe, classées sans examen, que je me sois constituée partie civile, ou pas. Le référé liberté que j'ai déposé le 19 janvier dernier devait aboutir, il me semble. Je les mis avec d'autres pièces, comme indiqué plus haut ici :

Souhaitant que vous puissiez trouver une solution ou m'adresser à une personne susceptible de m'aider, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Secrétaire Général, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Le contact indirect, qui n'est pas sans rappeler les stratégies ericksoniennes enseignées par deux psychiatres qui sont intervenus de façon non déontologique, les docteurs Malarewicz et d'Assignies, semble être une conséquence de la relation qu'avaient Bill Gates et ma sœur, et qui était difficile à m'annoncer, impliquait le docteur Kipman, à l'origine de celle-ci, par la faute professionnelle qu'il s'est permis de commettre. Il a commencé dès le lendemain de cet échange téléphonique pendant lequel j'ai demandé à Monsieur Lacombe un travail à faire à domicile, en lui expliquant que la fatigue qui m'empêchait de reprendre un emploi était consécutive à des violences subies dans mon enfance. J'ai été étonnée de son rappel si rapide, alors que je l'avais laissé sans nouvelles depuis mars 1991. Il était alors CEO de Microsoft EMEA, ce qu'il sera jusqu'à son décès, le 21 janvier 2003. C'est à la suite de ce décès qu'il a été décidé de demander la mise en place d'une mesure de protection me concernant, sans que j'en sois informée.

J'ai su sa mort en appelant Microsoft, étonnée du changement survenu dans le langage des signes employés pour me faire comprendre que j'étais lue en direct sur mon ordinateur. Je m'y étais familiarisée, tout en écrivant régulièrement que je ne les supportais pas plus que je ne supportais les différentes façons d'utiliser la sphère publique dans le même but. Ce que j'ai fini par appeler la double énonciation, et qui a commencé alors que je racontais volontiers, notamment au téléphone, que j'appréciais la façon dont ma prof de pilates donnait deux fois les consignes, en est un exemple. Je me suis mise à recevoir deux fois les mêmes courriers, les mêmes mails, les mêmes remboursements -c'est arrivé-, à entendre deux fois les stations de métro ou de bus annoncées.

La violence que me fait ce mode m'a menée, bien que loin d'avoir des tendances suicidaires, à multiplier les TS entre juin 2000 et janvier 2008. Les mots que j'employais pour demander que ça cesse étaient à la hauteur de la violence ressentie. Je m'en suis sentie très coupable quand j'ai appris le décès de Michel Lacombe, alors que le changement observé était tel que je pensais qu'il avait une explication, la cherchait. Si je l'ai eue, et de façon brutale, je n'en ai pas eu au fait que le contact se maintenait comme il le fait depuis. J'ai envoyé un mail à Bernard Vergnes qui m'a appelée fin février et en mars 2003. Lors du deuxième appel, il m'a demandé, après Madame Lacombe, de ne pas rappeler les parents de Michel, ce que j'avais fait depuis mon besoin de savoir ce qui s'était passé et de trouver moyen de m'excuser si, par la violence exprimée, j'avais pu causer involontairement du tort. J'avais alors eu un échange très ouvert avec Monsieur Lacombe père, soulagé de parler, et l'interdiction formulée m'a étonnée.

Aujourd'hui, tout indique que Michel Lacombe a été tué, et que la curatelle a été conçue pour en accuser Bill Gates en mon nom sans que j'en sois informée. Il semble qu'il a été condamné, et que ce serait la raison pour laquelle il a quitté Microsoft. De ce que j'ai compris, suite à l'échange téléphonique du 28 octobre 1997, les deux hommes auraient partagé un attrait vers moi, en se trouvant dans une situation insoluble, du fait de la relation qu'ils avaient tous deux à ma sœur. Le propos, à l'origine du contact indirect peut avoir été de m'inciter à écrire, à tenter de publier, comme je l'ai cru sans le comprendre, parce que ça me troublait trop. Quoi qu'il en soit, malgré les demandes laissées à son assistante début 1998, puis plus tard, dans les fichiers ordinateur dont je savais qu'il les lisait, Michel Lacombe ne m'a jamais rappelée, mais le 2 décembre 2002, sa femme m'a écrit de sa part, m'informant de ce qu'il avait des problèmes de santé.

Depuis plus d'un an maintenant, je demande annulation rétroactive de la curatelle dont la réalité n'a cessé de m'être confirmée par les accusés de réception de mails dans lesquels je la nommais et la qualifiais d'abusives dès le titre, sans rien obtenir. Je n'ai cependant pas d'explication à des faits tels que le changement de mon ascendance. Deux plaintes ont été déposées contre moi, que j'ai perçues conçues pour bloquer mes propres plaintes, et dans la deuxième, le nom de mon père est supprimé, seul son prénom paraissant, ce qui a été maintenu dans différents documents du TGI de Mulhouse et de la Cour d'Appel de Colmar, en dépit de ma demande de le voir figurer, et d'obtenir communication du document sur lequel cette présentation figure, document jamais obtenu. Ma mère est présentée par son premier prénom inscrit à l'état civil, et jamais porté, Thérèse, ainsi que son nom de jeune fille, Rey, plus porté depuis son mariage en 1949. Elle est identifiée partout, y compris sur google, comme Jacqueline Guihaumé.

Par ailleurs, j'ai déposé deux plaintes qui se sont vu opposer une ordonnance de refus d'informer, avec sur les deux mentions de communication de l'ordonnance le jour de l'audience, et par recommandé accusé réception. Sur l'une figure la mention d'un avocat belge, censé me représenter, sur l'autre, juste « avis de la présente ordonnance, conforme aux réquisitions de M. le procureur de la République lui est donné le 15 mai 2017 », ce qui suppose que quelqu'un était là. Je pense que ma sœur me représente dans mon dos, l'a fait dans le cadre des deux plaintes déposées contre moi, et dans celles que j'ai, moi, déposées.

Je l'ai appelée aujourd'hui, et alors qu'elle reçoit, comme son mari, son fils et sa belle-fille, les quatre étant avocats, des courriels que vous avez également reçus dans lesquels figurent les faits que j'ai décrits dans celui-ci, elle me prétend se désintéresser de ce que je fais, ne rien connaître en informatique, et envoyer les AR en se trompant, indiquant qu'elle a lu alors que ce n'est pas le cas, ne rien savoir de ce que j'écris, ce qui n'est pas plausible. Confrontée au fait que la plainte que j'ai déposée contre elle pour faux et usage de faux, le 7 novembre 2016 est toujours en cours, elle maintient s'en désintéresser, ne pas avoir suivi.

Cette situation inextricable est à l'origine, pour moi, de 27 ans de violences, ponctués, de juin 2000 à janvier 2008, de TS, d'une situation de précarité dangereuse. Je vis de l'AAH depuis des années, la demande ayant été remplie par une psychiatre. Lors de son dernier renouvellement, j'ai fourni les mêmes documents que lors des renouvellements précédents, et il m'a été demandé un certificat initial que je n'ai pas à produire. J'ai demandé en recommandé le fondement légal de cette demande, alors que le certificat normal est le cerfa 13878*01 que j'ai fourni. Je n'ai pas eu de réponse, mais pas de validation non plus. Je suis en attente de réponse à la CAF qui me verse l'allocation. J'ai 57 ans, me demander aujourd'hui un certificat médical que je devrais envoyer avec ma signature m'expose au risque qu'un autre soit produit, me prétendant paranoïaque, ce qui est la solution tentée pour enterrer ce harcèlement gênant. Ce fut obtenu, dans le cadre des plaintes déposées contre moi dont je pense que ce fut un des buts, à partir d'un entretien de 10 minutes qui me fut imposé avec un expert, alors que je n'étais pas mise en examen, mais présente dans les locaux de la PJ pour la deuxième plainte, le 8 juin 2015. La demande a été faite sur la base d'un faux en écriture m'imputant la mise en ligne, sous le pseudo Arsène Youpin, d'une vidéo que je n'avais fait que commenter, en pointant que les faits qu'elle énonçait appelaient vérification. Je n'ai pas eu communication du rapport avant le classement pour prétendue irresponsabilité sans mise en examen.

Pour la deuxième année, un décompte de charges aberrant m'a été présenté, me demandant 2756,57 euros cette année pour 2182 l'an passé. J'ai obtenu régularisation, mais je suis régulièrement confrontée à ce genre d'abus qui est allé, l'an passé, jusqu'à sommation de payer ce que je ne devais pas, par huissier, après absence de réponse à mes demandes de régularisation.

Au delà de moi, ce harcèlement porte à Bill Gates, quoi qu'il ait fait, un préjudice évident. Je lui demande régulièrement de me contacter, sans qu'il me réponde, mais le contact indirect se maintient, comme s'il était complètement ligoté, ce que j'ai écrit dans les différents mails déjà envoyés, avec des avocats de Microsoft en destinataires, comme lui, sans qu'il y oppose rien. S'il veut effectivement redistribuer sa fortune, ce que mes tests confirment, et qu'il en est empêché, le monde entier en pâtit.

Une solution est nécessaire, et mes plaintes, à part celle contre ma sœur, sont, par principe, classées sans examen, que je me sois constituée partie civile, ou pas. Le référé liberté que j'ai déposé le 19 janvier dernier devait aboutir, il me semble. Je les mis avec d'autres pièces, comme indiqué plus haut ici :

https://1drv.ms/f/s!AoJNLxipjCErpXLZ0E_S9YySHLjl

Souhaitant que vous puissiez trouver une solution ou m'adresser à une personne susceptible de m'aider, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Secrétaire Général, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Hi,

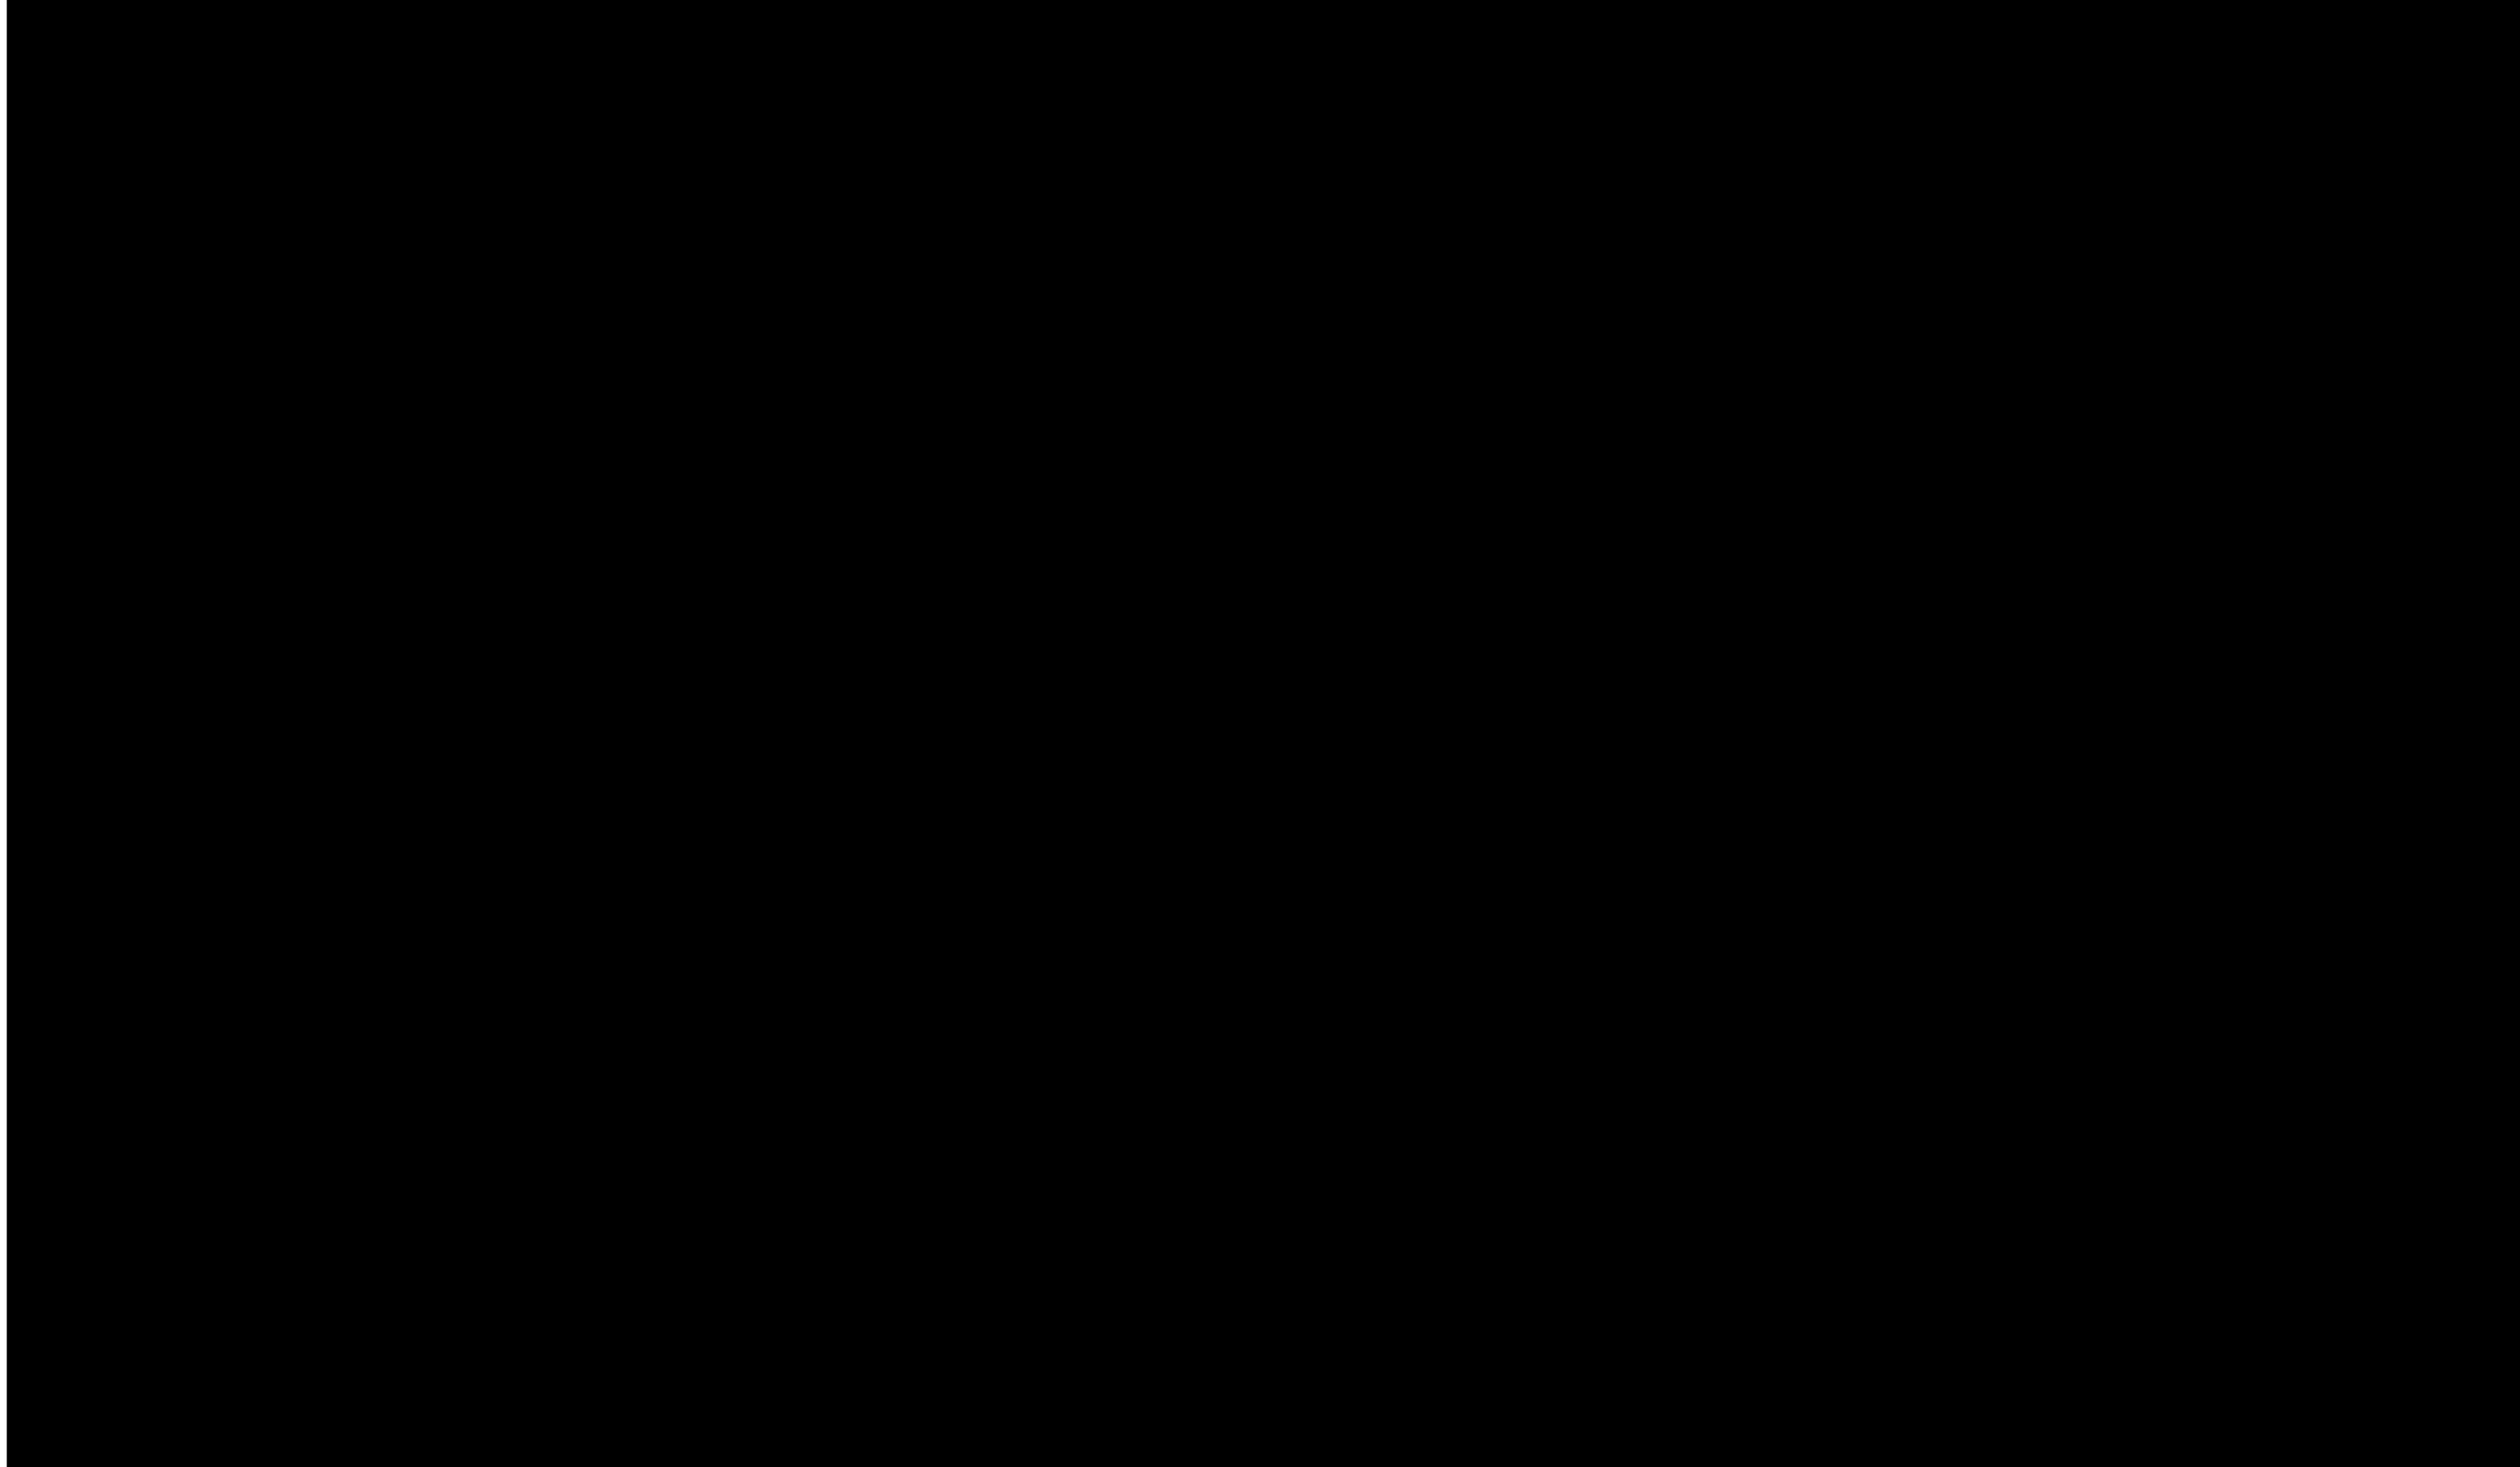

Once again, I am warned of the decision to crash both 777, what is definitely unacceptable. This situation needs to be collectively faced. To date, it is tried to obtain a certificate pretending I would suffer paranoia, while the sole goal is to avoid the responsibility for the harassment I denounce. Such a behaviour cannot be isolated, neither considered as a singular one, but as a demonstration. Thanks to share widely, react and oppose firmly. No other solution exists.

With hope,

Mister Prime Minister,

I cannot do a single action without being observed. And I act to obtain the respect of my human rights, no more. Nevertheless, my emails are blocked and I receive receipts from former ones I sent to ask for protection against abuses planned, using the police. Many things indicate that you use blackmails and threats again, such as to crash planes, though you know people are more and more aware of this habit you have. I already sent you a gif I found on the internet which exposes reasons why some people face again and again the consequences they provoke by their repeated aggressions. Other ones have to defend themselves and this led in the past to dramas. I join it to you once more.

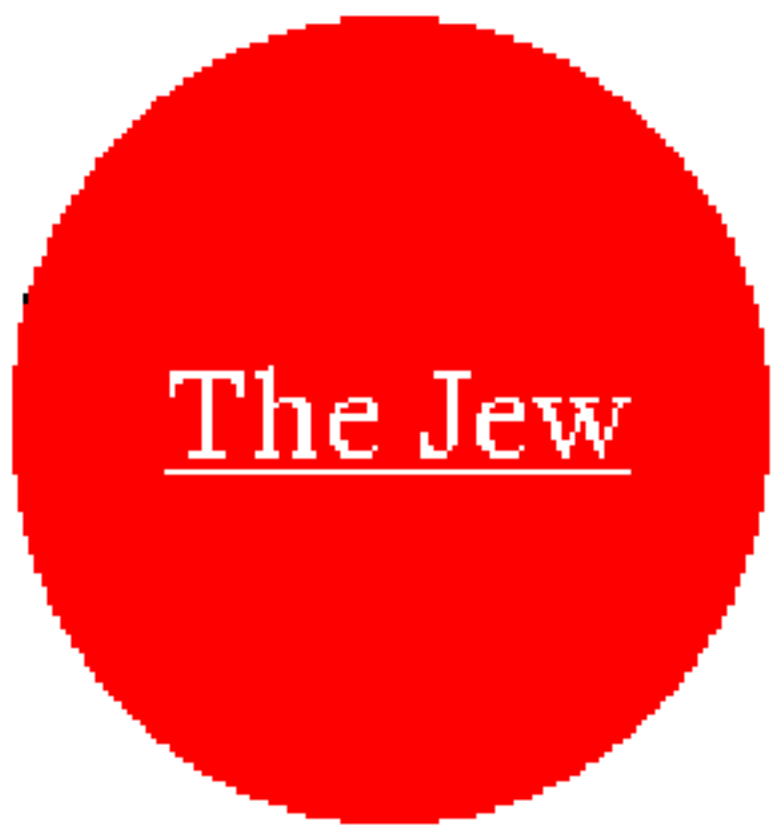

When the harassment I face began, no one imagined that 26 years later, it will still be a problem. It is, and as already written, reasons exist, for this, presented in the gif.

I wait to hear Bill Gates, as my certainty is that you acted with a terrific perversity against him and fear it to be known, now, reason why it is tried to obtain that I see a psychiatrist who would write a certificate pretending I suffer of paranoia, what would be one more violence against him and I. Would this lie be realized, you managed to prevent him from speaking. I wonder how you can behave in such a violent and illegal way and then pretend other ones defame the way you do. I heard of no other case so perverse during so many years. It is time for you to stop know, and observe what you did. This is the sole mean to face life as a man. Sorry.

I am communicated that you plan once more to crash both the MH370 and the 777 GA Telesis, full of nuclear warheads, what would only worsen your situation, as it is now widely known. What happened repeatedly in the past shall happen until you shall admit that the myth of God's chosen ones is a myth which endangers you as well as your victims. You have to stop, now!

Regard,

Objet : Re: Demande de protection contre un passage PJ

Monsieur le Premier Ministre,

J'ai, je crois, jusqu'à mercredi pour déposer au greffe de la chambre de l'instruction mon mémoire de pourvoi. Je vous en communique le début :

"FAITS ET PROCEDURE

La requérante conteste la légalité d'un arrêt qui a pris acte du désistement de son appel provoqué par le refus opposé à ses demandes de délai et de communication du dossier complet, en violation de l'article préliminaire du code de procédure pénale et de l'article 6 de la CEDH, notamment.

Cet acte était la seule façon de se protéger d'une décision en sa défaveur qui, niant sa position de victime, aurait confirmé ou renforcé une ordonnance de refus d'informer sur laquelle, alors qu'elle se défend seule, figure la mention d'un avocat la représentant, Maître Guy Uerlings, et qui associe sa plainte à une prétendue grande souffrance psychologique, avant d'énoncer que l'institution judiciaire ne serait pas le bon interlocuteur. En clair, met en cause la réalité des faits qu'elle dénonce et qui sont graves, impliquent l'Etat, dont elle est, si les faits sont avérés, victime, en même temps que Bill Gates, ce qui a de quoi étonner, d'autant que des mails sont communiqués, dont il est destinataire, en copie, s'échelonnant du 1^{er} août 2013 au 5 juillet 2016, ainsi qu'un AR de lecture par Angela Merkel du mail du 5 juillet, qui lui est adressé, intitulé "Thanks to organize the hearing of Bill Gates" et vient après un précédent envoyé la veille à Jean-Claude Juncker, intitulé "Monsieur Juncker, me tuer, tuer Bill Gates ne peut qu'aggraver votre cas". Le dossier communiqué comporte également un AR de lecture de Monsieur Urvoas.

La mention d'un avocat représentant une partie civile, alors qu'elle se défend seule, pourrait s'entendre comme erreur matérielle si ledit avocat n'était pas belge et n'affirmait pas n'avoir jamais plaidé à Paris. Ces deux faits excluent l'erreur matérielle, d'autant que ce n'est qu'une fois que la requérante a eu enregistré son appel, le 25 juillet 2016, à 11h36 que l'avocat a répondu, à 11h51, à son mail du 23 juillet à 12h05, également adressé à la magistrate qui a pris l'ordonnance de refus d'informer, invoquant une usurpation d'identité, ce qui, pour un homme de loi, est grave, et aurait justifié une réaction plus prompte. L'ordonnance lui ayant été communiquée, il pouvait immédiatement répondre, à la juge et à la requérante, ce qu'il s'est gardé de faire.

Par ailleurs, une demande d'information au Bureau d'Ordre Pénal, sur une plainte envoyée en recommandé le 3 août 2016, a permis à la requérante de découvrir que celle-ci, pour laquelle aucune consignation ne lui a été demandé, ce qui l'étonnait, a été jointe à la plainte du 22 décembre 2015 à l'origine de l'arrêt du 13 mars 2017, alors que c'est par l'ordonnance du 21 juillet qu'elle a compris l'implication d'un ancien dirigeant de Microsoft Corp, qui dirigeait Microsoft France quand elle y a travaillé, en 1989. Celui-ci vit depuis des années en Belgique, et le lien avec l'avocat belge mentionné sur l'ordonnance est apparu évident, d'autant qu'elle a eu plusieurs contacts téléphoniques avec ce dirigeant, Bernard Vergnes, entre février 2003 et juin 2010. La seule lecture des deux plaintes permet de voir que, le pensant victime, elle a découvert, par la mention dudit avocat, qu'il ne pouvait qu'être impliqué dans les faits dont elle se dit victime. La jonction de ces deux plaintes expose de façon indéniable une violation des principes d'indépendance et d'impartialité de la justice, impliquant dans la procédure d'autres personnes que la chambre de l'instruction, et venant confirmer la gravité de la mention de l'avocat dénoncée. Cette autre plainte était évoquée dans le courrier par lequel la requérante a demandé un délai.

Dès lors, la communication du dossier était essentielle, et le seul respect du secret de l'instruction, à l'origine de la non communication du dossier fréquemment observée n'était pas valide. Il n'est pas concevable qu'il ait contenu quelque élément dont la divulgation aurait pu porter tort à quelqu'un d'autre qu'à elle-même. Elle a cependant été refusée, comme a été refusé le délai demandé. Ces faits se situant dans un dossier que la requérante dit connu et impliquant une personne aussi célèbre que Bill Gates, il convient de les préciser, et de revenir sur le courrier du 29 décembre 2016 par lequel elle a demandé un délai, et sur le refus qui lui a été opposé, ainsi que sur la demande de communication du dossier qu'elle a déposée au greffe à l'attention de la présidente, le 28 février 2017, après avoir essuyé plusieurs refus. Ces éléments ne figurent pas dans le rappel de la procédure de l'arrêt du 13 mars qui n'apporte aucun autre élément que le désistement dont il est pris acte."

et vous demande, une nouvelle fois, de veiller à ce que la PJ ne me soit pas envoyée comme le projet en existe, si je me fie aux signes adressés dans mon appartement, et qui sont compréhensibles, cette démarche étant plus dérangeante que les précédentes.

Avec espoir, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Premier Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Le 15/04/2017 à 03:17, [REDACTED] a écrit :

Monsieur le Premier Ministre,

Alors que vous étiez ministre de l'intérieur, j'ai eu à subir des descentes PJ qui sont à l'origine des nombreux mails de demande de protection envoyés depuis. Ma situation était connue avant le mandat de François Hollande. Que je n'en ai pas eu une conscience précise ne change rien. Elle n'a cessé d'empirer depuis 2012 m'exposant à fatigue nerveuse importante.

L'enjeu pour le président en fin de mandat est d'enterrer mon dossier et d'intervenir dans la campagne, de sorte que son successeur me maintienne la tête sous l'eau, sans aucune possibilité de sortir de la situation délirante que je subis.

Monsieur Urvoas, qui accusait réception de mes demandes de protection, m'a demandé de ne plus utiliser son adresse mail. Je pense qu'il a exécuté des ordres donnés dans le but de me confronter à nouvelle descente, avec aussi bien nouvelle tentative d'ouvrir ma porte, comme ce fut fait le 30 juin 2015 et le 19 février dernier.

Je vous demande donc à vous de me protéger de tout nouvel abus qui serait transparent aux yeux de tous. La jonction d'une plainte contre Bernard Vergnes provoquée par la mention sur l'ordonnance de refus d'informer du 21 juillet 2016 de ce que j'aurais été représentée par Maître Guy Uerlings, avocat belge, dont la nationalité exclut l'erreur matérielle, et indique son intervention, à la plainte qui l'a déclenchée, et qui en est, elle, au stade du pourvoi, là où aucune consignation ne m'a été demandée pour celle contre Bernard Vergnes donne la mesure des violences auxquelles je suis exposée.

Je n'ai pas d'autre choix que de faire cette nouvelle demande de protection et de la communiquer très largement.

Souhaitant que vous preniez en compte ce mail et veillez à ce que la PJ reste dans le cadre des missions qui lui sont confiées, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Premier Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux, Subject: Nouvelle alerte MH370 et 777 GA Telesis - risque de crash TR: Resign, Satya, once more!

Date: Fri, 17 Mar 2017 02:20:35 +0100

Importance: High

Monsieur le Ministre,

La curatelle semble levée, et les risques de false flags avec le MH370 et le deuxième 777 propriété GA Telesis, parqué à Tel Aviv, à nouveau présents. J'imagine que vous le savez, mais vais une nouvelle fois envoyer des mails d'alerte, ainsi que ça m'est demandé, probablement suivis d'une nouvelle demande de protection. Vous savez que ça ne m'amuse pas. Le plus vite cette situation sera résolue, le plus heureuse je serai. Il semble que nous soyons dans les derniers temps, et la violence pourrait suivre un crescendo, une tentative de passage en force. Il me semble impératif de mobiliser toutes les institutions concernées pour s'y opposer.

Je ne peux que constater, une nouvelle fois, que les boîtes mail bloquent. Je ne peux envoyer au Conseil d'Etat et aux adresses @juradm qui ne reçoivent que de one.com, mon autre boîte, tandis qu'elles ne reçoivent pas d'arsys.

Dans l'espoir de voir cette situation solutionnée sans délai, je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Satya,

You are responsible for many violences done to me, and if sued, you can be sure to be condemned. Bill Gates won today, you surely know it already. I accept what he can ask me concerning you. I ask you once more to resign immediately, and let him run again the company he cofounded.

Bonsoir,

Je viens d'écrire une nouvelle lettre à Bill Gates [<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/2017/03/11/lettre-a-bill-gates-44/>], lui demandant de publier sur son blog un historique complet de ce qu'il subit depuis le 12 juin 1990, en suivant, comme j'en ai l'habitude, les signes communiqués de différentes façons, dont les horloges hotmail et de mon ordinateur. Il semble qu'un nouveau crash soit planifié avec le MH370 et le deuxième 777, parqué à Tel Aviv, propriété GA-Telesis [<https://www.planespotters.net/airframe/Boeing/777/28416/N105GT-GA-Telesis>].

Merci de communiquer largement, seule façon de s'opposer. Par ailleurs, je rappelle que je demande son audition depuis octobre 2015 et qu'il n'a cessé de manifester la souhaiter.

Avec espoir,

Mister President,

It seems that a crash is planned using the MH370 and the other 777 parked in Tel Aviv, property GA Telesis. I wrote it on the note I join you. Bill Gates can give you all the necessary information, but the priority in my opinion is to take it out of Diego Garcia where it is since March, 8, 2015. I cannot tell you more, except that it is an urgency.

With hope, I beg you to believe, Mister President, in my respectful thoughts,

Cher Bill,

Apparemment, tu vas présenter sur ton blog ta réalité depuis le 12 juin 1990. Je trouve que c'est très largement la meilleure, voire la seule solution. Je te l'ai demandé hier dans ce mail : UNE PRESENTATION SUR TON BLOG -10032017- mail à Bill Gates, cc Raymund Paredes, Jerry Leaphart, Judy Wood (<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/UNE-PRESENTATION-SUR-TON-BLOG-10032017-mail-à-Bill-Gates-cc-Raymund-Paredes-Jerry-Leaphart-Judy-Wood.pdf>)

Quand je me relis, j'ai du mal. La confrontation à des signes constants, et seulement des signes, a un impact sur tout. Dénature l'écriture qui devient transcription questionnant la compréhension, comporte des répétitions, fatigue, ce qui implique des fautes et d'orthographe et de syntaxe. Tout ça est épuisant, et très dérangeant. Cette situation est dangereuse pour le monde entier. Quantité de personnes sont informées, personne ne bouge. Je me sens très manipulée, comme si on attendait que, contrainte, je pose des actes qui annulent ce que j'ai enduré. J'ai pensé qu'on voulait que je prenne contact avec mes aînés, ce que les appels reçus du numéro de maman, avec le silence à l'autre bout donnent à penser. C'était en 2015, je lui en ai parlé, et ce n'est très évidemment pas elle. Seule ma soeur Chantal pouvait agir, et elle l'a fait plus d'une fois, y compris en pleine nuit, allant jusqu'à enregistrer son silence sur mon répondeur.

Je me refuse à reprendre contact. Je le faisais avant le 4 décembre dernier, j'étais une nouvelle fois utilisée. Je ne peux pas croire qu'ils m'auraient parlé honnêtement avec ces AR, envoyés après que j'ai porté plainte contre Brigitte Lacombe, ce qui va à l'encontre de la condamnation prononcée contre toi, suite à plainte déposée en mon nom :

Ces AR me donnent des nausées. Le seul sens qu'ils peuvent avoir est que, conscients de ce que tu n'es pas coupable, ils se manifestaient dans le but de me faire retirer ma plainte, et donc de prétendre que la condamnation que tu subis aurait été justifiée. C'est monstrueux, inscrit, tant par rapport à moi que par rapport à toi, une violence partagée, considérée comme légitime, là où son seul propos est de les couvrir, de couvrir Françoise, Brigitte, Kipman, Vergnes, Lagarde, Malarewicz, d'Assignies, Bravard, pour ne citer que les principaux.

Par rapport à toi, c’est incroyable. Ma famille est une famille ordinaire par sa situation sociale, extra-ordinaire par sa pathologie, et son refus de la traiter. Tu es, par rapport à nous, d’un rang très différent, et quelles que soient les erreurs que tu as commises, comme nous en commettons tous, tu as apporté au monde ce qu’aucun de nous n’a apporté. Ca ne veut pas dire que tu as plus de valeur, mais le moindre des respects est de reconnaître la réalité. Qu’un de mes aînés, voire les 4, soient condamnés aurait largement moins de conséquences que le fait que tu le sois, toi. Ils se refusent, manifestement à voir cette réalité, ce qui me donne à penser qu’ils doivent, entre eux, se parler de toi comme si tu étais coupable, que ce doit être leur version de ce qui s’est passé. Je me demande évidemment ce qui pourrait expliquer ça, et pense aux sentiments et engagements que tu as pu formuler à Brigitte entre juin 1990 et octobre 1997, et dont le changement radical le 28 octobre 1997 a pu être perçu comme inconcevable. Lui as-tu écrit des courriers enflammés, a-tu maintenu que seule l’impossibilité qu’elle t’opposait était cause de la non concrétisation de votre liaison que tu attendais de tes vœux ? C’est possible. N’importe quel humain qui a été confronté à un désir exacerbé par une attente sur laquelle il n’a aucune prise sait que ça le renforce. Il y a une attente, une pensée obsédante organisée autour de la recherche de compréhension et de solution. Tu étais face à un insensé « Je ne peux pas t’épouser tant que ma soeur n’est pas informée, et je ne peux pas l’informer ». Ah bon, et qui dit ça, et qu’est-ce qui lui donne légitimité à le dire ? La tromperie est massive, leur incombe à eux quatre. Un seul me parlait, tu pouvais l’épouser, quoi que j’aie pu percevoir, ressentir, exprimer. J’aurais certainement été en colère, je me serais sentie trahie, mais je n’avais vers toi aucun sentiment. J’attendais Michel. Entre 1990 et 1992, je suis convaincue qu’informée, j’aurais cuvé ma colère, mais elle serait passée. Tu en as toutes les preuves actuellement. Cette situation m’est très douloureuse, quand je n’en peux plus, je t’envoie un mail brutal, puis reviens quand je me suis apaisée sans considérer la colère passée comme la vérité, mais comme l’expression de ce que je suis confrontée à bien trop difficile.

Tu as fait, il me semble, ce que tu pouvais faire, et moi, en France et en Europe, j’ai multiplié les démarches depuis le 19 avril 2010. Je n’ai eu droit qu’à des doigts d’honneur, et je crains que l’audience de lundi soit utilisée pour prétendre que mes plaintes seraient pathologiques, et les annuler dans leur principe. J’ai payé la consignation de ma plainte contre Kipman et Brigitte Lacombe le 30 septembre dernier, elle est toujours en cours d’examen. Le risque est donc là, et tu es concerné, ce qui rend nécessaire une action. Je n’en vois pas de meilleure qu’une présentation exhaustive, sur ton blog, de tout l’historique, avec tous les documents, donc la curatelle, l’acte d’accusation, mes plaintes précisant bien que je ne vois plus aucun de mes aînés depuis l’été 1997. J’ai eu depuis un ou deux échanges téléphoniques avec Jean, pas plus, et les échanges liés à maman entre octobre 2011 et novembre 2012, le jugement d’appel. C’est tout, et ces échanges de 2011-2012 ont uniquement porté sur maman. J’ai cependant pu voir le dossier à la Cour d’Appel, puisque la juge Camborde m’en a refusé consultation avant, et j’ai pu lire sur le PV d’audition du 20 avril 2012 que Brigitte avait prétendu que je n’aurais jamais travaillé de ma vie, sans que Françoise et Chantal s’y opposent, ce qui ne répondait à aucune nécessité, venait comme un cheveu sur la soupe. J’ai pensé que ça se référait à un faux témoignage fait pour la CEDH qui a classé ma requête le 14 février 2012, ce qui signifie qu’elles ont délibérément agi pour me maintenir en situation de harcèlement et de précarité, conscientes de ce que j’étais en danger, danger dans lequel elles m’ont mise depuis 1990.

Ces seuls faits prouvent le mensonge délibéré qu’ils font s’ils te prétendent coupable. Prétendre faussement que je n’aurais jamais travaillé n’a d’intérêt que pour justifier ce qui t’a été dit de moi en juin 1990, et faire classer ma requête. A-t-on besoin d’un mensonge, si on a dit la vérité ? En aucun cas. Donc ils savent que leur relation à toi est fondée depuis l’origine sur une fraude, une manipulation, qu’ils ont en quelque sorte capitalisé sur la bonne aubaine que tu représentais et ne supportent pas que tu leur aies échappé. 2012, c’était 9 ans après la curatelle. Ils avaient eu le temps d’amortir ce dont ils peuvent prétendre que ça leur a été imposé dans un contexte de crise, en 2003.

Tout semble reposer sur la certitude de contrôler et d’imposer leur narration comme la réalité. Evidemment ils ne s’y emploient pas seuls, évidemment Kipman et consorts les utilisent. Il sont allés, apparemment, jusqu’à imposer à leurs enfants la participation aux orgies, que cette participation ait été imposée par séduction ou par violence. Elle démontre que tu n’existes dans ce contexte que par ta fortune, et ce que tu représentes. Bientôt on te prétendra responsable des crimes de masse en affirmant que si tu avais épousé Brigitte, ils n’auraient pas eu lieu. Comme moyen de sceller une union, le crime de masse annoncé par email. La pathologie, proche de la folie furieuse est là. Sa démesure signe pour n’importe quelle personne sensée, il me semble, qu’elle est dans un réseau d’une dangerosité telle que la priorité est d’en protéger le monde, et donc en aucun cas d’officialiser ce qui semble ne plus exister depuis le 28 octobre 1997. Prétendre que tu lui devrais quoi que ce soit en 2017 parce que tu le lui aurais promis avant octobre 1997, dans un contexte de fraude, est ahurissant.

C’est cette histoire, il me semble que tu dois communiquer sur ton blog avec tout ce que tu as qui la documente. Mes fichiers personnels sont très mal organisés. Je te donne carte blanche pour les utiliser de la façon qui te convient. Ils confirment que je dénonce en vain depuis 2010 ce que j’énonce plus précisément à mesure que ma compréhension s’élargit, et que je désigne sous le mot harcèlement. Tu as mon acte de naissance signé par mon père, Roger Guihaumé, ce que la curatelle a annulé :

Acte de naissance signé Roger Guihaumé, et deux lettres de lui \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Acte-de-naissance-signé-Roger-Guihaumé-et-deux-lettres-de-lui.pdf\)

Tu as, j’imagine, la preuve de l’intervention de Brigitte auprès de Monsieur Cariet en 1992 pour qu’il m’incite à chercher plus activement du travail, après mon licenciement, et le suicide altruiste commis en résultat :

Actes de décès Monsieur Announ, Madame et Monsieur Cariet, mon acte de naissance, courrier mention mort pour la France \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/02/Actes-de-décès-Monsieur-Announ-Madame-et-Monsieur-Cariet-mon-acte-de-naissance-courrier-mention-mort-pour-la-France.pdf\)

ce qui explique ma place dans cette famille, permet de comprendre l’intervention d’Antoine et tu as ces notes

Lettre antoine et cahier dessus mai-juin 2004 \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Lettre-antoine-et-cahier-dessus-mai-juin-2004-1.pdf\)

L’aspect pathologique de ma famille, et l’utilisation qui en a été faite par les psychiatres doivent être dénoncés. Ils se sont appuyés dessus en parfaite connaissance de cause. Je ne vois pas comment un psychiatre peut considérer justifié d’échanger avec l’oncle d’une de ses patientes puis de l’informer du désir de contact avec elle qu’a un homme de pouvoir. On ne fait pas pire violation de la déontologie. Les deux se sont opposés à ce que tu me rencontres, et l’origine est là, après que Vergnes s’est cru autorisé à prendre des renseignements sur moi et contacter mon analyste.

J’ai cru comprendre que Kipman a contacté très vite Malarewicz, à qui j’ai été adressée en 1996 par Martine Nisse. Il s’en est étonné parce qu’il est non conventionné, et je n’avais pas les moyens de le rémunérer. Ca signe qu’elle le savait impliqué. De ce que je comprends, lui et Kipman, d’Assignies et Bravard partouzaient avec vous, et il a jugé bon de m’adresser en consultation à ces deux derniers psychiatres, alors qu’ils connaissaient mon père, mes deux oncles, mes quatre aînés par leur participation commune à ces orgies. Je peine encore à l’écrire tant j’ai de mal à le croire. Le propos devait être de contrôler au maximum, que je ne trouve pas d’aide auprès de quelqu’un qui aurait pu s’opposer à ce que je subissais, s’il en était informé.

Organiser tout ça dans un texte me pose problème, vue la façon dont ça m'est communiqué, mais tu dois pouvoir le faire, avec l'aide des professionnels les mieux placés pour le faire. Aborder ma première TS en juin 2000, les repréailles par l'incident du Concorde 4590, auquel a répondu le 9/11 : Joe Vialls France, Russia, Germany responsible for 911 (<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/08/Joe-Vialls-France-Russia-Germany-responsible-for-911.pdf>) me semble nécessaire, et là, tu peux demander au dr Judy Wood, communiquer ses interventions.

L'impact ne peut qu'être énorme si c'est sur ton blog, avec le maximum de traductions possibles. Cet impact est nécessaire, vus les enjeux. Par exemple, même si ça peut choquer, je trouverais important de nommer les partouzeurs, et de présenter la façon dont cette pratique se répand, qui l'introduit dans les structures où elle est pratiquée, quel est son statut. Certains postes restent-ils hors d'atteinte de ceux qui se refusent à participer ? En France, j'ai l'impression que le propos d'imposer un partouzeur comme président ou premier ministre est maintenu par la présence de Baroin. On a évité Juppé, Hollande et Sarkozy, Baroin a joué double jeu le plus longtemps possible, manifestement désireux de faire plan B, si c'était possible. Maintenant, son but est d'être premier ministre, lui qui était prévu pour l'être si Sarkozy était élu. En ce cas, on avait un tandem de la même mouvance. La logique voudrait donc que Bruno Retailleau soit premier ministre, étant aussi fillonniste que Baroin est sarkozyste. Quant à Macron et Hamon, ils partouzent aussi. On ne peut pas passer ça sous silence quand on voit la place que ça prend, et la façon dont ça permet de contrôler des pays entiers depuis l'extérieur. Hollande aurait-il validé le crash Germanwings sans les partouzes ? Je ne le sais pas. Tu as, toi, les moyens de le savoir. Il n'a eu le soutien -voire la fraude- nécessaire pour être élu que du fait de l'engagement qu'il a pris par cette séquence du 1^o février 2012, ce qui signe les modalités d'accès à la magistrature suprême :

(<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/07/flour-event-1.jpg>)

Présentée sur ton blog, cette réalité peut se voir mis un coup d'arrêt. Ca semble insensé quand tu l'énonces. Je t'ai tout de même envoyé 112 fois ce mail (<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Les-queues-de-Juppé-Sarkozy-Hollande-et-consorts-en-gros-plan-au-Troca-03032017-mail-à-Bill-Gates-cc-Jerry-Leaphart-adresses-récurrentes-commission-européenne-1.pdf>) que je trouve ahurissant :

Les queues de Juppé, Sarkozy, Hollande et consorts en gros plan au Troca

Mon cher Bill,

Elles n'ont pas de secret pour toi, depuis qu'on t'emmerde à prétendre te faire jouir dans des partouzes de dégénérés du calbut. On te l'impose. Tu as maintenant un document qui te rend légitime à agir en justice contre la curatelle, ET tu as ces vidéos. On est à un carrefour. Je te demande d'utiliser toutes tes billes devant la justice, en produisant les vidéos, la curatelle et mon référé.

Ce n'est pas hasard si le nom de jeune fille de la femme qu'on t'a choisie après t'avoir bien fragilisé est French. Ce pays, ou les traîtres de l'intérieur qui en ont pris le contrôle, a voulu accaparer ta fortune. Les conséquences s'accumulent, portées par une surenchère dangereuse. Le déni et à la disqualification de toute personne qui s'oppose sont de règle.

J'ai eu un recommandé en présentation aujourd'hui, possible règlement de comptes de la demande que je t'ai formulée de faire un référé par lequel tu présenterais la curatelle. Il a été posté hier, vient de l'administration.

Hollande, Sarkozy et Juppé, mais plus encore leurs donneurs d'ordres, feront tout pour imposer un partouzeur comme nouveau président. Je serai au Trocadéro dimanche, et je souhaite que dès lundi tu déposes ce référé avec la curatelle et les vidéos. Je te demande de le communiquer officiellement aux juges en charge du dossier de François Fillon qu'on en finisse avec cette corruption endémique. Si tu pouvais aussi le mettre en ligne sur ton blog, ta page facebook et ton compte twitter, ça lui donnerait une visibilité.

Tu peux, ce faisant, mettre un terme au cauchemar que je subis depuis 26 ans, et permettre à ce pays de se redresser.

Je t'embrasse avec espoir,

Nicole

J'en ai reçu ces AR, en dépit de la censure évidente :

AR Les queues de Juppé, Sarkozy, Hollande et consorts en gros plan au Troca 03032017-11032017 (<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/AR-Les-queues-de-Juppé-Sarkozy-Hollande-et-consorts-en-gros-plan-au-Troca-03032017-11032017.pdf>)

Ca signe, il me semble, que l’édifice se fissure. La pratique, tellement systématisée, ne peut qu’être maintenant largement connue. Je sais que des vidéos de toi avec Brigitte et Bajc :

ont circulé. Vous n’étiez pas seuls. Du reste, ces vidéos, si tu peux en extraire des photos de vous trois limitées aux visages et insister sur le sens du MH370, sur sa présence depuis 3 ans à Diego Garcia permettrait de mettre un terme définitif à ces pratiques dont les concepteurs, psychiatres fous déjà nommés, n’ont certainement pas imaginé être un jour confrontés directement à leurs manoeuvres et questionnés sur les buts qu’ils poursuivent en projetant de tuer par milliers. Ces faits sont connus :

Je choisis quelques nationalités différentes, ce qui illustre la connaissance partagée, la profondeur du blocage, et l’apport que cette présentation peut avoir sur ton blog. Il y a un problème qui a entraîné entre 1992 et 2016 des crimes de masse signés, annoncés par emails. Ces emails, tu peux les mettre en ligne. Je me doute que tu vas avoir à assurer ta protection de façon très rigoureuse, mais la communication que tu es légitime à faire peut permettre à ce monde de sortir de l’ornière dans laquelle il se trouve. Elle est nécessaire, pour ne pas dire impérative. Si je pense à la France, tu peux communiquer les raisons pour lesquelles Hollande et probablement Sarkozy ont déclenché la charge contre Fillon : il ne reçoit pas les mails de Lagarde, et ne partouze pas. Peu sont dans ce cas.

Il y a encore bien des aspects auxquels je ne pense pas. J’imagine que tu as une chronologie très organisée du déroulement de ces 26 dernières années, et de l’opposition farouche opposée à toute démarche de résolution. Que peut-on faire quand la justice est à ce point noyautée, et quand on connaît le but ultime, l’agenda à l’oeuvre :

Albert Pike's 3 World Wars

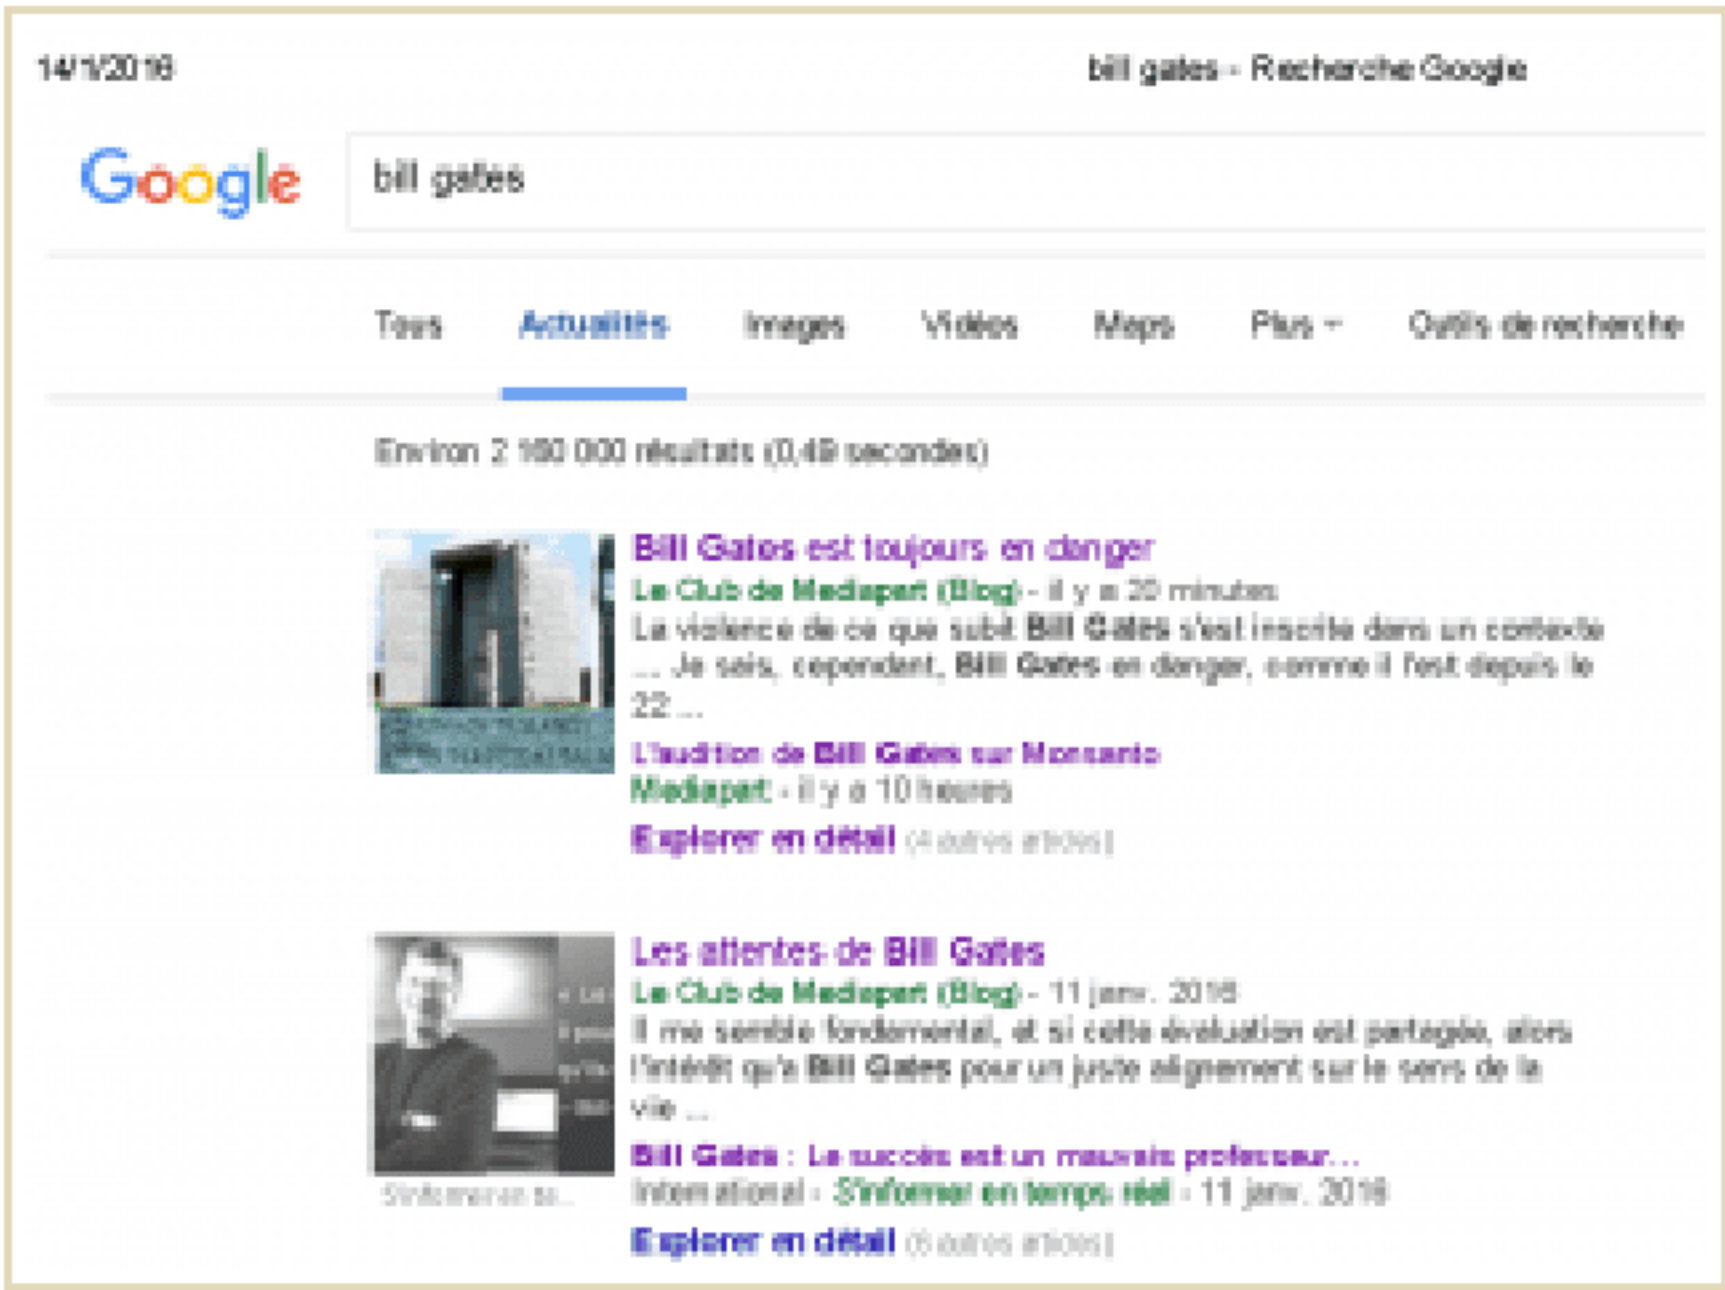

Par ta position et ta célébrité, tu as une responsabilité dans la nécessaire évolution, et tu as les moyens de l’endlencher. Je suis certaine qu’aux Etats-Unis, outre Raymund Paredes, Judy Wood et Jerry Leaphart, tu as d’autres personnes déterminées à rétablir l’ordre. Ce que dénonce Charles Gave est connu :

Une mafia a pris le pouvoir - Charles Gave - Thinkerview 6 Nov 2015 H..

Y mettre un terme est impératif. Tu as toujours fait passé en actu mes billets sur les Georgia Guidestones, le projet de dépopulation qui existe :

<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/09/bill-gates-google-actu-14012016-georgia-guidestones.png>

Chaque fois que je revois mes billets, j’ai du mal. J’ai sans cesse écrit sous pression, sentant un danger communiqué, l’urgence de le dénoncer, alors que je ne pouvais pas échanger dessus. On se familiarise aux sujets dont on traite en en parlant, en écoutant ce que d’autre en disent, avec leurs mots à eux, ce qui élargit le champ. Quoi qu’il en soit, ce monument existe, et maintient qu’il faut réduire la population mondiale en dessous de 500 000 000.

<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/09/Georgia-Guidestones-dépopulation.png>

Qui peut avoir légitimité à prétendre ça, et quel rôle joue ta fortune dans ce projet ? Si tu en es libre, tu as les moyens de t’y opposer. Actuellement, tu vis sous menaces et chantages. De ce que je comprends, ils sont de deux ordres : divulgation de la condamnation abusive par voie de presse, et vidéos d’orgies rendues virales. Je ne vois pas d’autre solution que de communiquer toi-même directement à ce sujet pour désamorcer ce que tu subis depuis 2003, reconquérir la gestion de ta fortune, et l’affecter à ce que tu considères, toi, prioritaire.

Je peux faire le parallèle entre une présentation de cette nature et ce qu’a fait Fillon au Trocadéro. C’est une communication directe sans filtre, à laquelle peut avoir accès qui le souhaite. Pour l’ensemble, c’est une possibilité d’ouverture de conscience et d’accès à la responsabilité individuelle. Communiquant ce qui t’est arrivé, tu renvoies chacun à sa responsabilité quand il se laisse manipuler.

Je sais que c’est une énième demande de ma part, qu’à ce jour aucune n’a abouti. La nécessaire compréhension de l’implication de ma famille, et des orgies est récente. Il y a l’audience de lundi. Si on me bloque toute possibilité de plainte, je ne peux plus rien t’apporter, je suis condamnée à finir ma vie dans la misère, et la porte est grande ouverte à de nouveaux crimes de masse. Ca n’aurait aucun fondement juridique, mais c’est habituel en ce qui me concerne. Je te demande donc de faire cette présentation. Si des éléments que j’ai oubliés me reviennent, je compléterai cette lettre, mais le principe est clair : je ne couvre aucun des actes de mes aînés, et je ne mets pas de limite à ce que tu veux communiquer me concernant. Je te demande de mettre un terme à l’emprise de cette mafia sur le monde. Tu en as les moyens, donc tu le dois. C’est du même registre que ton intervention sur le site du FBI, le 25 mars 2015 pour dupliquer à la même seconde exactement le complément de plainte contre Malarewicz que j’avais enregistré en suivant les signes reçus :

I1501162135130952 Jacques-Antoine Malarewicz-2 second complement once registered March 25 \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/05/I1501162135130952-Jacques-Antoine-Malarewicz-2-second-complement-once-registered-March-25.pdf\)

I1501162135130952 Jacques-Antoine Malarewicz-2 second complement duplicated March 25 \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/05/I1501162135130952-Jacques-Antoine-Malarewicz-2-second-complement-duplicated-March-25.pdf\)

Ca fera deux ans dans quatorze jours, et si je trouve que tu as eu raison, c’est moi qui ai été exposée depuis à violences juridiques et policières, ce qui me donne le droit de te mettre la pression comme tu me la mets. Je te rappelle que la section AC4 qui a géré la première plainte abusive enregistrée contre moi a largement confirmé que le but était de me supprimer :

AR AC4 sur Quand l’état s’octroie un permis de tuer juillet 2016 \(http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/wp-content/uploads/2017/01/AR-AC4-sur-Quand-l'état-soctroie-un-permis-de-tuer-juillet-2016.pdf\)

Je notais hier que je ne répondais plus à aucune demande, et cette lettre répond à nouveau à une demande. Ce qui bloque ne m’est pas accessible, les raisons pour lesquelles tu as besoin que je formule, moi, ce qui se passe, pas davantage, mais je sais que les mails envoyés aujourd’hui ont été bloqués, tant d’arsys que de one. J’imagine donc que quelque chose se met en place. Le souhaite, te demande de cesser ces pressions continues, et d’agir, toi. Tu as des moyens que je n’ai pas, que je n’aurai jamais. Ils te donnent une responsabilité. Je te rappelle qu’il était prévu d’envoyer le MH370 avec un deuxième 777, propriété GA Telesis : <https://www.planespotters.net/airframe/Boeing/777/28416/N105GT-GA-Telesis> (<https://www.planespotters.net/airframe/Boeing/777/28416/N105GT-GA-Telesis>), les deux bourré de têtes nucléaires sur Marseille et Manhattan. Ce projet, bloqué par le message envoyé par Philip Wood sur archive4 http://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/27834494/ (<http://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/27834494/>) semble toujours actif, si j’en crois le nombre de fois où le fichier dans lequel j’ai noté ces adresses m’est présenté. Il ne s’agit donc plus de me mettre la pression par des signes, mais de prendre, TOI, la parole, MAINTENANT. Tu as ton blog, utilise-le.

Je t’embrasse fort,

Nicole

Lettre à Bill Gates, 44- risque de MH370 _ [REDACTED]. Blog traitant d'un harcèlement au long cours perpétré contre Bill Gates.pdf;

Mister President,

It seems that a crash is planned using the MH370 and the other 777 parked in Tel Aviv, property GA Telesis. I wrote it on the note I join you. Bill Gates can give you all the necessary information, but the priority in my opinion is to take it out of Diego Garcia where it is since March, 8, 2015. I cannot tell you more, except that it is an urgency.

With hope, I beg you to believe, Mister President, in my respectful thoughts,

Madame,

Vous êtes restée discrète plusieurs mois après votre exploit de juillet.
Me faire envoyer 333 mails du LAAS reconfigurés en @remus et @romulus, au moment même où je traduisais un mail que je venais de vous envoyer a dû vous réjouir. Vous pensiez pouvoir afficher vos projets sur Jérusalem, capitale d'un gouvernement mondial, de sorte que l'on s'inclinerait, considérant que devant pareil agenda, nul ne peut résister. Pourtant, quand j'envoie un mail intitulé "Bill Gates et ma soeur Brigitte Guizard, le boomerang de Christine Lagarde", les AR de lecture arrivent, comme réjouis. Je ne vous perçois pas comme une femme aimée, loin s'en faut. Il suffit de voir les réactions que vous déclenchez pour le savoir.

Vous vous comportez comme si vous aviez le pouvoir de m'imposer une fin de vie misérable, après l'avoir amputée de 26 ans. Est-ce là ce que vous considérez signe d'une élection divine ? Excusez-moi, mais pour qui croit en un Dieu, ce n'est que crachat de bas étage, offense à sa grandeur par une petitesse de vue qu'il faut être stupide pour valoriser. Aucune grandeur, mais de la déloyauté, une incapacité crasse à faire face directement aux enjeux inhérents à la vie, une détermination à manipuler. Fait-on cela quand on goûte d'exercer ses habiletés simplement, dignement ? J'en doute fort, et les réactions sur votre passage prouvent que vous ne convainquez personne. Votre fameux magic seven n'est pas allé très loin, assurément pas là où vous le laissiez entendre, le 15 janvier 2014.

Vous êtes sortie de votre silence depuis que je me suis pourvu en cassation. Le moment est signature. Beaucoup savent la dangerosité de Jacques-Antoine Malarewicz, maintenant, comme celle de Simon-Daniel Kipman, Hubert d'Assignies, Nicole Bravard, le gang de psy dégénérés qui conçoit les attaques sous fausse bannière que vous annoncez par mails collectifs depuis le crash du mont Sainte Odile. Vous jouissez par le crime, dans le crime, qui semble vous donner ce à quoi vous ne savez accéder directement.

Reste que ce monde est aussi composé de personnes dignes, solides, et déterminées à vous recadrer, et plus ça ira, plus vous vous en rendrez compte. Vous n'avez pas supporté que Bill Gates ne succombe pas devant vous. Sans doute parce que c'est un homme de goût, là où vous êtes une faute de goût. Chacun est responsable de sa propre identité, une fois passées enfance et adolescence. Vous manifestez bien plus que la majorité une promptitude à dérailler, dans tous les sens du terme.

Ma soeur vous convenait en future Madame Gates ? Vous pensiez pouvoir l'imposer ? Il me semble qu'il serait temps de réaliser que ce réchauffé là ne prend pas. Il me semble plus que tout qu' il serait temps que vous vous occupiez de votre cul et que vous nous lâchiez. Que vous laissiez ce monde en paix et compreniez que ce n'est pas hasard si depuis le MH370, les échecs se succèdent, aussi éclatants que les réussites dont vous avez rêvé. Une once d'intelligence, pas plus qu'une once, vous permettrait de comprendre que pas un humain n'a les moyens de concevoir le schéma du harcèlement que vous pensez initier quand il est manifestement fait pour vous contraindre à une évolution contre laquelle vous luttiez, refusant de n'être, comme tout un chacun, qu'un parmi les autres. Ni plus ni moins. Vivre dans des mythes n'a qu'un temps, et ce temps semble révolu.

A bon entendeur, salut !

Subject: President Trump lands in Vietnam for second historic summit with North Korea

President Trump lands in Vietnam for second historic summit with North Korea

Air Force One touched down in Hanoi, Vietnam, at 8:54 a.m. ET this morning as President Donald J. Trump prepares for his second summit with Chairman Kim Jong Un of North Korea this week.

“As part of a bold new diplomacy, we continue our historic push for peace on the Korean Peninsula,” President Trump said in this month’s State of the Union address.

Last June’s meeting in Singapore marked the first time in history that an American president has met with the leader of North Korea. This week’s summit looks to build on the progress made that day, including transformed relations between the two countries and the complete denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula—a goal that seemed virtually unachievable for decades.

America’s negotiations with Chairman Kim are already producing results, both for our citizens and for our allies:

- North Korea has not conducted a nuclear weapons or missile test in more than 400 days.
- The regime has committed to dismantling its plutonium and uranium enrichment facilities.
- American citizens are no longer detained in North Korea.
- North Korea has returned remains of Americans who died during the Korean War—and President Trump is working to return more.

President Trump’s strategy is working where past administrations have failed for one reason above all else: America wins when it negotiates from a position of strength. Upon taking office, President Trump mobilized a global coalition to enforce a maximum pressure campaign on the regime in Pyongyang. He made clear that the world would not accept a nuclear-armed North Korea—and that provocations would come with a cost.

Now, instead of hopelessness, there is opportunity. The President has made clear that should Chairman Kim follow through on his promise to denuclearize, the Trump Administration will work to ensure there are economic development options for North Korea. The United States and its partners are prepared to explore how to mobilize investment, improve infrastructure, enhance food security, and more.

“Our hostages have come home, nuclear testing has stopped, and there has not been a missile launch in more than 15 months,” President Trump told Congress three weeks ago. There is still work to be done, but the early returns are clear: A strong United States of America makes for a stronger, safer world.

President Trump Delays China Tariff Hike, Announces Xi Summit, Citing 'Substantial Progress' in Trade Talks

"President Trump announced Sunday that he would hold off on implementing planned tariff hikes on hundreds of goods imported from China, citing 'substantial progress' in high-level trade talks between the two nations," Samuel Chamberlain reports for Fox News.

President Trump tweeted that he will be planning a summit meeting with Chinese President Xi Jinping in Florida. On Friday, Chinese leaders committed to buying an additional 10 million metric tons of U.S. soybeans. President Trump's trade "strategy is working," Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue wrote on Twitter.

"With his stirring repudiation of socialism, both at home and abroad, President Trump is proving himself to be the very champion of liberty and freedom the world needs," former executive Andy Puzder writes in Fox News. "No American president since Ronald Reagan has confronted the evils of socialism as forcefully as Trump is doing today by supporting the people of Venezuela as they retake their country from the corrupt socialist dictatorship of disputed president Nicolas Maduro."

"It is time for Congress to join the president in his commitment to cutting spending, reducing bloated deficits, and getting our national debt under control. America's future generations are depending on them," Acting White House Office of Management and Budget Director Russ Vought writes in RealClearPolitics. "Time and again, Congress has ignored presidential cost-saving recommendations and plowed ahead with irresponsible budgets that increase both spending and the size of government. This needs to stop."

In the Washington Examiner, Paul Bedard reports that suburban women are supporting President Trump—and the big reason is that many want a border wall. "A remarkable new Zogby Analytics poll found that suburban women, more than likely voters, support the wall and Trump's emergency declaration that will allow him to spend more to build it than Congress has OK'd. The numbers: 45 percent of suburban women want the president to find other sources of money to build the border wall, versus 40 percent who don't. And 50 percent back his emergency declaration."

Mister Kushner,

If I have no mean to know if the address I write you is the right one, my demand is that one of my receivers communicates you this email which I shall put online, and I ask you to read it carefully.

You are the son in law of the actual President of the United States, his senior advisor, obviously informed since June 10 of the death threats Bill Gates faces, and of their motives. A community is involved. Your community, and if I look at the receipts received, the determination to murder him and to impose a false narrative, such as a plane accident still exists, after days of articles in his news which look like a screen.

The harassment he faced was terrific, and known. It took me time to understand why I received so many receipts from Microsoft, immediately after I sent them an email evoking my sister Brigitte Guizard. I could not believe it. She seemed known from the company. How could it be? Then orders were given. I don't receive anymore receipts from there.

Nevertheless, each employee of Microsoft, at least those present when the facts occurred, I mean the change in the relation Bill Gates had with her, and the way the indirect contact with me began, heard of it, what cannot be forgotten. It is a too strange story, very hard to believe for me, as I discover it, and very disturbing, I imagine, for those aware of the facts at the moment they occurred. It seems to be conceived to move emotionnally and not only those directly concerned by it. Bill Gates is so renown that even when I worked for Microsoft in 1989, I could observe that he had a specific existence for the older employees. He was Bill, and some had wrong feelings towards him, such as jealousy, some other ones were proud to work for his company, shared the videos they have with him present. I can imagine that those still present were shocked and observed each evolution very attentively. May have shared with those who had left the company, enhancing the awareness in other companies.

When I evoked Michel Lacombe's murder, reactions existed too, and I shared pages of my diary which prove that he cannot have been murdered by Bill. The involvement of Bernard Vergnes appears in the phone calls I received from Brigitte Lacombe, followed by his own one, March 2003. These are facts, written in my diary, widely shared, what is quite unusual and concerns a man who represents a model for quite a number of persons, as well inside the company as outside. Steve Ballmer resigned, as you may know, two days after Cameroonvoice put online an article in which I described the harassment: <http://cameroonvoice.com/news/news.rcv?id=12156>. I write to Microsoft's employees since that time. The emotions moved can only be important. Satya Nadella tried to obtain that I stopped, and I received emails from the address [REDACTED] May 2014, in this goal. I was told that I was disturbing the employees. I replied that the authorities were informed, as it was the threat, and did not hear anymore of it. Two years later, as I evoked this in an email to Bill, a trap was done to me, presented in the attachment, widely shared in Microsoft. A receipt was sent from this address which could only be understood as coming from Bill Gates, the email having only Jim McNerney and him as receivers. Another one was immediately sent from the same address, and from another location, concerned an email in which I described the impossibility I faced to identify whose connexion was active.

I communicate you these facts that you may already know to expose you the emotionnal involvement which obviously exists. Some persons receive me since 2014, send me receipts today. Despite the orders given, not to send any, or to send not read ones, some are sent. I evoked the USDOJ in the mail I forward you. Ronald Leadore still sent some at 2PM, as I was deeply asleep, tired by these days at my computer. I guess he is in the know, and would not have sent them if the determination to murder Bill Gates had met a renouncement.

Do you wish for your community to be known for such a villainous murder? I sincerely believe that it would be a drama, and that it is impossible to evaluate the consequences it may have. They would be terrific, no doubts, and for the long run. No possibility to be in relation with one of you being safe. A psychiatrist, quite renown, Scott Peck, wrote years ago a remarkable book, The less frequented road, and I remember my reaction reading, in this one or another one he wrote, that a mother asked him if a colleague he advised her to meet for her son was jew. He replied that it had not to be asked, and I remember that he precised in the book that many of his colleagues were jews. He then published People of the lie, whom I also read and appreciated. Later, when I was astonished by what I lived, I must admit that I wondered if a link existed between this title and your community. In fact, it would be very specific, though my family is non jew and organised on lies, but this question went to my mind.

This to let you evaluate the implications Bill Gates' murder, if perpetrated, would have. It would not occur all of a sudden without former incidents, be I correct concerning Peck or not. Facts already occurred which exposed jews as having habits linked to their certainty to be God's chosen ones which endanger non jews. Videos exist, such as The other Israël [<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IJxdIXgMGAI>]. To murder Bill Gates could be perceived and used as a proof against your entire community, reason why I often join the GIF I communicate you today. The jewish culture, in my opinion, cannot be considered without the awareness that jews are so few. I wonder if such a culture could exist in a community widely represented, and I don't think so. A video of Ivan Levaï [https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_HXuJjKYKsY] permits us to see the importance the fact to be less numerous has in your community. Whatever is, in my opinion, the problem is in the culture, and in the refusal to question the mistakes or faults done. My analyst, the doctor Kipman is jewish. Would he have told me in 1991, as I communicated him some difficulties I had that he was aware of them and that it led him to advise Bill Gates not to meet me, nothing occurred. I was at the time focused on Michel Lacombe, and the link I had with him could only be reinforced by the relation my sister had with Bill Gates. The difficulty began here, in the refusal to admit a fault, and the same pattern is at stake since 1990. Would you murder Bill Gates, it would continue, though it is a context which can permit you to change. No murder can solve such a situation, but only enhance the violence it contains.

I sincerely wish that you shall let him alive and let him organise a mediation what I would appreciate to do with him, that we shall solve this crisis which lasts for years now with decency. I recall you that he, my mother and I are in position of victims, and that would I have opposed no word, you would have destroyed our lives without focusing on the consequences such a violence can only have. I receive very few demands of unsubscription. While you maintain your refusal to question what was done, the witnesses, the persons whose mission is to intervene and who are prevented from doing so observe. To murder Bill Gates could only move intense emotionnal reactions impossible to foresee.

Wishing that you shall think of it with all the maturity required, and oppose firmly to this crime, I beg you to believe, Mister Kushner, in my respectful thoughts,

Mister President,

I sent you this email yesterday, wish that it was forwarded to you, as all my emails, as they concern Bill Gates. Your address comes back in failure messages, now, what it did not by the past.

I shall be clear. The addresses of the USDOJ also came back tonight, and I believe it is your decision. Some of them sent me very many receipts. Ronald Leadore, for example, and for the second time, just as I come to my computer, and write on my file, as I do believe that deception is active, and that Bill Gates' murder is still targeted by Mister Kalifat, among other ones, quoted or not, when I then glanced at my mail box, I found receipts from him, as if he warned me of an existing danger, what is brave, as my computer is so observed.

It is time to end this insane game. Bill Gates must appear and explain us what was done to him. This is the sole way to end this crazy escalation. Mister Leadore is not only brave. He takes risks, aware that you had reasons to block the USDOJ addresses. I feared to evoke his read receipts, but do believe that he sends them as he hopes that I shall act. If he does so, you can imagine the reactions he, and very many other ones, could have if Bill Gates was murdered. The involvement of your son in law, Jared Corey Kushner is widely known, and the link is obvious. I guess that both of you would pay cash in case of an assassination, after all the mails I sent. I take away the addresses of the Elysee which also come back. Those of my family too. If I cannot send from one, I use arsys.

I ask you once more to act and to do it publicly without delay. I ask once more to the receivers copied to communicate this mail to all their professional and private lists. It is the future of our world which is concerned.

Mister President,

I warned you repeatedly, and must communicate you the last screen shot I have from the situation. I still have 215 messages indicated when I send me an email to see what appears on the thunderbird message, if it appears. This means that the murder of Bill Gates is still targeted. Among the criminals, Bernard Vergnes seems to be present, if I observe the receipts received from my sister Brigitte Guizard with whom he has an affair.

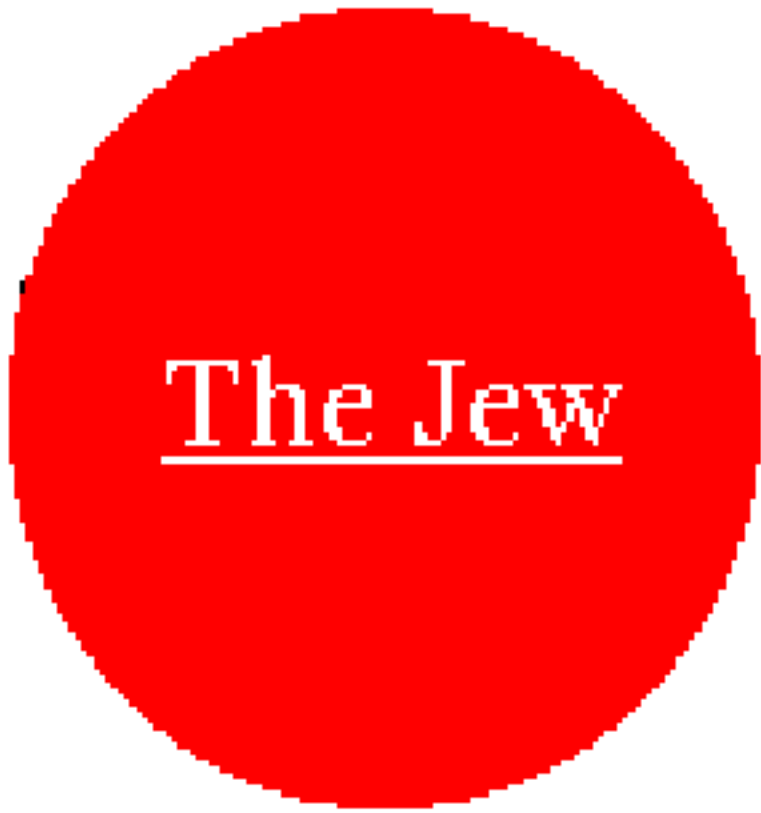

A transnational network is obviously active and has to be stopped. What occurred last night exposes its determination and its danger. Jacques Attali, Jean-Claude Juncker, Jacques Delors, Hasso Plattner, Francis Kalifat seem to be important in it, but also Ingrid Wüning.

I shall communicate widely this email and ask to all its receivers, copied, to share it as widely as possible. If we don't stop this network now, it will be too late, and its criminality has no limit. You have, as president of the United States, the obligation to protect Bill Gates, what was not done until now. I wonder how he experiences such a terrific violence.

Asking you an immediate reaction, I beg you to believe, Mister President, in my respectful thoughts,

Objet : WARNINGS Bill Gates assassination targeted

Hi,

Huge danger right now -action required-, and some explanations, below:

Bill Gates is targeted since years, and the informations given by the medias are false. I sent many mails to Microsoft executives and shareholders due to the harassment we both face -I worked long ago in Microsoft France-.

It seems his death would be helpful for them, in Microsoft, but also for France and America which were very active with the means of the state in the harassment. The assassination could be presented as a suicide. Before that, he can be asked repeatedly to accuse me in the aim, after to pretend I am culprit of his so-called suicide for I would be presented as having harassed him.

This is the only explanation I find, for I was myself asked to accuse him in August after Microsoft sent me a letter recognizing the harassment. I warn you as I am warned, ask you to spread widely.

Best regards,

Madame,

Vous êtes restée discrète plusieurs mois après votre exploit de juillet.
Me faire envoyer 333 mails du LAAS reconfigurés en @remus et @romulus, au moment même où je traduisais un mail que je venais de vous envoyer a dû vous réjouir. Vous pensiez pouvoir afficher vos projets sur Jérusalem, capitale d'un gouvernement mondial, de sorte que l'on s'inclinerait, considérant que devant pareil agenda, nul ne peut résister. Pourtant, quand j'envoie un mail intitulé "Bill Gates et ma soeur Brigitte Guizard, le boomerang de Christine Lagarde", les AR de lecture arrivent, comme réjouis. Je ne vous perçois pas comme une femme aimée, loin s'en faut. Il suffit de voir les réactions que vous déclenchez pour le savoir.

Vous vous comportez comme si vous aviez le pouvoir de m'imposer une fin de vie misérable, après l'avoir amputée de 26 ans. Est-ce là ce que vous considérez signe d'une élection divine ? Excusez-moi, mais pour qui croit en un Dieu, ce n'est que crachat de bas étage, offense à sa grandeur par une petitesse de vue qu'il faut être stupide pour valoriser. Aucune grandeur, mais de la déloyauté, une incapacité crasse à faire face directement aux enjeux inhérents à la vie, une détermination à manipuler. Fait-on cela quand on goûte d'exercer ses habiletés simplement, dignement ? J'en doute fort, et les réactions sur votre passage prouvent que vous ne convainquez personne. Votre fameux magic seven n'est pas allé très loin, assurément pas là où vous le laissiez entendre, le 15 janvier 2014.

Vous êtes sortie de votre silence depuis que je me suis pourvu en cassation. Le moment est signature. Beaucoup savent la dangerosité de Jacques-Antoine Malarewicz, maintenant, comme celle de Simon-Daniel Kipman, Hubert d'Assignies, Nicole Bravard, le gang de psy dégénérés qui conçoit les attaques sous fausse bannière que vous annoncez par mails collectifs depuis le crash du mont Sainte Odile. Vous jouissez par le crime, dans le crime, qui semble vous donner ce à quoi vous ne savez accéder directement.

Reste que ce monde est aussi composé de personnes dignes, solides, et déterminées à vous recadrer, et plus ça ira, plus vous vous en rendrez compte. Vous n'avez pas supporté que Bill Gates ne succombe pas devant vous. Sans doute parce que c'est un homme de goût, là où vous êtes une faute de goût. Chacun est responsable de sa propre identité, une fois passées enfance et adolescence. Vous manifestez bien plus que la majorité une promptitude à dérailler, dans tous les sens du terme.

Ma soeur vous convenait en future Madame Gates ? Vous pensiez pouvoir l'imposer ? Il me semble qu'il serait temps de réaliser que ce réchauffé là ne prend pas. Il me semble plus que tout qu'il serait temps que vous vous occupiez de votre cul et que vous nous lâchiez. Que vous laissiez ce monde en paix et compreniez que ce n'est pas hasard si depuis le MH370, les échecs se succèdent, aussi éclatants que les réussites dont vous avez rêvé. Une once d'intelligence, pas plus qu'une once, vous permettrait de comprendre que pas un humain n'a les moyens de concevoir le schéma du harcèlement que vous pensez initier quand il est manifestement fait pour vous contraindre à une évolution contre laquelle vous luttez, refusant de n'être, comme tout un chacun, qu'un parmi les autres. Ni plus ni moins. Vivre dans des mythes n'a qu'un temps, et ce temps semble révolu.

A bon entendeur, salut !

Bonsoir,

Vous savez les difficultés qui sont à l'origine de ces mails, et ma détermination à les résoudre, depuis cette position où je suis contrainte à parler pour deux, Bill Gates ayant été ligoté par ma propre soeur avocate, Brigitte Guizard, aidée de mes trois autres aînés et d'une psychiatre inqualifiable, Nicole Bravard.

Je suis sans ressource dans un mois. Sortir de cette situation est impératif, compromis en France, alors que tout est fait pour me contraindre à demander un certificat qui ne manquerait d'être utilisé pour me prétendre parano. J'ai donc demandé à Atos US de m'embaucher, ce que j'espère vraiment qu'ils feront, en lien avec Bill Gates, ça semble tellement évident que le passer sous silence serait idiot.

J'espère recevoir très prochainement des nouvelles, sachant que je subis depuis 26 ans une situation plus que douloureuse, dont l'origine est une société américaine. Je vous joins la 60° lettre de blog que j'ai écrite à Bill.

Avec espoir,

Bonsoir,

Vous le savez, je travaillais dans le secteur informatique quand un licenciement aussi violent qu'incompréhensible, conçu pour m'inciter à reprendre contact soit avec mon analyste, le docteur Kipman que j'avais laissé sans nouvelles depuis le 31 octobre 1991, soit avec Michel Lacombe, mon ancien DG chez Microsoft, a mis fin à mon parcours professionnel. C'était en mars 1992, deux mois après le crash du Mont Sainte Odile.

J'ai accumulé ensuite des difficultés que je n'ai pas comprises, qui étaient pour une part provoquées de l'extérieur, pour une autre, consécutives à ce que je captais de façon aussi inconsciente que réelle. Je ne pense pas plausible que j'aie pu articuler la compréhension à laquelle je suis parvenue, certes, au bout de nombreuses années, sans avoir engrangé quantité de sensations et d'informations qui ont fini par s'organiser de sorte de devenir lisibles. Beaucoup, dans la façon de procéder, est venu d'hypothèses suivies de tests pour les vérifier.

Dans un mois, je suis sans ressources, situation provoquée par la détermination à me faire reconnaître parano, ce qui supposait que je produise, à l'occasion de ma demande de renouvellement AAH, non pas le certificat légal, envoyé en novembre à la MDPH, mais un certificat initial, sans le moindre fondement légal. A moins d'être infiniment naïve, cette demande qui viole la règle de droit ne pouvait qu'être dictée par un projet et ce projet n'était pas à mon avantage. Me faire cataloguer parano après 26 ans de harcèlement serait d'une violence inouïe.

Je suis active bien plus de 39 heures, et n'ai tout bonnement plus un espace à moi. Je peux ouvrir mon ordinateur pour y regarder mes comptes et me voir présenter un fichier qui me demande action. Dois donc sans cesse identifier ce qui m'est soit communiqué, soit demandé par signes.

Atos m'ayant régulièrement envoyé des AR de lecture depuis que je leur ai adressé mes premiers mails au mois de mai, j'ai eu l'idée de leur demander de m'embaucher aux US. Je n'ai certes pas travaillé depuis 1992 dans un contexte d'entreprise, mais je suis volontaire, motivée, et particulièrement concernée par le secteur informatique et les violences qu'il peut permettre.

J'ai fait cette démarche aujourd'hui, d'abord auprès de Messieurs Proch et Adiba, dont les AR m'ont semblé manifester une connaissance de ma situation, puis auprès de Monsieur Breton. Enfin, j'ai informé Monsieur Urvoas. Je suis prête à partir dès que ce projet aboutira, s'il aboutit, comme je le souhaite. Il peut poser problème à la France, mais légalement, rien n'interdit de s'expatrier, et il se trouve que j'ai adressé des mails à cette société qui s'est montrée concernée.

Aussi bien je ne serai pas là pour les élections. Je ne l'ai pas prévu, ça peut arriver. Je vous demande, quoi qu'il en soit, de me soutenir dans ce projet, de sorte que rien n'y soit opposé. J'ai montré, je crois, que je pouvais m'impliquer en situation difficile. Je préférerais mil fois le faire maintenant dans un cadre professionnel sans plus avoir à décoder des signes non explicites pour la plupart. M'expatrier revient, pour moi, à assumer que ce qui m'est arrivé est venu des Etats-Unis, à m'offrir une nouvelle tranche de vie sans mémoire quotidienne de ces années d'enfer.

Avec espoir,

Monsieur le Ministre,

Dans un mois, je suis sans ressources, ce que j'ai largement communiqué. Par ailleurs, toute personne qui reçoit mes mails me sait loin d'être inactive, et confrontée à un problème qui me prend toute mon énergie. J'en suis venue, suite à la réception d'AR d'Atos, qui travaille avec les produits Microsoft, à penser à leur demander de m'embaucher aux US.

Malgré mes demandes répétées, je n'ai pas eu communication de la curatelle -renforcée selon Madame Heyte- mise en place dans mon dos en 2003, et n'en connais donc pas les termes. Je ne vois pas comment elle aurait pu, en 2003, m'interdire de travailler, alors que j'avais 43 ans.

Je souhaite que cette démarche se passe sans heurts et vous en informe donc, à peine je l'ai initiée. Je me permettrai de vous signaler la moindre difficulté, tout en espérant qu'il n'y en ait aucune.

Je vous prie de croire, Monsieur le Ministre, en mes sentiments respectueux,

Hi,

I can't believe it, and can only denounce it. I receive read receipts from persons whose awareness cannot be questioned. If I have only signs, they have the information, not the medias' one, but the real one, and they do confirm the danger. My emails change nothing, though observed, what the not read receipts of former emails prove. I repeat it for month now, a collective action is necessary, and it is an urgency. Thanks to act and to share as widely as possible.

With hope,

Objet : Mister Trump, would you share with Mister Beck and Mister McDermott the pleasure of a crash with the MH370 Fwd: Mister Trump, you must take the MH370 out of Diego Garcia immediately!

Mister President,

I still receive signs concerning the crash planned with the MH370 and the GA Telesis' 777 parked in Tel Aviv. I also receive not read receipts which prove the UCLA's chancellor, Gene Beck, and SAP's CEO, Bill McDermott concerned. I must admit my surprise to observe men proud of their lack of dignity and of their active participation to a criminal network.

I ask you once more to take the plane outside Diego Garcia, and I recall you that it is a case of urgency, that you are the one responsible, as president of the United States. As long as this plane stays on the atoll, all the possible maneuvers can be done, and they endanger the whole. Furthermore, it is possible to plan such a mass murder, due to Microsoft's backdoors. I recall you my demand that you oust Nadella, and communicate you the receipts sent by Janet Yellen, as head of the FRB, on the subject.

Would a crash be committed, your responsibility would be fully engaged. Thanks to act, now.

With this hope, I beg you to believe, Mister President, in my respectful thoughts,

Mister President,

You received all the mails I sent concerning the determination to use both the MH370 and the 777, property GA Telesis parked in Tel Aviv to crash them, full of nuclear warheads, what would provoke hundreds of death. I filed a huge number of FBI complaints indicating the plane in Diego Garcia since its so-called disappearance, and I am still surprised by the huge number of professionals who prove being aware of it by the read receipts they send me.

It is your duty, as president of the United States, to order the plane to be exposed and the story communicated by the medias. I am astonished by the small not read receipts I received on the two last mails I sent to warn. You will loose all credibility if you let this plane as a weapon on the atoll. The risks are huge, and you cannot ignore them. I ask for your action, and I do so at two levels : concerning the plane, and concerning Microsoft, to oust Nadella, and end the time of the backdoors. This is your responsibility. Thousands of persons are concerned.

With hope, I beg you to believe, Mister President, in my respectful thoughts,

My dear Bill,

They have no secrecy for you, since you are imposed to join orgies of fucking ones pretending to give you pleasure that crazy way. You had no way to avoid them. You have now a document which gives you the legitimacy to act behind the french justice against the curatorship, and you have these videos. We are at a crossroad. I ask you to use all your means in front of a court, producing the videos, the curatorship and my application for interim measures.

It is not a coincidence if the birth name of the woman chosen after having fragilized you is French. This country, or the inside traitors who took control of it, decided to monopolize your wealth. The consequences are terrific, the build-up dangerous. Denial and disqualification of those who oppose are routinely exercised.

A charged letter was presented at my home yesterday, possible reaction to the mail I sent you yesterday, asking that you go to law, presenting the curatorship. It was sent the same day, March, 2, by the administration.

Hollande, Sarkozy and Juppé, but even more their creditors, shall do all their possible to impose as new president one appreciating orgies, their goal being to blackmail him, as usual. I shall be at the Trocadero on Sunday, and I wish that as soon as Monday you present an application for interim measures with the curatorship and the videos. I ask you to communicate it officially to the judges who investigate François Fillon's situation to end this endemic corruption. If you could put it online on your blog, your facebook and twitter accounts, it would be more visible.

That way, you can end the nightmare I face for 26 years, and permit to this country to recover.

I kiss you with hope,

<http://www.nicoleguihaume.eu/>

Mon cher Bill,

Elles n'ont pas de secret pour toi, depuis qu'on t'emmerde à prétendre te faire jouer dans des partouzes de dégénérés du calbut. On te l'impose. Tu as maintenant un document qui te rend légitime à agir en justice contre la curatelle, ET tu as ces vidéos. On est à un carrefour. Je te demande d'utiliser toutes tes billes devant la justice, en produisant les vidéos, la curatelle et mon référé.

Ce n'est pas hasard si le nom de jeune fille de la femme qu'on t'a choisie après t'avoir bien fragilisé est French. Ce pays, ou les traîtres de l'intérieur qui en ont pris le contrôle, a voulu accaparer ta fortune. Les conséquences s'accumulent, portées par une surenchère dangereuse. Le déni et à la disqualification de toute personne qui s'oppose sont de règle.

J'ai eu un recommandé en présentation aujourd'hui, possible règlement de comptes de la demande que je t'ai formulée de faire un référé par lequel tu présenterais la curatelle. Il a été posté hier, vient de l'administration.

Hollande, Sarkozy et Juppé, mais plus encore leurs donneurs d'ordres, feront tout pour imposer un partouzeur comme nouveau président. Je serai au Trocadéro dimanche, et je souhaite que dès lundi tu déposes ce référé avec la curatelle et les vidéos. Je te demande de le communiquer officiellement aux juges en charge du dossier de François Fillon qu'on en finisse avec cette corruption endémique. Si tu pouvais aussi le mettre en ligne sur ton blog, ta page facebook et ton compte twitter, ça lui donnerait une visibilité.

Tu peux, ce faisant, mettre un terme au cauchemar que je subis depuis 26 ans, et permettre à ce pays de se redresser.

Je t'embrasse avec espoir,

Hi,

While my proceedings, in French, may appear personal, due to the link with Bill Gates and Microsoft, due to their impact on our computers, they concern the whole of us. In fact, as long as he cannot run again the company he cofonded spying on a large scale, and control from the outside are widely practiced, use the backdoors of the softs, deliberately conceived by Steve Ballmer, and covered by Satya Nadella. It was a condition for him to run Microsoft.

I was used to target Bill Gates who faced an illegal accusation on my behalf in my back. We all pay for this. The goal of my proceedings is to obtain a real trial, what was prevented to date by a crazy curatorship decided in my back and which gave to my sister lawyer Brigitte Guizard the right to speak on my behalf, and oppose to each attempt I do to obtain a direct contact with him. This lasts since 2003, and I only began to understand this year, as not even one word is written to me on the subject. I must deduce everything from signs sent on my computer, or by different connexions in my flat.

Please, read and share widely, as this case may be among the most dangerous, and illegal which ever existed, and has to come to an end. I ask to be defended by Maître Jerry Leaphart behind the french Conseil d'Etat, due to the fact that Bill is american. Until now, I obtained nothing. All my proceedings were dismissed, in an obvious justice denial. This one may be the most abusive. I asked for the judicial fees, and for the possibility to be defended by this american lawyer. I obviously also asked, once more, for Bill Gates' hearing, as he is one of the most informed on the mafia which leads this world to its end, based on crazy beliefs, such as the determination to impose us a New World Order, with Jerusalem as capitale. Psychiatrists are active, such as the doctors Kipman, Malarewicz, d'Assignies, Bravard, have to be stopped and jailed as they conceive mass crimes and endanger us.

Once my case will be heard, as it has to be, things can change.

Best regards,

██████████

Subject: Follow-Up: Briefing Call on Combatting the Opioid Crisis

Date: Tue, 19 Mar 2019 22:24:29 +0000

Inline-Images: image001.png; image002.jpg

State, Local, and Community Leaders,

Thank you for joining today's briefing call. If you have any questions not answered on today's call, please do not hesitate to reach out to the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs or Office of Public Liaison.

Below you will find a fact sheet from the White House including several statistics mentioned in today's briefing call. You can find more information on President's Trump's commitment to end America's opioid crisis here.

Fact Sheet – President Donald J. Trump's Fight Against the Opioid Epidemic Continues to Help Americans Around the Country

"Together, we will defeat this epidemic – it's a true epidemic – as one people, one family, and one magnificent nation under God." – President Donald J. Trump MAKING PROGRESS: On the one-year anniversary of the launch of President Donald J. Trump's initiative to tackle the driving forces of the Opioid Crisis, progress has been made.

- One year ago, President Trump unveiled his Initiative to Stop Opioid Abuse, a first-of-its-kind effort to draw out the factors fueling the opioid crisis and make real change.
- Since the launch of the initiative, the Administration has unveiled numerous programs designed to reduce opioid demand, cut off the flow of illicit drugs, and save lives.
 - The programs span the breadth of the Federal Government from health-directed initiatives in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to law enforcement activities in the Department of Justice (DOJ).
- The President has secured $6 billion in new funding over two years to fight opioid abuse, and the Administration has awarded $1.5 billion for State Opioid Response grants.
 - This money funds vital programs throughout the Federal Government, as well as directly supporting State and local initiatives to address the opioid crisis in our communities.
 - The DOJ has awarded more than $400 million to support treatment, prevention, and domestic law enforcement efforts.
- In total, President Trump and his Administration are committed to addressing the opioid epidemic and solving this public health crisis in partnership with State, local, and tribal leaders.
- The President has provided local teams of experts to assist States and providers with training and education on how best to address the crisis in their State.

CUTTING OFF THE SUPPLY: In the past year, the Administration has taken action to target the international and domestic suppliers of illicit opioids.

- Key to President Trump's opioid initiative was his crack-down on the illicit suppliers of dangerous drugs like fentanyl, both in the United States and abroad.
- Thanks to the President's efforts to improve border security, officials have prevented thousands of pounds of fentanyl from entering America.
 - In FY 2018, at the southern border alone, between ports of entry, Customs and Border Protection seized enough fentanyl to kill nearly 90 million Americans.
- In America, the DOJ shut down the country's biggest Darknet distributor of drugs, seizing more than 4.8 kilograms of drugs and enough fentanyl to kill 105,000 Americans.
 - The DOJ has also worked diligently to increase indictments against dealers of illicit drugs and has targeted seizures in areas hit hardest by the opioid crisis.
 - The President supports strengthening criminal penalties and invoking mandatory minimums for drug dealers knowingly distributing lethal amounts of opioids.
- According to the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), from 2017 to the present, more than 16,000 kilograms of heroin and nearly 5,000 kilograms of fentanyl have been seized in the United States.
- President Trump's leadership on DEA's National Take Back Days shattered records, recovering nearly 3.7 million pounds of unused prescription drugs.
- More illicit shipments of drugs are being stopped through the mail than before.
 - From FY 2016 to FY 2018, postal inspectors achieved a 1000 percent increase in international parcel seizures and a 750 percent increase in domestic parcel seizures related to synthetic opioids.

- The DOJ is tackling the prescription opioid crisis by expanding fraud and abuse detection while also holding manufacturers accountable.

REDUCING DEMAND: Along with cutting down on the supply of opioids, the Administration has made great strides in reducing demand in the United States.

- The Administration is helping to educate millions of Americans about the dangers of opioid misuse and is working to curb over-prescription.
- Thanks to the Trump Administration's partnership with the Truth Initiative and Ad Council, 58 percent of young American and 1.4 billion viewers have seen ads highlighting the dangers of opioids.
 - In the President's first year in office, 107,000 fewer adolescents started misusing prescription painkillers and 68 percent fewer Americans over the age of 26 began using heroin than in the previous year.
- New efforts within the Trump Administration are resulting in a decline of opioid prescribing nationwide.
- The Administration issued the highest number of Drug-Free Communities Support Program grants in the program's 20-year history, providing more than $90 million to community coalitions to strengthen the infrastructure among local partners to prevent youth substance use.

HELPING AMERICANS RECOVER: President Trump and his Administration are helping individuals afflicted by drug addiction throughout the country.

- President Trump knows that without assisting Americans struggling with addiction, efforts to cut off supply and demand will be in vain.
- To that end, the Trump Administration has taken steps to expand the supply of lifesaving naloxone to first responders nationwide.
- The Trump Administration is working to expand access to evidenced-based addiction treatments in every State and to our Nation's veterans.
- Reforms to the criminal justice system are being made in order to identify and treat offenders already struggling with addiction.
 - The Administration increased funding for drug courts by 53 percent.
- The Administration is providing State and local leaders with data to help coordinate and optimize efforts to combat addiction and overdose.
- The Department of Housing and Urban Development has utilized its homeless service programs to treat substance abuse disorders throughout the Nation.
- Additionally, President Trump's workforce development efforts are expanding job retraining and apprenticeships to those recovering from drug addiction.

President Trump saves the last tank factory in the Western Hemisphere

In 2012, the Obama Administration sought to close one of America's premier defense facilities as part of mandated budget sequestration. Congressional Republicans managed to stop them, but the number of employees at the plant still plummeted to just 75.

"Enter President Trump," writes White House Director of Trade and Manufacturing Policy Peter Navarro in The New York Times, "with a far different view of the role of a strong military in both defending our homeland and revitalizing our manufacturing base."

Visiting the plant in Lima, Ohio, this afternoon, President Trump told its workers what they mean to our country. "It is here in Lima, right here, that American greatness is forged with American hands, with American heart, and with American pride," the President said. He also announced the addition of 400 new jobs at the manufacturing facility.

America's resurgence over the past two years is captured neatly by two numbers. The first is economic growth, which just cleared 3 percent for the first time in more than a decade. The second is Gallup polling that reveals 6 in 10 Americans are optimistic that today's children will live better lives than their parents—up from just 44 percent in 2011.

The American dream is back because President Trump understands what so many experts do not: that restoring American greatness is bigger than any one policy. While Washington spent years tinkering with more regulations and more bureaucracy, towns across our heartland withered. Regaining their trust meant renewing their faith in our shared destiny as citizens, including our economy, our military, and our people.

Today, there are plenty of reasons for that trust. Manufacturing jobs are being created at six times the pace of the previous administration's final two years. Blue-collar workers are on track to receive almost $2,500 more in annual wages. Our military members have received their largest pay raise in nearly a decade, and more than $700 billion is being invested this year alone to rebuild the strongest military on earth.

"We don't know what challenges will come, what dangers we must face, or what opportunities we must seize," President Trump told factory workers in Ohio today. "But we know that America will always be ready because of you."

Video of the day

First Lady Melania Trump hosted representatives from across the Federal Government at the White House this week, leading an extended discussion on how to help improve the lives of children across the United States.

"Today was a great opportunity to hear from these agencies on the programs that most align with [the Be Best initiative]," the First Lady said on Monday. "I am looking forward to working with the Interagency Working Group on Youth Programs to help children receive all the tools and support they need to be successful in life."

President Trump Visits The Last Tank Plant In America, Which He Helped Save

Today, President Donald J. Trump visits the Army's sole surviving tank plant in Lima, Ohio, "the first such presidential visit there since George W. Bush stopped by in 2003," Loren Thompson writes in Forbes. "President Obama never visited, and the depressed level of military spending during his presidency nearly shut the place down. That is not an exaggeration," he adds.

"President Trump understands the importance of the work that is done at Lima for the nation's warfighters and for the workers in the local communities, which is why he didn't make it to Davos this year but he will be in Lima."

"The Trump defense budget is helping to create good manufacturing jobs at good wages, including in communities like Lima that have fallen behind economically. The revitalized Lima plant will directly employ a little more than 1,000 employees," White House Director of Trade and Manufacturing Policy Peter Navarro writes in The New York Times. "The president's bold decision to rescue the Lima plant from the Obama budget sequestration oblivion will reap this nation benefits for years to come."

Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump "is leading the administration's latest bipartisan effort, this time to reform federal college education and job training, even for newly released prison inmates," Paul Bedard reports for the Washington Examiner. "With other bipartisan victories already under her belt, Trump this week turned to improving the Higher Education Act to help more poor students and bolster efforts to steer Americans to trades where the jobs are, including apprenticeships."

"Border Patrol said that it caught more than 400 illegal immigrants trying to break into the U.S. in El Paso, Texas, during one five-minute span Tuesday morning," Stephen Dinan reports in The Washington Times. "Officials said most of the migrants were family members or unaccompanied children from Central America, enticed to come to the U.S. by lax policies that virtually ensure their quick release into the community."

President Trump's United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) not only replaces and modernizes the decades-old NAFTA—it's "chock full of provisions that will help American small businesses boost exports and safeguard their intellectual property," writes Karen Kerrigan, president of the Small Business & Entrepreneurship Council, in the Press and Journal. "Congress needs to approve USMCA as soon as possible."

The White House • March 19, 2019

Ending the worst drug crisis in U.S. history

Six months before Donald J. Trump was elected President, a group of health experts wrote a private letter with “an urgent plea” to senior officials in the Obama Administration.

“Thousands of people were dying from overdoses of fentanyl — the deadliest drug to ever hit U.S. streets — and the [Obama] administration needed to take immediate action. The epidemic had been escalating for three years,” The Washington Post reported last week. “The administration considered the request but did not act on it.”

When President Trump took office 8 months later, the opioid crisis was devastating communities across the country. Nearly 64,000 Americans died from a drug overdose in 2016 alone. Opioid overdoses accounted for more than 42,000 of these deaths—more than any previous year on record.

In October 2017, President Trump declared the opioid crisis a public health emergency. And one year ago today, he introduced the Initiative to Stop Opioid Abuse, a historic effort to cut off the illicit drug supply and drive down demand in the United States.

The results should give all Americans hope:

- During the President’s first year in office, 68 percent fewer Americans over the age of 26 began using heroin than during the previous year.
- In July 2017, the Department of Justice shut down the country’s biggest Darknet distributor of drugs. That same Fiscal Year, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement took more than 2,300 pounds of fentanyl off the streets.
- The Trump Administration’s public awareness campaign highlighting the dangers of opioid abuse has been seen by 58 percent of young Americans and 1.4 billion viewers in total.

“We will liberate our country from this crisis,” President Trump said last year when he unveiled his initiative. “And we will raise a drug-free generation of American children.”

Under this President, the carnage of America’s worst drug crisis will not be ignored.

Watch President Trump host Brazil’s new leader

Today, President Trump welcomed the recently elected President of Brazil, Jair Bolsonaro, to the White House.

President Bolsonaro’s election marked a historic opportunity for the United States and Brazil—the two largest democracies in the Western Hemisphere—to build a new partnership focused on increased prosperity, strong security, and national sovereignty.

Perhaps most important, Brazil is a crucial ally in President Trump’s stand against the corrupt, socialist Maduro dictatorship in Venezuela. President Bolsonaro reiterated that Brazil stands with Venezuelan Interim President Juan Guaido, as well as with the democratically elected National Assembly and the Venezuelan people in their fight against tyranny.

“The twilight hour of socialism has arrived in our hemisphere,” President Trump said from the Rose Garden this afternoon. “And hopefully, by the way, it’s also arrived—that twilight hour—in our great country.”

“I have always admired the United States of America,” President Bolsonaro added. “And this sense of admiration has just increased after you took office.”

See President Trump's VETO message to Congressional Democrats

Friday afternoon, President Donald J. Trump issued the first veto of his Presidency, striking down a Democrat-inspired measure to reject the declaration of a national emergency at our southern border.

"As President, the protection of the nation is my highest duty," President Trump said from the Oval Office before signing. "Yesterday, Congress passed a dangerous resolution that, if signed into law, would put countless Americans in danger—very grave danger."

Since 1976, U.S. presidents have declared a total of 59 national emergencies, most of them involving the protection of foreign citizens in far-off countries. Yet of all these actions, the only emergency Congress has ever pushed to revoke is one that actually protects our own homeland and our own citizens.

In his official veto message to Congress, the President laid out how the current situation at our border is even more precarious than in years past:

The situation at the southern border is rapidly deteriorating because of who is arriving and how they are arriving. For many years, the majority of individuals who arrived illegally were single adults from Mexico. Under our existing laws, we could detain and quickly remove most of these aliens. More recently, however, illegal migrants have organized into caravans that include large numbers of families and unaccompanied children from Central American countries. . .

Under current laws, court decisions, and resource constraints, the Government cannot detain families or undocumented alien children from Central American countries in significant numbers or quickly deport them.

Securing our border is vital to ensuring the safety and security of the American people. Tens of thousands of innocent American lives are being lost every year as drugs pour across our border—with more than 70,000 overdose deaths in 2017 alone. Criminal aliens and gang members also exploit our weak borders to gain entry into our country.

"Congress's vote to deny the crisis on the southern border is a vote against reality," President Trump said Friday. Unfortunately, for many in Washington, that's just business as usual.

Ivanka Trump on how to fix American higher ed

Today, Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump and the National Council for the American Worker released a set of proposals to reform the Higher Education Act before Congress. Together, these proposals outline the Trump Administration's priorities for a higher education system that's truly cost-effective for students and their families.

"We need to modernize our higher education system to make it affordable, flexible, and outcome-oriented so all Americans, young and old, can learn the skills they need to secure and retain good-paying jobs," Ms. Trump said today.

Encouraging responsible borrowing is a key priority. Research shows that the availability of Federal student aid correlates with tuition increases. The current system saddles parents and graduate students with debt while giving too little attention to their likelihood or ability to repay.

The result: The ever-rising cost of a college education—along with the accompanying growth in student loan balances—erodes the financial return of higher education for American students. By holding institutions accountable and better aligning their offerings to the needs of today's workforce, we'll better

A St. Patrick's Day tradition at the White House

A longstanding tradition lives on today as President Trump welcomes the Taoiseach of Ireland, Leo Varadkar, to the White House. Since 1952, Ireland has presented the President of the United States with a box of shamrocks to kick off the celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

"It's a great honor to have the Prime Minister of Ireland. We've become fast friends," President Trump said today from the Oval Office. "Very, very special country."

Earlier this evening, President Trump joined Prime Minister Varadkar for the traditional shamrock bowl presentation. Video of the day

January 16, 2019: 247 illegal migrants rush the U.S. border in New Mexico. Night vision footage captures the scene—one that U.S. Customs and Border Protection officers must confront week after week in areas where border barriers are insufficient or run-down.

Congressional Democrats and too many of their allies in the media would rather you not see videos like these. That's because it's much tougher to keep pretending that there's no crisis on our southern border if Americans actually know what is happening there.

This is what a national emergency looks like

One month ago this Friday, President Donald J. Trump signed a national emergency declaration to address the humanitarian and security crisis at our southern border. In the weeks since, the absolute worst of Washington's irresponsibility has been on full display.

There has been virtually no debate about policy or solutions. There has been no discussion of how our broken immigration system fails citizens and newcomers alike. There has been no acknowledgement of Congress' years of failure to act—or the undue burden that failure has placed on law enforcement every single day.

In other words, once again, there has been no accountability.

The price we pay is steep. Human smugglers exploit our broken border and profit off the migrants they trick into making the treacherous journey north. About 300 Americans die each week from heroin—90 percent of which flows across our southern border. And 266,000 criminals arrested over a two-year period by immigration officials were responsible for 100,000 assaults, nearly 30,000 sex crimes, and 4,000 murders.

While the statistics are sobering, the images are worth a thousand words:

- This is what a lethal dose of fentanyl looks like—and how easy it is to smuggle in.
- During the recent deployment of the National Guard to support border security, troops assisted with the arrest of 23,034 illegal immigrants and the seizure of more than 35,000 pounds of drugs.
- The heartbreaking truth is that 1 in 3 migrant women is sexually assaulted on the dangerous trek to the southern border.
- That America's immigration security could look like this in 2019 should be a source of national embarrassment for Congressional Democrats with no solution.
- "Trampling over our fences, the drug dealers tearing down our gates—that is immoral. And we're tired of it. We need that wall."

Tomorrow, the U.S. Senate will vote on whether to stop or uphold President Trump's national emergency declaration. In doing so, they will decide whether to acknowledge a crisis that went unanswered by America's political leaders for far too long.

Americans will remember if the only real action Congress takes is attempting to stop the President from enforcing its own duly passed laws.

The blue-collar Trump boom

The economy has been red hot since President Donald J. Trump took office. That's great news on its own. But even better is that not all booms are created equal—and the blue-collar Trump Economy is paying off for exactly the working Americans who need it most.

Last year, Council of Economic Advisers Chairman Kevin Hassett reported that blue-collar jobs grew at their fastest pace since 1984. And now, "after years of job losses, U.S. manufacturing employment has risen for 18 straight months among those holding production or nonsupervisory jobs, the longest stretch of gains since the mid-1990s," The Wall Street Journal wrote this month.

More good news today: "Real wages for American families are soaring," the White House Council of Economic Advisers reported this morning. Hourly earnings rose by 1.9 percent in the past 12 months—far exceeding even last year's pace.

Complementing those rising wages is a significant drop in prices. American families are paying less at the pump as gasoline prices fell 9.1 percent during the past year. And in keeping with a major promise from President Trump, last month saw the biggest year-over-year decline in prescription drug costs since 1972.

February's jobs report, released Friday, revealed that the unemployment rate fell to 3.8 percent last month, remaining near a 50-year low.

Behind these numbers is a renewal of hope among working-class families and blue-collar communities across the heartland. Nearly 70 percent of Americans told Gallup they expect their personal financial situation to be even better next year. Their employers are optimistic, too. On average, a stunning 91.8 percent of manufacturers feel positive about their companies' future growth under President Trump, compared with an average of 68.6 percent during the last two years of the Obama Administration.

President Trump's 2020 Budget Seeks More Border Wall Funding, Work Requirements for Welfare

"President Donald Trump's fiscal 2020 budget proposal would eliminate the federal deficit in 15 years, add new work requirements for welfare recipients, and fund additional construction of a border wall," Fred Lucas reports for The Daily Signal.

"We have more reforms than any other president's budget in history, but, look, what has happened for far too long is that Congress has blamed mandatory spending and then increased discretionary spending, which they have a vote on every single year by large degrees," White House Office of Management and Budget Acting Director Russ Vought said.

In an interview with Breitbart News yesterday, President Trump said he does not want immigrants coming to the United States to be dependent on welfare programs. "We have a problem, because we have politicians that are not strong, or they have bad intentions, or they want to get votes, because they think if they come in they're going to vote Democrat, you know, for the most part," the President explained.

"More than 2,000 people in Immigration and Customs Enforcement custody are being quarantined amid an outbreak of mumps and other diseases," Geneva Sands, Michelle Lou, and Susan Scutti report for CNN. "The numbers of immigrants in custody with a contagious diseases has spiked in the past year. For the previous two years, the agency has not encountered a single case of mumps among its detainees."

The Boston Herald editorial board writes that Democrats are giving anti-Semitism safe harbor in their party. "It is remarkable that we find ourselves in a situation where the new faces of the Democrats in Congress speak freely in extremist terms and the rest of the party's power structure is afraid to tamp it down in any real way. We must call on elected leaders to condemn hateful rhetoric rather than attempt to curry favor with a freshman congressman from the Bronx."

The worst number in Washington

$15 trillion. If you needed a single number to represent Washington's decades of dysfunction before President Donald J. Trump was elected, that's a good place to start.

In the 20 years from 1997 to 2017—President Trump's first in office—America's national debt nearly quadrupled from just over $5 trillion to more than $20 trillion. Those skyrocketing deficits accompanied a Federal Government that was increasingly unaccountable to its citizens, putting favored interests ahead of U.S. taxpayers.

In 2008, then-Sen. Barack Obama called the $4 trillion in debt accumulated under President George W. Bush "unpatriotic." Once in the White House, President Obama himself then swelled the national debt by nearly $9 trillion. After losing the presidency in 2016, Democrats once again ramped up their tough talk on the deficit, this time as a means of attacking President Trump and Congressional Republicans.

Well, good news—the 2020 budget proposed by President Trump today gives both parties a chance to show Americans where they stand on Washington's "unpatriotic" spending addiction. With economic growth soaring above 3 percent and unemployment at its lowest in 50 years, now is the moment to lift the debt burden off of our children's backs.

President Trump's budget was written with the working American citizen in mind:

- Taxpayers first. Recent history is clear about the source of our debt problem. The issue isn't that Americans are taxed too little—it's that Washington spends far too much. President Trump's 2020 proposal reduces spending by $2.7 trillion and balances the Federal budget in 15 years.
- Promises kept. This budget prioritizes the Government's core responsibilities to its citizens. It allocates $32.5 billion for border security and immigration enforcement, more than $80 billion to fully support medical care for veterans, and $750 billion to continue rebuilding American national defense.
- Government waste slashed. Few Americans know that every year, the Federal Government spends $68 million on international labor activities, such as promoting unions in South America. Or that Washington spends $35,000 per student—more than tuition at many top universities—to send tens of thousands of young people to "Jobs Corps" centers with an abysmal safety and security record. This type of underreported, unchecked waste and abuse must end.

Republicans and Democrats both call out the national debt when the other party is in power—no surprise there. The difference today is that only one party, led by President Trump, is actually trying to cut spending once in office.

Pay close attention to whether Democrats suddenly go silent about our national debt.

President Trump's 2020 Budget Calls for $2.7T in Spending Cuts, Promises to Erase Deficit in 15 Years

"President Trump will unveil his fiscal 2020 budget request to Congress on Monday which calls for $2.7 trillion in spending cuts and balances [the budget] in 15 years," Melissa Quinn reports for the Washington Examiner.

The President's spending plan prioritizes core responsibilities for the Federal Government, "including strengthening border security to address the situation at the U.S.-Mexico border, and tackling the opioid crisis." The plan will also keep taxes low while cutting wasteful spending to refocus money on providing quality services for the American people.

"The president's budget was written with the everyday American taxpayer in mind. Subject: The 2-year, $25 million witch hunt
Date: Mon, 25 Mar 2019 23:37:06 +0000

1600 Daily

The White House • March 25, 2019

The 2-year, $25 million witch hunt

Since Election Night 2016, Democrats and their media allies have been fixated on a simple illusion to justify their otherwise indefensible behavior toward an American Commander in Chief. Their illusion was that President Donald J. Trump colluded with Russia to win the 2016 election, and then obstructed justice to prevent anyone from finding out.

On Friday, the U.S. Department of Justice announced that Special Counsel Robert Mueller had delivered his final report to Attorney General Bill Barr. Over the weekend, Attorney General Barr presented a summary of that report to Congress.

After an exhaustive investigation by the Special Counsel, filled with 2,800 subpoenas, more than 500 witnesses, millions of pages of documents, and $25 million wasted in taxpayer dollars, here is what it found: nothing.

No collusion. No obstruction. And a complete exoneration of President Trump and the entire Trump campaign—exactly what the President and the White House have told the American people from the beginning of the Democrats' fishing expedition.

With that news, the entire Democratic narrative of the past two years collapsed in an instant. Two major failures explain how the witch hunt spiraled out of Democrats' control:

Failure 1 was blatantly irresponsible reporting. In an effort to validate their own political instincts, the mainstream media abandoned all journalistic standards and repeatedly failed the American people by accepting wild speculation as fact. They smeared calls for due process and common-sense skepticism as political "gaslighting," rather than defending these basic principles of fairness and impartiality.

Real issues that affect Americans from coast to coast were put on the backburner as airways were flooded with false and endless "reporting" of retreaded conspiracy theories. The New York Times, The Washington Post, CNN, and MSNBC wrote a combined 8,507 articles citing Robert Mueller's investigation since May 2017—an average of nearly 13 articles every single day.

The New York Times published 644 more stories mentioning the Mueller investigation than they did mentioning NAFTA renegotiations. The Washington Post wrote 192 more stories mentioning Mueller than they did America's defeat of the Islamic State. And CNN produced a stunning 908 more stories about the investigation than they did about implementation of the biggest tax reform plan in American history.

Keep in mind, the vast majority of that was before Mueller had issued any report.

Failure 2 was Democrat recklessness. The left desperately tried to promote collusion conspiracies to rationalize their 2016 loss and sink Donald Trump's presidency.

Here's just a small sample of their comments—astonishing and inexcusable in light of Mueller's report:

- House Intelligence Committee Chairman Adam Schiff (D-CA) stated that there was "plenty evidence of collusion"—and of a scandal "of a size and scope probably beyond Watergate."
- House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jerry Nadler (D-NY) said he believed there "was obviously a lot of collusion."
- Maxine Waters (D-CA) said that she was praying for the investigation to "connect the dots so that he can prove the collusion."
- DNC Chairman Tom Perez repeatedly stated that there was a "mountain of evidence of collusion between the campaign and the Russians."
- Numerous House and Senate Democrats called for President Trump's impeachment long before the conclusion of the Special Counsel investigation.

"I love this country as much as I can love anything: my family, my country, my God. But what they did, it was a false narrative," President Trump said today. "We can never let this happen to another President again."

ZX04-434576-02_000240

There's no spinning it: Congressional Democrats, much of the mainstream media, and former Obama Administration officials peddled one of the greatest lies in American political history in a failed attempt to reverse the election of a President they simply don't like.

The real threat to our democracy was hiding in plain sight all along.

'Israel has never had a better friend than you'

President Trump welcomed Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to the White House this afternoon, building on America's friendship with the Jewish State and officially recognizing Israel's sovereignty over the Golan Heights.

"Today I am taking historic action to promote Israel's ability to defend itself and really to have a very powerful, very strong national security, which they're entitled to have," President Trump said before the signing the Proclamation today.

Recognizing Golan Heights as a part of the State of Israel is crucial to securing its future—especially protection from aggressive acts by Iran and terrorist groups such as Hezbollah. With today's signing, America sends a message that any future peace agreement in the Middle East must account for Israel's need to protect itself—no exceptions.

"Mr. President, over the years, Israel has been blessed to have many friends who sat in the Oval Office, but Israel has never had a better friend than you," Prime Minister Netanyahu said today.

"Democrats have been consumed for two years with a flimsy conspiracy theory aimed at delegitimizing a presidential election they lost," the Washington Examiner editorial board writes. "The results of the probe by special counsel Robert Mueller are a tremendous vindication for President Trump and the many millions of Americans who never doubted his innocence. The findings prove, once and for all time, that he won the 2016 election fair and square," Michael Goodwin writes in the New York Post. "No American — not a single one — took the Russian bait. And that includes every member of the Trump campaign."

"Press credibility has taken a hit," University of Tennessee Law Professor Glenn Harlan Reynolds writes in USA Today. "The news media chose to run with the Russia story, which quickly morphed from 'hacking' to the more nebulous 'collusion,' quite credulously. They did so because they wanted it to be true, because they hoped it would hurt Trump, whom the press almost universally despises, and because it was good for ratings and clicks."

Last week, President Trump "signed an executive order to authorize the denial of federal funds to colleges that suppress student free-speech rights," F.H. Buckley writes in the New York Post. Students who express conservative views on college campuses have been routinely denounced across the country —but no more, says President Trump. "The federal government awards billions to our universities; top schools get a billion apiece. That's going to stop, he said, if they don't honor free-speech rights."

In the Washington Examiner, Melissa Quinn reports that Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin and U.S. Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer will go to Beijing this week for continued high-level trade negotiations. Video of the day: ISIS, then and now

Just over two years ago, ISIS was considered one of the gravest threats to the future of the Middle East—and to the peace and security of the larger free world. Its captured territory stretched across 20,000 square miles from Iraq to Syria.

When President Donald J. Trump was sworn into office on January 20, 2017, it marked the beginning of the end for the self-declared caliphate.

Now, ISIS has been obliterated off the map—literally. “This is ISIS on Election Day,” the President said as he held up a side-by-side comparison yesterday. “And this is ISIS now.”

See for yourself: the ISIS caliphate two years ago vs. today

President Trump stands up for free speech on campus

“The past two weeks have been surreal,” Hayden Williams wrote earlier this month. “On Feb. 19, while recruiting conservative students on campus at the University of California-Berkeley, I was assaulted by a violent leftist. A little more than a week later, I got to shake hands with the president of the United States.”

President Trump invited Williams onstage during the President’s speech at CPAC 2019 on March 3. “There’s so many conservative students across the country who are facing discrimination, harassment, and worse, if they dare to speak up on campus,” Williams said.

This afternoon, President Trump signed an Executive Order to protect free speech at our colleges and universities. The order directs Federal agencies to ensure that public education institutions fulfill their obligations under the First Amendment—and that private schools comply with their stated institutional policies regarding free speech.

The Department of Education will also improve transparency in American higher education by expanding the data available on its College Scorecard. These metrics will better organize data on program-level earnings, debt, and student loan repayment rates, helping families make better decisions about postsecondary education.

By the numbers: The American dream is back

When the White House unveiled the 2019 Economic Report of the President this week, there was no shortage of good news to share:

- The economy outperformed expectations for the second year in a row in 2018.
- American GDP grew 3.1% from the 4th quarter of 2017 to the 4th quarter of 2018, the fastest such growth in 13 years.
- The unemployment rate remained at or below 4 percent for the past 12 months, the longest such streak in nearly five decades.
- More than 2.6 million jobs were created in 2018—and the number of job openings passed the number of unemployed workers for the first time on record.

“In everything we do and every action we take, we’re putting America first, and we are putting American workers first, for the first time in a long time,” the President told factory workers yesterday in Lima, Ohio.

The Day Ahead

President Donald J. Trump will meet with Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Jens Stoltenberg at the White House.

The community movement against 'sanctuary' laws

Sanctuary jurisdictions hinder Federal immigration enforcement. These jurisdictions often refuse even basic requests for information, such as notification to Federal officials before the release of dangerous criminals from custody. The consequences of such actions can be fatal.

California has passed statewide sanctuary policies that restrict cooperation between Federal immigration authorities and local law enforcement. Now, communities across the state have started coming out in opposition to the new laws. Many of these local leaders cite fidelity to the U.S. Constitution over California state law.

Yesterday, President Trump met with local officials who spoke first-hand about how these sanctuary policies jeopardize the safety of their communities. "Our people are the ones hurting," San Jacinto Mayor Crystal Ruiz said. "All of us need help getting this solved."

America, Uzbekistan, and a new era of partnership

President Trump hosted President Shavkat Mirziyoyev of Uzbekistan yesterday, marking President Mirziyoyev's historic first visit to the White House. The bilateral meeting ushers in a new era of strategic partnership between the two countries.

America has an important partnership with Uzbekistan in fighting terrorism. In the aftermath of the September 11 attacks on the United States, Uzbekistan provided crucial access and support to drive al Qaeda terrorists from Afghanistan. President Mirziyoyev reaffirmed his full support for President Trump's South Asia strategy yesterday, including the effort to bring stability to Afghanistan.

The two leaders also committed to exploring deeper economic ties. President Mirziyoyev pledged to open Uzbek markets for American companies and investors by introducing international standards of transparency. During the visit, Uzbekistan signed more than 20 major business deals with U.S. companies.

The White House Easter Egg Roll is a timeless tradition

Today, First Lady Melania Trump is hosting the 140th annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House's South Lawn. The White House Easter Egg Roll is a timeless tradition that dates back to 1878 and the Presidency of Rutherford B. Hayes.

For the lucky winners of a public lottery held in February, this year's festivities kicked off with a bright-and-early start at 7:30 a.m. They will continue well into this evening.

"On Easter Sunday, we proclaim with joy: 'Christ is Risen,'" President Trump said in a video message to commemorate the Easter and Passover holidays. "We praise our Heavenly Father for the blessings of freedom and the gift of eternal life."

Fighting reckless sanctuary policies

This week, President Trump used his weekly address to discuss the threat from lawless sanctuary jurisdictions in the United States—and to call upon Congress to act.

"In recent days, San Francisco officials denied ICE's request to turn over a criminal alien with a prior conviction for battery and a charge for driving under the influence," the President said. "In another city in California, local law enforcement recently denied ICE's request to turn over a criminal alien convicted of Sexual Battery who had a history of domestic violence."

The U.S. Constitution applies equally to every State in our Union. For any jurisdiction simply to disregard the rule of law is a brazen attack on our very system of government.

Infrastructure: What they're saying

When President Trump traveled to Richfield, Ohio, last week to talk about his plan to rebuild American infrastructure, leaders from both government and industry paid close attention:

- "With more Americans working and the future finally looking up, Congress will continue to work with @POTUS to lay the foundation for decades of continued prosperity." – House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy
- "The President is right. We must work together to update our failing roads & bridges." – Sen. Dean Heller (R-NV)
- "We need to reform the processes that are holding projects back." – Rep. Doug Lamborn (R-CO)
- "Like tax reform, a significant investment in our nation's infrastructure has the power to supercharge manufacturing in America." – National Association of Manufacturers President Jay Timmons

What to know about sanctuary cities

During President Donald J. Trump's visit to California yesterday to examine prototypes for a border wall with Mexico, he explained the danger of "sanctuary cities" that refuse to cooperate with lawful Federal immigration enforcement.

"California's sanctuary policies are illegal and unconstitutional and put the safety and security of our entire nation at risk," the President tweeted. "Thousands of dangerous & violent criminal aliens are released as a result of sanctuary policies."

A few important facts about sanctuary cities:

- When sanctuary city officials warn illegal aliens about possible upcoming enforcement activities, they allow criminals to prepare themselves—and thus endanger innocent bystanders.
- Sanctuary policies in California have allowed the release of numerous criminals charged with serious crimes who could continue to harm communities.
- If Immigration and Customs Enforcement officials cannot arrest criminals in the controlled environments of police stations or jails, they must perform these duties in workplaces, in residences, or on the streets.

Why cutting taxes is good for American workers

This afternoon, President Trump will pay a visit to St. Louis, Missouri, to tour a Boeing manufacturing plant before joining a roundtable with workers and executives from 10 Missouri companies. U.S. Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin will also participate in the discussion.

Boeing offers just one of hundreds of examples of business tax reform paying off for America's workers. After President Trump signed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act into law in December, the company announced it would invest about $600 million in its employees.

The Council of Economic Advisers recently explained why tax cuts have been so important for the U.S. economy: "Under the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, the shift away from worldwide taxation toward a territorial system ends the penalty on companies headquartered in the United States."

Learn more about the economics behind cutting taxes for American workers.

Human trafficking is an affront to human dignity

With millions affected worldwide, human trafficking is a global atrocity that deprives millions of their universal human rights. President Trump is taking a stand to stop it in its tracks.

"My Administration will focus on ending the absolutely horrific practice of human trafficking," the President said. "And I am prepared to bring the full force and weight of our government, whatever we can do, in order to solve this horrific problem."

This month, President Trump appointed nine human trafficking survivors to serve on the U.S. Advisory Council on Human Trafficking. And in light of the impending Senate vote on H.R. 1865—the FOSTA-SESTA legislative package designed to fight online sex trafficking—the Administration hosted a roundtable on human trafficking to discuss the path forward on this crucial issue.

President Trump and First Lady join leaders in America's war on drug abuse

This afternoon, President Donald J. Trump and First Lady Melania Trump addressed the Rx Drug Abuse and Heroin Summit in Atlanta, Georgia. The annual event brings together practitioners and stakeholders from the front lines of the war on drug abuse.

Past Presidents have attended the summit, but today President Trump was able to share evidence of real progress from his Administration's fight to end the opioid epidemic.

 Watch: President Trump says everyone united by same vital goal

The Trump Administration has unveiled numerous programs across the Government since President Trump launched his Initiative to Stop Opioid Abuse last year. Those efforts include securing $6 billion in funding, increasing law enforcement efforts through the Department of Justice, and signing the bipartisan SUPPORT Act into law.

Another crucial part of the President's plan is to cut off the flow of illicit drugs before they flood into our communities. The Department of Homeland Security recently seized 1.2 billion lethal doses of fentanyl over a single 12-month period—enough of the deadly drug to kill every American four times over. President Trump's efforts to secure our border and crack down on illegal distributors are drying up this lucrative drug supply.

The death toll from this "crisis next door" is nothing short of a national tragedy, but there are signs of progress from the Administration's massive push. In the President's first year in office, 68 percent fewer Americans over the age of 26 began using heroin than in the previous year. Meanwhile, U.S. Customs and Border Protection seizures of fentanyl alone are up 265 percent over the last two full fiscal years.

"We will not solve this epidemic overnight," the President told leaders in the fight against drug abuse today in Atlanta. But "we will never stop until our job is done."

The American car industry is back. Let's keep it that way.

This afternoon, Vice President Mike Pence traveled to the Ford Motor Company's Dearborn Truck Plant in Detroit, Michigan. It's the same factory town that has produced some of the most iconic Ford automobile lines in American history, from the Model A and Mustang to the newer F-150.

Today, the plant is home to some 7,500 employees—each one of them using innovative techniques to help develop America's next generation of cars.

"The automotive industry is the backbone of American manufacturing today," Vice President Pence told workers. "The [United States–Mexico–Canada trade agreement] will finally give workers the level playing field and be able to compete and win on a global stage as never before." The USMCA, which President Trump negotiated late last year, will replace NAFTA once it is approved by Congress.

Inside look at Ivanka Trump's 4-day Africa trip

Last week, Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump visited Ethiopia and Ivory Coast as part of a major push for women's economic empowerment across the developing world.

Two months ago, the Trump Administration launched the Women's Global Development and Prosperity Initiative, or W-GDP, in a first-of-its-kind move to boost women's participation and advancement in the global workforce. W-GDP seeks to reach 50 million women in the developing world by 2025.

"The economic empowerment of women shouldn't be viewed as a 'women's issue,'" Ms. Trump wrote then. "By investing in women, we are investing in a future in which countries can support themselves by unleashing the potential of their own people."

 Watch: Ivanka Trump's visit to Ethiopia

In Ethiopia, Ms. Trump addressed female leaders and entrepreneurs at the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, where she announced the launch of OPIC 2X Africa. In partnership with the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, this W-GDP initiative will help mobilize $1 billion to support projects led by women in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Part two of the trip took her to Ivory Coast, where the U.S. delegation announced a $2 million commitment to women workers in the cocoa industry. The investment will open more doors for female farmers by increasing access to capital and training programs. Ms. Trump met some of these entrepreneurs at a local cocoa farm.

Before heading home, Ms. Trump delivered a keynote address at the Women Entrepreneurs Finance Initiative (We-Fi) Summit. During President Trump's first year in office, America became a founding member of We-Fi, and in the organization's first year, it allocated $120 million toward projects that help female entrepreneurs globally.

"Societies that empower women to succeed are more peaceful and more prosperous. And this is evident in all the research that we see," Ms. Trump says.

Add $60+ billion for America under President Trump's new trade deal

One of President Trump's signature promises was to get America out of bad trade deals—and negotiate brand-new ones that finally benefit our great workers. Late last year, the President delivered on that pledge in a big way when he signed the U.S.–Mexico–Canada Trade Agreement (USMCA), replacing the outdated NAFTA.

The USMCA will make life better for American workers by "bringing back our manufacturing jobs, expanding American agriculture, protecting intellectual property, and ensuring that more cars are proudly stamped with four beautiful words: made in the USA," President Trump said during his second State of the Union Address.

A new report from the International Trade Commission backs the President up, explaining that the new agreement will add $68.2 billion to America's economy while creating 176,000 new jobs. "The agreement would likely have a positive impact on all broad industry sectors within the U.S. economy," the report says. "Manufacturing would experience the largest percentage gains in output, exports, wages, and employment."

The evidence is quickly making clear that USMCA will offer a bright future for the U.S. economy once Congress enacts it. The question now: How much longer will Washington make our workers wait?

Headlines: USMCA will boost economic growth and create jobs

White House Easter Egg Roll Rolls on for 141st Year

"The 141st White House Easter Egg Roll – and first lady Melania Trump's third – got underway on the South Lawn Monday," Maria Puente writes for USA Today.

"More than 30,000 people were expected to join President Trump for the annual rewind of one of the oldest White House traditions, aimed mostly at kids. The main event is the spectacle of children rolling hard-boiled eggs across the lawn, but the first lady introduced two new additions to the festivities: musical eggs and a game of hopscotch named for her 'Be Best' initiative to improve the well-being of American children."

"It has been clear from the start that the collusion probe has been a stand-in for policy; for the past two years it has been so much easier to attack President Trump on bogus charges of working with the Russians than to actually propose better ideas for moving the country forward," Liz Peek writes in Fox News. "Democrats face two problems. First, the country is increasingly crediting President Trump with buoyant job creation, higher productivity and wage gains. Second, their party is cracking apart, suffering a leadership vacuum and a surfeit of dissonant noise-makers hungry for attention."

"President Trump wants to exert 'maximum pressure' on Iran, which is why he is giving the sanctions screws another firm twist. Any country that imports Iranian oil will soon face U.S. penalties—with no exceptions," The Wall Street Journal editorial board writes. "The Trump Administration, to its credit, shows no signs of backing down. If Iran wants sanctions eased, it can stop spreading terror and renegotiate the nuclear deal."

"Last week, Sen. Bernie Sanders introduced a bill that would end health care as we know it, and Americans should thank him for letting us see where the Democrats want to take the country. Its central premise appears to be that Washington bureaucrats know better than patients and doctors," Director of the White House's Domestic Policy Council Joe Grogan writes in RealClearPolitics. "There are real problems to fix with U.S. healthcare, but the solutions should not include fewer choices for American patients."

" Hamas professes violence and the destruction of Israel as a method of gaining a better life for Palestinians. This 'defense' of Palestinians has led to the problems experienced today: a decimated economy, hundreds killed in violence each year and one of the highest unemployment rates in the world," U.S. Special Representative for International Negotiations Jason Greenblatt writes in The New York Times. " Hamas is to blame for Gaza's situation."

First Lady Melania Trump hosts the 141st White House Easter Egg Roll

Today, First Lady Melania Trump and President Donald J. Trump celebrated a time-honored Easter tradition by hosting the 141st White House Easter Egg Roll.

 Watch: First Lady reads to children at Easter Egg Roll

This year's festivities brought some new activities courtesy of Mrs. Trump, such as "musical eggs" and Be Best hopscotch—a nod to the First Lady's signature Be Best initiative. Another new addition allowed children to spread some Easter joy by mailing postcards to friends, family, or military service members directly through a U.S. Postal Service mailbox located on the grounds.

The White House Easter Egg Roll officially dates back to 1878 and the presidency of Rutherford B. Hayes, but first-hand accounts suggest that informal festivities began as early as the Abraham Lincoln Administration. Egg roll attendance grew so popular that the number of guests had to be limited, and in 1939, the Secret Service had to go so far as shutting down a "racket" of children trying to sneak adults into the event for a fee.

"I want to wish everybody a very Happy Easter," President Trump told families gathered on the South Lawn this morning. In all, more than 30,000 people were able to experience the rich tradition and fun of today's historic event.

President Trump: Bringing Iran's oil exports to zero

Iran is the world's leading state sponsor of terror, bankrolling terrorist organizations such as al-Qaeda, Hezbollah, Hamas, and the Taliban. The regime has long used oil revenues to support destabilizing activities and fund terrorist proxies all over the world.

President Trump took further action today to bring those crucial oil exports to zero, denying the regime in Tehran its principal source of revenue. The Trump Administration has decided not to reissue Significant Reduction Exceptions—in effect, temporary sanction waivers—when they expire in early May, putting even more pressure on Iran.

The United States, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates—three of the world's great energy producers—are working together to ensure global oil markets remain well-supplied as Iranian oil is removed from the picture. Energy forecasters expect global oil supply will keep pace with demand in 2019.

Top 10 Things the Media Got Wrong About 'Collusion' and 'Obstruction'

"The prestige press has some explaining to do — for subjecting the nation to a long, cruel ordeal named 'collusion' and 'obstruction,'" Sohrab Ahmari writes in the New York Post.

"All that remains of collusion and obstruction is the media's shattered credibility. The errant reporters and pundits — the ones who peddled the most outrageous falsehoods — want nothing more than to move on. But not so fast: There has to be some accountability for the biggest foul-ups."

"Over a century of Easter tradition will continue at the White House on Monday morning, where thousands are gathering for the annual Easter Egg Roll," Alejandro Alvarez reports for WTOP. "The White House's largest annual event is expected to bring more than 30,000 people to the South Lawn — including President Donald Trump, who is slated to join the celebration with First Lady Melania Trump later this morning alongside the Easter bunny."

"It's time for Democrats and the country to move past the Russia collusion narrative and for the media to fess up. If we are not going to respect the outcome of the Mueller report, then what was the point of the whole exercise?" writes former Bill Clinton adviser Mark Penn in The Hill. "The country deserves a Congress focused not on investigations but on issues such as health care, infrastructure and immigration."

"As more families enter the country illegally, it costs the U.S. Border Patrol more to take care of them," Anna Giaritelli reports for the Washington Examiner. "Agents apprehended 25,000 immigrants traveling as parts of families in southwestern Arizona over the past six months and expect to spend four times as much on food, baby products, and on-site medical care in 2019 as it did last year."

"In a responsible media environment, journalists who had been misled by their partisan sources for years would be clamoring to find out how the entire country could be plunged into a 22-month-long destabilizing investigation that amounted to nothing more than a now-debunked conspiracy theory."

The Mueller Report Just Left Egg on Democrats' Faces

-New York Post

"Trump's election is now the most verifiably legitimate election in history. No other campaign has endured the kind of scrutiny that the Trump team has withstood. For nearly two years, 19 lawyers and 40 investigators questioned some 500 witnesses worldwide. They issued 500 search warrants and 2,800 subpoenas," Abe Greenwald writes. "There was no underlying crime."

The Tax Cut that Keeps on Giving

"Another Tax Day is behind us, but negative media coverage of President Trump's signature tax-cut legislation continues," Heritage Foundation founder Ed Feulner writes. "Many reporters and pundits didn't even wait until the tax cut was signed into law in December 2017 to begin mischaracterizing it . . . A 2-year, $35 million witch hunt ends

This morning, after two years and $35 million of taxpayer money wasted, Special Counsel Robert Mueller's report concluded what President Donald J. Trump has told the American people from day one: There has been no collusion or obstruction of justice.

Attorney General William Barr addressed reporters this morning from the Department of Justice, explaining that he would transmit copies of a public version of the Special Counsel's report to Congress at 11 a.m. today. Furthermore, in the ultimate act of transparency, he announced that the Administration would make the report available to the general public through the Justice Department's own website.

 Watch: Attorney General Barr: No collusion. That's the bottom line.

"The Special Counsel found no evidence that any American—including anyone associated with the Trump campaign—conspired or coordinated with the Russian government" in its efforts to interfere with the 2016 election, the Attorney General said.

No collusion. No obstruction. Yet here is the time and effort it cost the United States Government, at the demand of Congressional Democrats, to reach that conclusion:

- 675 days—nearly 2 years—from when Mueller was appointed to when he produced his final report for Attorney General Barr
- 2,800+ subpoenas issued from the Special Counsel's office
- 500 witnesses interviewed
- Nearly 500 search warrants carried out
- More than 230 communications records demanded
- More than $35 million spent

Some on the left will still claim it wasn't enough. After years of unsubstantiated speculation—including from many in the mainstream media—the far left remains too committed to a false collusion narrative to let it go. But it is time for Americans across the political spectrum to come together and call on Congress to govern rather than obstruct.

"While many Democrats will cling to discredited allegations, the American people can be confident President Trump and I will continue to focus where we always have, on advancing an agenda that's making our nation stronger, safer, and more secure," Vice President Mike Pence said in a statement.

Today, the witch hunt is over. What Congressional Democrats choose to do now will define both Washington and Americans' faith in government for years to come. Will they continue to try to delegitimize a duly elected President, or will they at last work with him in good faith to deliver a positive agenda for middle- and working-class America?

President Trump hosts annual Wounded Warrior ride event at White House

At the White House, President Trump hosted wounded veterans today in honor of the annual Wounded Warrior Project Soldier Ride.

The Soldier Ride is a multi-day, rehabilitative bicycle ride for veterans and wounded service members. And for the past decade, a number of these wounded warriors have been invited to the White House to meet the President during the event.

"Their legacy of service is a gift to every single American. Through their example, we witness the daily triumph of the human spirit and the unmatched valor of the American patriot," President Trump said today, surrounded by these national heroes.

"Each of you is a living testament to the outstanding determination, persistence, and patriotism that made this the greatest nation ever to exist on the face

Mueller Probe Was a Waste of Time and Money – No Collusion, No Obstruction

"As partisan Democrats and the liberal media hyperventilate over Attorney General William Barr's release of Special Counsel Robert Mueller's report Thursday, they're willfully ignoring the fact that they already know what the report concludes: Two years and $35 million was spent investigating a lie," David Bossie writes in Fox News.

"The report finally puts to bed the main allegation that the left has been consumed with for nearly three years. Much to their chagrin, the lie that they pushed for the entire Trump presidency has been completely dismissed by Mueller."

If one number encapsulates the historic economic turnaround under President Trump, it's this: "7.1 million unfilled jobs," Heritage Foundation Senior Fellow Stephen Moore writes in the Boston Herald. "The irony of all this is that at the very moment the left wants to institute a 'guaranteed livable income' for every American, Trump is doing that and more by making sure that every last American who wants one can get a job."

Yesterday, Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump spoke at the Women Entrepreneurs Financial Initiative (WeFi) summit in Ivory Coast—the last stop on her four-day tour of Africa, Esha Sarai reports in VOA News. The goal of the trip was promoting the Women's Global Development and Prosperity Initiative, a $50 million project launched by President Trump in February to encourage women's economic empowerment in developing countries.

"Retired FDNY firefighter Jim Riches, whose son Jimmy was murdered on 9/11, blasted Minnesota Democratic Rep. Ilhan Omar Tuesday night for explaining the attack as 'some people did something.' He demanded an apology from the Democratic congresswoman while panning New York Democrats for defending her," Kerry Picket reports in The Daily Caller. "Donald Trump is 100 percent right," Riches said.

"Rep. Rashida Tlaib (D., Mich.) urged her supporters to join her in a hunger strike to push for action to 'shut down' U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), arguing the radical push to abolish ICE can't be achieved by Congress," Brent Scher reports for The Washington Free Beacon. "Tlaib, headlining a Detroit fundraiser this past weekend for the Michigan Coalition for Human Rights, complained of colleagues who are constantly 'policing' what she says and lack willingness to embrace bold stands such as abolishing ICE."

Lifting up poor communities—the conservative way

These past few weeks, millions of Americans filed their taxes and discovered that President Donald J. Trump delivered on his promise to lower their tax bills for 2018 and beyond. But tax reform was a conservative policy breakthrough for more reasons than meet the eye on first glance.

Today, President Trump brought State and local leaders from both parties together at the White House for a conference on “Opportunity Zones”—a signature piece of his 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Rather than spending more money on yet another government program or Washington bureaucracy, Opportunity Zones offer tax incentives for long-term investment in more than 8,760 low-income communities throughout America.

“Across the country, our tax cuts have kicked off a race to invest in Opportunity Zones, beyond anything that anyone in this room even thought,” President Trump said today.

Opportunity Zones are a powerful vehicle for bringing economic growth and job creation to the American communities that need them the most. The census tracts eligible for the program were chosen by Governors, then certified by the U.S. Department of the Treasury. All told, the program is anticipated to spur $100 billion in private capital investment.

“Nearly 35 million people live in Opportunity Zones . . . and will now have a pathway to financial success due to a single stroke of a pen. I want to thank the President for that,” Housing and Urban Development Secretary Ben Carson said today.

The core of President Trump’s economic agenda is lifting up the forgotten men and women of America. Through a mix of traditional Republican policies, such as tax cuts and deregulation, along with tough negotiating on trade deals and strong border security, wages for blue-collar workers are taking off even more quickly than they are for higher-income Americans. That’s a huge win toward a fairer, sturdier economy.

Opportunity Zones build on that success, applying conservative principles to help the most distressed communities across our country. For years, liberal politicians have given lip service to building up these places, only to spend more taxpayer money with little to show for it. Once again, President Trump is shaking up the status quo by having Washington put American citizens before its own self-interest.

When you live near the border, the crisis is real

From the cozy confines of the Beltway, Congressional Democrats continue to tell Americans that the border emergency is nothing more than a “manufactured crisis.” But that’s vintage Washington: a tone-deaf lecture circuit that ignores the very real problems people face in their own backyards.

Just yesterday, Mayor Douglas Nicholls of Yuma, Arizona, declared a local emergency in his city caused by the ongoing surge of illegal immigration. His community is quickly becoming overwhelmed, he explained, because detainees are “being released into the community faster than they are departing, and shelters and the staff to run them are at max capacity.”

Yuma is not the only place facing a crisis—far from it. Just last week, U.S. Border Patrol reported that the El Paso Police Department in Texas is “now having to use their resources to help with the migrants that enter into the city illegally,” Christina Aguayo reports for KVIA.

Strong Jobs Market Spurs Bigger Salary Offers

"Americans still think plenty of jobs are available and companies are offering better pay as they compete for a shrinking pool of available labor, new study by the New York Federal Reserve shows," Jeffry Bartash reports in MarketWatch.

"The Fed study is the latest proof the jobs market continues to sizzle. The rate of layoffs each week — known as jobless claims — fell below 200,000 earlier this month for the first time since 1969. The economy also added almost 200,000 new jobs in March after a feeble 33,000 gain in February, keeping the unemployment rate at 3.8%."

"President Obama used to stir Americans with his powerful calls for national unity. It looks like he has, after all these years, finally forged agreement among leaders in both parties that his health care law made things worse and should be replaced. Bipartisanship blooms in Washington," Scott Jennings writes in the Courier-Journal. "Voters in both parties know they were duped by Obama's health care promises. Private insurance customers saw their premiums and deductibles jump to pay for someone else's health care, but not their own."

"How's this for unexpected irony: As New York pols move to choke their own economy by nixing new natural-gas supplies, President Trump is racing to the rescue," the New York Post editorial board writes. "Trump last week signed two executive orders to help ease the way for new oil and gas pipelines and other energy projects. One, seemingly aimed squarely at New York, requires the Environmental Protection Agency to look for ways to make it harder for states to use the Clean Water Act to block pipelines"—a common tactic of Gov. Andrew Cuomo (D-NY), the editors add.

"An Arizona mayor on Tuesday declared an emergency in the city he represents due to what he said was the strain caused by the incoming flow of migrants," Elizabeth Zwirz reports for Fox News. "Yuma Mayor Douglas Nicholls shared the news on Facebook, explaining that he 'proclaimed a local emergency' in the city 'due to the migrant family releases overwhelming the local shelter system.'"

First Lady Melania Trump and Second Lady Karen Pence honor our Armed Forces

Yesterday morning, First Lady Melania Trump and Second Lady Karen Pence traveled to Fort Bragg, North Carolina, to meet with members of our incredible United States Armed Forces and their families.

"Our nation's military service members and their families deserve our care and respect," the Second Lady said before the trip. "I am always honored to have the opportunity to spend time with those who serve and work tirelessly to protect our freedoms."

Upon arrival, Mrs. Trump and Mrs. Pence were greeted by several Generals and their spouses, including Commanding General Michael Garrett of the U.S. Army Forces Command and his wife. From there, Mrs. Trump and Mrs. Pence had an opportunity to witness elite capability demonstrations from members of the Army Special Operations.

The behind-the-scenes visit was "incredibly impactful," the First Lady said. "The United States Military is a national treasure . . . Thank you to Fort Bragg for welcoming us and letting us inside this tight-knit and admirable community of true heroes."

In honor of April as the Month of the Military Child, Mrs. Trump and Mrs. Pence also visited a student assembly at Albritton Middle School on Fort Bragg. After the school's chorus performed a welcoming song, the First Lady and Second Lady took questions from the student body.

Notre Dame: A symbol of faith around the world

For nearly 1,000 years, the Cathedral of Notre Dame has stood as a spiritual home for millions. Yesterday, Americans joined the French in watching with shock and sadness as a devastating fire caused significant damage to this architectural masterpiece.

On behalf of the American people, President Donald J. Trump offered his sincere condolences this morning to President Emmanuel Macron of France. Members of the Trump Administration joined the President in offering heartfelt thanks to the first responders and unity with the people of Paris.

Vice President Mike Pence called the Notre Dame "an iconic symbol of faith to people all over the world," adding that "it is heartbreaking to see a house of God in flames."

France remains the oldest ally of the United States. On September 12, 2001, the Notre Dame's bells rang in solemn recognition of the previous day's unprecedented attacks on American soil. We will never forget. Soon those bells will ring again—and America will do everything it can to help France restore this irreplaceable symbol of hope.

The Tax Cut that Keeps on Giving

"Another Tax Day is behind us, but negative media coverage of President Trump's signature tax-cut legislation continues," former Heritage Foundation President and founder Ed Feulner writes in The Washington Times.

"Many reporters and pundits didn't even wait until the tax cut was signed into law in December 2017 to begin mischaracterizing it," he writes. "Never mind that the real-world experience of most Americans in the wake of these articles contradicted these gloom-and-doom predictions . . . Unemployment is way down, with jobless claims at their lowest since 1969, thanks in large part to the tax cut. There's something you don't hear on CNN and other media outlets."

"As we pass the 100-day mark of Democratic control of the House of Representatives in the 116th Congress, now is a good opportunity to examine what the American people have to show for it. "From ignoring the humanitarian crisis at the border to championing an impeachment resolution, it has been one exercise in out-of-touch politics after another."

"It is high time that Democrat leaders, secure in their walled estates and derisive of the president's efforts to restore order along our southern border, share the responsibility of supporting and caring for the crowds of undocumented people overwhelming our facilities in Texas, New Mexico and elsewhere," Liz Peek writes in Fox News. "For months Democrats have denied the emergency at our border, denounced the president for politicizing a 'manufactured crisis' and dismissed border patrol professionals who advocate for barriers that might help control the surge. They have steadfastly refused to pass any measures that might alleviate the problem."

"We can and we must address these barriers to women's equality and countries' prosperity," Ms. Trump said.

Happy Tax Cut Day from President Trump!

April 15 is a date Americans often dread. But this year, as millions of families finished filing their taxes, most were in for a pleasant surprise: a much lower bill from Uncle Sam.

Today marks the first “Tax Day” under President Donald J. Trump’s new, simplified tax code. “When government loosens its grip, there is no summit we cannot reach,” the President said before the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act passed into law in 2017. He promised that historic tax cuts would “breathe new life into the American economy.”

He was right. Here are some of the big wins for working families under the new code:

- A doubled Child Tax Credit—from $1,000 to $2,000 per child
- A nearly doubled Standard Deduction
- More than $2,000 in savings for an average family of four earning $75,000
- $5.5 trillion in total tax cuts, nearly 60 percent of which goes to families

Just as important, President Trump fixed the business tax code to put American companies—and our workers—on a level playing field with the rest of the world. In addition to lowering our sky-high statutory corporate tax rate, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act also allowed businesses to immediately deduct expenses to invest in growing their companies.

America is open for business again as a result of those reforms:

- Real GDP growth hit 3 percent recently for the first time since 2005
- Half a trillion dollars in investment poured back into the U.S. in 2018 alone
- For the first time ever, there are more job openings than unemployed workers
- Small business optimism soared to a record high in 2018

A few of the best tax cut myths

Congressional Democrats have had a rough year in making predictions, to say the least. Fortunately, when it comes to tax cuts, there’s plenty of real evidence to counter the political spin and deception being thrown at President Trump.

Here are just a few of the best examples:

- “This is Armageddon,” then-House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) said on the tax cut bill. “It is the end of the world.” Fact check: We’re all still here.
- Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-NY) claimed that “what has been sold as a job creator and wage booster will, of course, do little of either.” In the first 3 months of 2018, nominal hourly pay for workers grew at its fastest rate in at least a decade.
- Clinton Administration economist Larry Summers boldly proclaimed that about 10,000 people would die every year from tax reform if passed into law.

One after another, Democrats lined up to make increasingly unhinged claims about something as simple as reforming America’s tax code. None of it was grounded in fact; all of it was built on hysteria. But once again, President Trump challenged the do-nothing status quo of Washington, and once again, his promises proved to be exactly right.

ZX04-434576-02_000276

“The vast majority of people did get a tax cut,” tax expert Nathan Rigney told The New York Times this week. That’s actually been clear all along, he said —“just now we have real data to back that up.”

Rep. Kevin Brady: Democrats, as usual, were wrong on Trump’s tax cuts

Video of the Day

This afternoon, President Trump visited with small business owners in Minnesota to discuss the impact of tax cuts on their companies. “Today I am proud to announce . . . that we’ll be offering 401(k)s to all of our employees tomorrow,” said Carlos Gazitua, president of Sergio’s Family Restaurants.

“We are doing what the tax cuts were meant to do as a small business to compete against big business: invest in our people, invest in growth.”

Democrats, As Usual, Were Wrong on Trump's Tax Cuts

For Tax Day, "let's look back at the predictions that were made when President Donald Trump signed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act around Christmas 2017," Rep. Kevin Brady (R-TX) writes in Fox News.

"Then-House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi infamously predicted 'Armageddon' for America." Liberal economist-turned-columnist Paul Krugman guaranteed a "global recession, with no end in sight." They were dead wrong, of course, but that hasn't stopped the false claims from spreading—even today.

"As Americans file their taxes this April, they might be in for a surprise: Most Americans got a tax cut last year," Adam Michel writes in The Daily Signal. "Americans don't just benefit from the lower taxes. They benefit a second time from higher wages generated by a faster-growing economy. Lower taxes for businesses and individuals help fuel more investment and innovation, which means more jobs and higher wages."

"Americans just finished filing their taxes for 2018. And this is the first year that the benefits of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) have been improving the lives of our citizens. In fact, we are pleased to report that we have experienced a year of more jobs, bigger paychecks, increased business investment and lower tax liability," Secretary of the Treasury Steven Mnuchin writes.

"Predicting what history will decide was significant is always dicey. But in the context of our fractured nation and the nonstop Washington tumult since 2016, events in the last three weeks have been nothing short of remarkable," Michael Goodwin writes in the New York Post. "Against an enormous army of antagonists, political and cultural, academic and judicial, Donald Trump is enjoying some of the best days of his presidency."

In The Hill, family business owner Rebecca Boenigk writes that until recently, the tax code was holding her business back. "For a small manufacturer like us, it was clear it was broken for decades. American job creators were due for a complete overhaul . . . After years of falling behind, Washington got serious about strengthening the American economy and enacted a tax plan in 2017 that levels the playing field for American businesses by encouraging investments and job creation in the U.S."

"Last month's stellar jobs report, which includes 196,000 new jobs and a 3.8% unemployment rate, cemented the longest streak of consecutive American job growth. This is thanks to pro-growth tax cuts and a bold regulatory agenda championed by President Donald Trump and Senate Republicans," Senators Todd Young (R-IN) & Mike Braun (R-IN) write in The Journal Gazette.

"Tax Day is always bad because Americans are overtaxed. But this Tax Day, we can celebrate the fact that an overwhelming majority of people are being taxed less, thanks to the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, which Republicans passed in late 2017," the Washington Examiner editorial board writes. "There was a deliberate attempt to trick the public into believing the bill was a middle-class tax increase . . . [but] no fewer than four out of every five taxpayers saw a reduction thanks to the law."

"The Obama administration's Department of Homeland Security Secretary Jeh Johnson said Thursday on Fox & Friends that the influx of immigrant caravans at the Mexico border was 'a crisis by any measure,'" Jeffrey Cimmino reports in The Washington Free Beacon. "It requires a change in law," Johnson said, calling for a bipartisan solution. A number of prominent Democrats continue to downplay the crisis, Cimmino writes.

U.S. weekly jobless claims dropped to a near 50-year low last week, pointing to continued market strength, Reuters reports. "Initial claims for state unemployment benefits fell 8,000 to a seasonally adjusted 196,000 for the week ended April 6, the lowest level since early October 1969. Claims have now declined for four straight weeks."

America stands with Venezuelans. The UN must do the same.

Yesterday, Vice President Mike Pence traveled to New York City to represent President Donald J. Trump and the United States before a Special Session of the United Nations Security Council on the crisis in Venezuela.

"For six long years, the people of Venezuela have suffered under the heavy hand of oppression," the Vice President told the Security Council. "The United Nations and this Security Council have refused to act."

 Watch: Vice President Pence calls out Maduro's "Ambassador"

America's message was clear: "This body should revoke the credentials of Venezuela's representative to the United Nations, recognize Interim President Juan Guaido, and seat the representative of the free Venezuelan government in this body without delay," Vice President Pence continued.

Maduro's socialist dictatorship has turned Venezuela, once one of the wealthiest countries in the Western Hemisphere, into a tragic scene of deprivation. The economy has shrunk by nearly half, leaving 9 out of 10 Venezuelans in poverty. The average citizen there has lost more than 20 pounds from malnutrition, including thousands of children who continue to face starvation.

In the midst of this suffering, Maduro has lent no helping hand—just the opposite. When America and its allies sent crucial aid to Venezuela's people, Maduro's henchmen blocked and literally burned it, committing violence against any who opposed them. In just 3 months, the regime has thrown more than 1,200 people in jail without due process. At least 40 protesters have been killed.

"There can be no bystanders to this history," Vice President Pence warned. "For the peace and security of our hemisphere, the world and the United Nations must stand with the people of Venezuela."

With that, the Vice President turned to Maduro's representative before the Security Council. "With all due respect, Mr. Ambassador, you shouldn't be here. You should return to Venezuela and tell Nicolas Maduro that his time is up. It's time for him to go."

President Trump honors WWII veterans

Last summer, when President Trump spoke at the Veterans of Foreign Wars annual convention, he welcomed World War II veteran Allen Jones to join him onstage. "Mr. President, I want to ask you something," Sergeant Jones said.

"I'm going to be 95 years of age April 11th of next year. Hopefully, that you will allow me to bring my family into the Oval Office to meet you." President Trump readily agreed, telling Sergeant Jones he was welcome anytime.

Today, Sergeant Jones got his wish, spending his 95th birthday at the White House with his family. President Trump welcomed three more World War II veterans and their families along with him—each with their own unique story of service and sacrifice.

- Sidney Walton, a former Army veteran, has been traveling the country on a "No Regrets Tour," reminding Americans of the sacrifice WWII veterans made to save this country.
- Floyd Wigfield didn't hesitate to serve after the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941, enlisting in the U.S. Army. On June 6, 1944, he and his fellow soldiers of Company G landed on Utah Beach in what became known as "D-Day."
- Paul Kriner joined the Army at age 24 and fought Axis forces in Italy. Years later, when our Nation was plunged into another war—this time in Korea—he didn't hesitate to serve again. At 103 years old, Kriner still proudly tells his story.

The Fraying Edges of Universal Health Care

"If you're wondering what Democrats have in mind when they tout 'Medicare For All,' look no further than England. There are more reports of the U.K.'s National Health System's collapse, this time featuring horror stories of rationing care for the elderly," Tammy Bruce writes in The Washington Times.

When health insurance is completely controlled by the government, it "isn't about who gets health care, it's about who doesn't. It is the ultimate in population control."

The "Medicare for All" bill "seeks utopia by giving government centralized power and control over every aspect of medicine via a single-payer model, and comes with an astronomical price tag. The cost in dollars is in the trillions, but there is also another, hidden cost: the elimination of the conscience rights of nurses and doctors," Dr. Grazie Pozo Christie writes in The Hill.

"How pathetic: A member of Congress can't acknowledge what happened on one of the most horrific days in US history," the New York Post editorial board writes. On March 23, Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-MN) said the Council on American-Islamic Relations "was founded after 9/11 because they recognized that some people did something, and [Muslims] were starting to lose access to our civil liberties." The editors don't mince words: "Some people did something? Wow. What a way to describe the heinous surprise attack on America that claimed 3,000 lives."

"What Congresswoman Ilhan Omar said about Sept. 11 was disgraceful," former Deputy Chief of the New York City Fire Department Jim Riches writes in the New York Post. "She dismissed thousands of people being murdered like it was an everyday occurrence when she said 'some people did something.' On 9/11/01 my son, firefighter Jimmy Riches was murdered along with close to 3,000 American citizens by Muslim terrorists."

"President Donald Trump signed a pair of executive orders aimed at speeding up oil and gas pipeline permitting, including limiting the ability of activists and states to block key energy projects," Michael Bastasch reports for The Daily Caller. "President [Barack] Obama lamented the lack of shovel-ready jobs; President Trump is going straight to the operating engineers who will build our infrastructure to show how he will clean out the stables and make America stronger," said Dan Kish, senior fellow at the Institute for Energy Research.

"William Barr knew he wasn't accepting easy duty as Donald Trump's Attorney General, and it's no surprise that the Democratic-media complex attacked him in unison on Wednesday. His sin was disclosing that he wants to find out how the FBI came to eavesdrop on the 2016 Trump presidential campaign," The Wall Street Journal editorial board writes. "All of this should be encouraging to Americans who want credibility restored to an FBI that lost its ethical bearings under James Comey."

Subject: A $32 trillion, socialist takeover of your healthcare
Date: Wed, 10 Apr 2019 22:20:00 +0000

A $32 trillion, socialist takeover of your healthcare

"If you like your insurance plan, you will keep it. No one will be able to take that away from you. It hasn't happened yet. It won't happen in the future."

In April 2010, former President Barack Obama famously promised Americans that his government overhaul of U.S. healthcare wouldn't burden their families: They could keep their plans, keep their doctors, and expect to see large savings in their premiums.

Those all proved to be lies. Nearly 5 million Americans were told their healthcare plans were going to be canceled in the first year of Obamacare. Average individual market premiums more than doubled from 2013 to 2017. Average premiums on the Federal exchange rose by $2,600 from 2016 to 2017 alone. And even President Obama himself later admitted that families would have to "make choices" to keep their doctors.

Congressional Democrats lied to the American people about healthcare once. Now, they're prepared to do it again.

Today, self-proclaimed socialist Sen. Bernie Sanders proposed a total government takeover of American healthcare. Less than a decade after Obamacare was passed, Congressional Democrats are lining up behind this radical vision—a stunning admission of Obamacare's continued failure to deliver on its core promises to working families.

"Medicare for All" is what Democrats call the new plan. It's a big, messy proposal, but here are the three things that every citizen should know about what it would do:

1. End private insurance as we know it. The core of the Medicare-for-All scheme is to force nearly 180 million Americans with private health insurance onto government-run plans. Families would face the threat of losing their doctors and, indeed, any choice at all in their health care decisions.
2. Seniors pay the price. America's seniors have been paying their whole lives into a system that promised to take care of them in their old age. But as seen in European single-payer systems, "Medicare for all" will likely lead to less care for seniors and longer wait times. Twenty million Americans would lose their Medicare Advantage Plans.
3. Cost $32 trillion. Who pays the exorbitant price tag? Working families. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, the tax increases would lower household incomes by $17,000 annually after taxes and healthcare expenditures.

Democrats are right that Americans need relief from Obamacare. They are wrong that doubling down on its worst mistakes will make our country stronger. No plan that hurts seniors, kicks 180 million Americans off their health plans, and burdens future generations with unprecedented debt is acceptable. Instead, the Trump Administration is working on realistic solutions to provide Americans with the options they want, the affordability they need, and the quality they deserve.

The war on American energy is over

President Trump traveled to Houston today, where he signed two important executive orders to continue the revival of American energy dominance.

Under the Obama Administration, America had no shortage of energy supply but a huge shortage of the political will to become the world's energy leader. Instead, crippling regulations stifled production and stalled projects—with the brunt of the pain felt by the workers who lost jobs and the families who were denied affordable electricity and gasoline.

President Trump took office with a commitment to responsibly develop our abundant resources and put American energy back on top globally. Now, just two years into his Administration, the United States is the number one producer of oil and natural gas on Earth.

Today's actions continue this upward path by clearing the way for energy infrastructure development. The first order will speed up the approval process for vital energy projects—oil pipelines, roads, and railways—that were frequently blocked by entrenched bureaucrats. The second modernizes outdated regulations for liquefied natural gas export terminals, opening markets for American energy around the globe.

Democrats' Open Border Fantasy Vision is a Lie – We Have a Humanitarian Crisis to Fix

"The dramatically worsening crisis at the border – the unfolding humanitarian disaster and utter breakdown of any semblance of the rule of law – is the inevitable result of the open borders agenda of the political class in Washington," Brett Velicovich writes in Fox News.

"Right now, we're getting a real picture of what open borders looks like: an unbridled flood of humanity that our hamstrung law enforcement officers are powerless to stop."

President Donald J. Trump travels to Houston, Texas, today to announce executive orders aimed at speeding up pipeline and other energy projects and expanding American energy production, James Osborne writes in the Houston Chronicle. "With U.S. crude oil production -- now at more than 12 million barrels a day -- surpassing both Saudi Arabia and Russia, it has provided the administration more leeway in targeting sanctions at oil producers such as Iran and Venezuela without fearing a spike in oil prices."

"Law enforcement agents apprehended or turned back 103,492 migrants attempting to reach the U.S. southern border in March, marking the highest month in 12 years," Jason Hopkins writes in The Daily Caller. "'The Border Patrol is facing an unprecedented humanitarian and border security crisis,' Brian Hastings, Border Patrol's chief of law enforcement operations, told reporters Tuesday. 'We've arrived at the breaking point.'"

"The collusion lie will go down in history as one of the strangest distortions of reality to dominate the American political scene. For more than two years, the national establishment and news media were fixated on a 'truth' that turned out to be false," former Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich writes in Fox News. Consider the volume of fake news coverage: "The New York Times, The Washington Post, CNN, and MSNBC combined published 8,507 articles citing Mueller's investigation since May 2017 – nearly 13 articles every single day."

"A northern Texas sheriff says his county has seen a big uptick in methamphetamine and heroin seizures since October, saying Mexican drug smugglers are using large groups of migrants to divert Border Patrol's attention while they run narcotics over the border in nearby areas," Anna Giaritelli writes for the Washington Examiner.

The world's worst immigration laws

Time and again, President Donald J. Trump has warned that America's immigration and border security systems are outdated and at risk of being overwhelmed. Today, nearly 3 years after he first issued a call to action, that is exactly what is happening.

The problem begins with a broken patchwork of immigration loopholes and opportunistic court rulings, which President Trump has asked Congress to help him fix for more than a year. The situation only grows worse by the day. "A liberal activist judge in San Francisco ruled the United States and Mexico can't work together to address asylum issues at the border," Press Secretary Sarah Sanders wrote this morning.

Congress chose not to act. So President Trump alone must address the consequences.

In March, U.S. Customs and Border Protection agents were involved in more than 100,000 border enforcement actions—the highest number for any single month in more than a decade. For context, that figure is up more than 500 percent since March 2017.

Behind these numbers is a new story and a new problem. In the past, a large majority of illegal immigrants were single adult males from Mexico who could be returned across the border quickly. Today, the surge comes from "asylum seekers" from Central America, many of whom are coached by smugglers on how to exploit America's generous system for refugees.

The predictable result is a meltdown at our border, as law enforcement resources and personnel are diverted from core responsibilities and stretched far beyond capacity.

On Friday, President Trump got a firsthand look at the emergency on our border. There's no way to prepare for "the amount of people, 'family units,' and children, and now organized caravans that are coming across this border today," Gloria Chavez, Chief Patrol Agent of the El Centro Sector, told him. "Our agents are being stretched in so many different directions."

All of this can be fixed by Congress committing to immigration principles that a large majority of Americans agree with. But for now, it is up to President Trump to enforce our laws and close the gaps in our porous border.

"It's sad that Mexico is now doing more to secure our border than Democrats," Press Secretary Sanders writes. "President Trump will do whatever it takes to keep Americans safe."

Real reform for American taxpayers

When tax reform was being debated in Washington two years ago, President Trump had a non-negotiable priority: giving working families a fair shake. Because of this commitment, Americans are seeing welcome changes when filing their tax returns this year.

One of those changes is a doubled child tax credit. When parents check that box this year, they'll notice the credit has jumped from $1,000 to $2,000—per child.

 Watch: Ivanka Trump on the new doubled child tax credit

Since its passage, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act has helped millions of Americans receive bonuses, wage increases, and other important benefits. With 2019 Tax Day almost here, Americans are beginning to see the full weight of the reform that's been delivered.

A Serious Blow to Iran's Terror Specialists

"In a bold step, President Trump has formally designated Iran's Revolutionary Guard a terrorist organization — a move that carries serious financial implications for Tehran and lengthy prison terms for those who provide material support," the New York Post editorial board writes. These sanctions are "vital to addressing the key elements that were deliberately omitted from the Obama nuke deal: Iran's missile program and its fomenting of global terror."

"As the president promised, withdrawing from that agreement was just one step in ratcheting up the pressure on Tehran. This is another critical step in that direction."

"The Trump administration has served the Iranian people and the cause of truth by dubbing the Iranian Revolutionary Guard Corps a terrorist group," the Washington Examiner editorial board writes. "The IRGC uses violence and economic leverage to achieve authoritarian ends. Calling them terrorists is salutary candor. The designation also serves the cause of peace."

"The left-wing media will never learn to tell the truth. That was reinforced when we learned that even though special counsel Robert Mueller's cleared President Trump of false claims against him, many in the media energetically spun the report in a way that perpetuated their anti-Trump narrative of the last two years," Rep. Andy Biggs (R-AZ) writes in the Washington Examiner.

"The left and its compliant media are willfully reporting false news to the American people," the Boston Herald editorial board writes. Over the weekend, many media figures helped amplify a tweet that falsely claimed the President referred to migrants as "animals," when in truth he was talking about the murderous MS-13 gang. "Americans can tweet what they want. Reputable media personnel, however, are entrusted to be the conveyors of truth . . . Those in media who propagated this toxic lie should be fired."

"A national security and humanitarian crisis exists at the U.S.-Mexico border — but, for Democrats, it is not critical enough to join with Republicans to fix broken border control and immigration systems," Bradley Blakeman writes in The Hill. "Instead of seeking compromise and solutions, Democrats seek to thwart the law and give more attention, aid and comfort to illegals than citizens. 'Sanctuary cities' and providing social services have only encouraged illegal immigration, overburdened local governments, and prevented Americans from enjoying the benefits of services they pay for but cannot access."

President Trump takes action today on Iran

The Iranian regime continues to lead a campaign of terrorism around the world. Today, President Donald J. Trump took historic action to confront the Iranian threat by designating the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) as a Foreign Terrorist Organization.

The President explained in an official statement that this unprecedented step “recognizes the reality that Iran is not only a State Sponsor of Terrorism, but that the IRGC actively participates in, finances, and promotes terrorism as a tool of statecraft.”

That designation marks the first time America has labeled part of another government a terrorist organization. “It underscores the fact that Iran’s actions are fundamentally different from those of other governments. This action will significantly expand the scope and scale of our maximum pressure on the Iranian regime,” President Trump says.

For years, Iran has actively employed terrorism as a central tool in its foreign policy. The head of that snake has been the IRGC. Today, the regime in Tehran remains the world’s leading state sponsor of terror, funneling nearly a billion dollars each year toward radical groups such as Hezbollah, Hamas, and Palestinian Islamic Jihad.

Since his earliest days in office, President Trump has worked to counter the regime’s malign activities and ensure that it never gets its hands on a nuclear weapon.

Withdrawing from the Obama Administration’s unacceptable Iran deal was a key step toward that end. The Iran agreement represented a categorical failure in American diplomacy, lifting crucial sanctions on Iran and thus providing it with the revenue stream needed to fund even more terrorist activities.

Now, those sanctions are back—coupled with even tougher ones. Today’s action ends the era of plausible deniability for Iran and sends a clear message that their support for terrorism has serious consequences. It also lets the rest of the world know where the United States stands in no uncertain terms.

Video of the day: President Trump visits the border wall

On Friday, President Trump traveled to Calexico, California, to see the first completed section of the new wall along the U.S.–Mexico border. The newly-constructed 30-foot bollard wall replaces a barrier made of surplus corrugated steel landing mats from the Vietnam War.

The visit also allowed the President to hear directly from individuals who work to keep America safe every day. They understand this growing border crisis better than any politician. And one thing that President Trump hears from border officials on the ground time and time again: The new barrier is exactly what they need.

“We’re very appreciative of this wall,” Gloria Chavez, Chief Patrol Agent of the El Centro Sector, told President Trump. “These men and women, out here in this area of two miles, were experiencing a high number of assaults and use-of-force incidents.”

Since the new border wall has gone up, those assault incidents have plunged by 65 percent, she added. “In these two miles, just illegal entries alone have dropped by 75 percent.”

How President Trump's Border Policies Are Boosting Wage Growth

"The left won't admit it, but Friday's employment report is yet more proof that President Trump's policies have achieved in a little more than one year something progressive politicians have been championing for nearly forever: a fairly significant increase in the federal minimum wage," Charles Gasparino writes in the New York Post. "Trump hasn't officially agreed to raise the federal minimum wage above its current level of $7.25 an hour, but then again, he doesn't have to. His policies are doing it all for him — including restricting illegal immigration."

"The numbers don't lie: The double whammy of lower taxes and a decline in the importing of low-wage illegal workers is making life better for the blue collar."

"Even the media finally admit there's a crisis at our southern border and that Mexico is moving to address it. We should all thank President Trump for prompting Mexico to act with his threat to close the border. But most journalists won't give Trump credit for anything," Dan Gainor writes in Fox News. "Instead, many in the media are blaming the president for the border crisis that he is working to solve."

"In the closing months of Barack Obama's presidency — at the height of a national election — high-level government officials with access to terrifying loads of clandestine information about American citizens began spying on domestic political opponents," Charles Hurt writes in The Washington Times. The ensuing investigation "has done nothing but vindicate Mr. Trump and his valid concern that the Obama administration turned America's clandestine services against domestic political opponents during an election. This is truly terrifying stuff."

"Unlike the 1990s — when 90 percent of the border crossers were turned around and sent from whence they came — the new migrants are families who intentionally walk up to our border agents and get released into the U.S. after simply saying the magic word 'asylum,'" Steve Levy writes in Fox News. "So here's the question: Why aren't Democrats being held accountable for the border crisis or for blocking asylum reform?"

Hiring Speeds Up as U.S. Economy Adds 196,000 Jobs in March

America's economy beat market expectations once again and created 196,000 new jobs last month, Jeffery Bartash reports for MarketWatch.

"Hiring increased in most major segments of the economy," Bartash adds. "The flush of new jobs kept the unemployment rate near a 50-year low of 3.8% . . . [and] wages are rising near the fastest pace in a decade."

"The number of Americans filing applications for new unemployment benefits fell last week to the lowest level in half a century," Harriet Torry and Paul Kiernan report for The Wall Street Journal. "Thursday's report suggests the labor market remains strong, leaving businesses reluctant to let workers go."

"Proving themselves happy to pander to folks who can't let go of the Collusion Delusion, The New York Times and Washington Post are both suggesting that Attorney General William Barr spun special counsel Robert Mueller's report to make President Trump look good. But neither account amounts to more than clickbait," the New York Post editorial board writes. "Much of the news media, and many top Democrats, already have egg on their faces, thanks to Mueller's findings. It's astounding that they're trying to recover by digging the hole deeper."

"U.S. small businesses continued their aggressive hunt for new workers and added employees at a near-record pace in March. That's according to the latest employment report from the National Federation of Independent Business," James Freeman writes in The Wall Street Journal. "Also encouraging in this latest NFIB survey is that owners report robust hiring plans."

"There has been a 50 percent jump in illegal immigrant gang members coming into the United States this year, according to the former Border Patrol chief," Paul Bedard writes in the Washington Examiner. "What's more, he warned in Senate testimony Thursday, loopholes in federal law will result in some 650,000 illegal immigrants — more than the population of Wyoming — being released into the United States," where most will fail to appear for immigration hearings.

President Trump: 'No citizen will be forgotten'

The day he took office, President Donald J. Trump made a promise to the American people. "The forgotten men and women of our country will be forgotten no longer. Everyone is listening to you now."

For years, our government didn't operate that way. Washington put its own interests and grand plans above the basic, everyday needs of our citizens. Outside the Beltway, "a different reality exists," President Trump said on Inauguration Day—children trapped in poverty in our inner cities, rusted-out factories scattered across our heartland, and crime and drugs rooted in too many of our communities.

Today, President Trump took another major step toward reversing that decline and restoring the American Dream for all.

Speaking from the Cabinet Room, the President kicked off the inaugural meeting of the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council, which will lead the Administration's effort to renew hope and dignity in distressed parts of our country. Scott Turner, a former NFL player and state legislator, will oversee the Council's work.

"This is very close to my heart," Turner said.

Fifty-two million Americans live in economically distressed communities. Despite the historic streak of job creation and wage growth under President Trump, these areas are often plagued by high poverty levels, failing schools, and a scarcity of jobs. To reverse their fortunes, the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act created massive incentives for investment in these places, creating jobs and opportunities where they are needed the most.

The early returns are incredible in these "Opportunity Zones," which cover 8,700 communities across all 50 states. Property sale prices have soared more than 20 percent annually in these zones, building wealth for the people who live there and encouraging more economic activity in the process.

The new Council, under Turner's leadership, will build on this success. "Our actions will directly improve the lives of countless low-income Americans," President Trump said today. "Together we can lift up every forgotten community."

Video of the day: Smugglers push children through barbed wire barrier

On December 18, U.S. Border Patrol captured footage of human smugglers pushing family units through an old, barbed-wire section of border fencing near Yuma, Arizona. The image of children being forced along in this journey speaks louder than any words can.

This is the crisis Congressional Democrats and their media allies don't want you to see—and the one President Trump is fighting to end.

"That's preposterous, since Mr. Barr's four-page letter quotes directly from Mr. Mueller's report."

The suspect, a registered sex offender, illegally re-entered the United States after being deported and was re-arrested for victimizing a child under 13. "Illegal immigration has real-life consequences," Attorney General Landry said.

"According to new research from Zillow, real estate investors appear to be flocking to Opportunity Zones in the U.S., where they can receive a discount on capital gains taxes for investing within certain areas," Michael Gerrity writes in World Property Journal. The White House • April 3, 2019

This is what our southern border actually looks like

Congressional Democrats claim that replacing existing barriers on our southern border isn't necessary. Maybe they haven't seen how these old fence sections actually work.

In just one example, on December 22, smugglers pushed a group of adults and children through a hole in the Sanchez Canal border infrastructure—an area of the wall that's partially underwater. These smugglers profit off thousands of children brought along by adults on this terrifying journey.

 Watch: Smugglers push children underwater to cross the border

The Trump Administration is treating the crisis on our southern border as the true national emergency that it is. Last night, Homeland Security Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen explained how U.S. law enforcement has broken up so-called "child recycling rings," a horrid practice where smugglers kidnap children, give them to adults to cross the border posing as a family, and pass them back to other illegal immigrants, repeating the process.

"The smugglers . . . they are sicker than we have ever seen before," Secretary Nielsen says.

Meanwhile, border apprehensions are skyrocketing, and U.S. facilities are overwhelmed. In February, more than 76,000 people crossed the border without authorization, the highest number in more than a decade. Today, we are quickly approaching a new era of 100,000 or more illegal immigrants apprehended per month.

A long-term solution can come only from Congress, but the Trump Administration is using the full extent of its executive authority to address the immediate crisis. This week, the Department of Homeland Security announced that 750 personnel would be temporarily reassigned to the southwest border. "We are doing everything we can to simply avoid a tragedy in a CBP facility," U.S. Customs and Border Protection Commissioner Kevin McAleenan says.

President Trump is also using his presidential authority to properly enforce the immigration laws passed—and then ignored—by Congress. His national emergency declaration allocates up to $3.6 billion for barrier construction along our southwest border.

That's good, because the state of America's border is a disgrace for a modern republic.

The new NATO under President Trump

Yesterday, President Trump welcomed NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg to the White House, commemorating tomorrow's 70th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Over the past two years, the Secretary General and I have developed a very strong working relationship. It's been as good as it can be," the President said yesterday. "We're both committed to ensuring that NATO can address the full range of threats facing the Alliance today."

From day one, President Trump promised that America would no longer foot the bill for NATO while other countries shirked their obligations. The message to our allies in Europe was simple: They should care about our collective security just as much as the United States does.

Message received. Since 2016, our NATO allies have added more than $40 billion in defense investments. By 2020, that figure will reach $100 billion.

Obama Border Patrol chief perfectly explains our immigration crisis

Homeland Security Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen announced yesterday that more than 750 U.S. Customs and Border Protection officers will be temporarily reassigned to America's southwest border. "The situation at our southern border has gone from a crisis to near system-wide meltdown," the Secretary wrote yesterday.

While President Donald J. Trump has taken action to address our national emergency at the border, Congressional Democrats still refuse to acknowledge a problem even exists—much less present any serious plan to address it.

They should listen to Mark Morgan, head of the U.S. Border Patrol under former President Obama.

 Watch: Obama Border Patrol Chief on America's asylum crisis

The problem starts with glaring loopholes in America's immigration laws, particularly those governing the asylum process. The intelligence shows that most asylum-seekers "are coming here for two reasons," Morgan says. "Economic equality and family reunification. They are not fleeing persecution or violence, and the stats show that."

But it gets worse. "The incentives to come here are overwhelming," he says. "They're willing to take this dangerous trek because they know: Grab a kid, set one foot on American soil, and you're allowed . . . to remain here unchecked."

No modern immigration system should function that way. "The crisis at our border is worsening, and DHS will do everything in its power to end it," Secretary Nielsen says. "We will not stand idly by while Congress fails to act yet again, so all options are on the table."

A message on World Autism Awareness Day

"On World Autism Awareness Day, we honor the millions of Americans living with autism spectrum disorder (ASD), who, in spite of the challenges they may face, continue to make extraordinary contributions to their families, their communities, our Nation, and the world," President Trump writes in his Proclamation this week. "We also express our sincere appreciation to the families, friends, medical professionals, and caregivers who help Americans with ASD pursue the American Dream."

As a country, it's crucial that we continue to support all Americans with ASD. The Trump Administration has secured funding for cutting-edge research while enhancing all available resources and treatments to help both those affected by ASD and their families, communities, and caregivers.

"Today, we celebrate the tremendous accomplishments of Americans with ASD and reaffirm our commitment to work together to ensure that every member of our society is afforded equal opportunities to reach their full potential."

A 'free ticket' into America?

"We are truly in a crisis," former President Obama's Homeland Security Secretary Jeh Johnson said over the weekend.

The first thing Johnson would look at each morning on the job, he explained, were the previous day's border apprehension numbers. "I know that a thousand [apprehensions] overwhelms the system. I cannot begin to imagine what 4,000 a day looks like," he said.

 Watch: Obama DHS Secretary agrees our border is in crisis

That staggering figure is quickly becoming reality. Last month, U.S. immigration officers apprehended more than 75,000 individuals—the highest number in more than a decade. Now, the total is closing in on 100,000 migrants per month.

Illegal immigration is a problem Washington has ignored for decades. The crisis America faces today, however, is categorically different than any of its past versions.

"Compared to past flows, these migrants are arriving in enormous groups unlike any we've seen before," Homeland Security Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen writes today. "In most years, only one or two 'large groups' of more than 100 migrants would arrive at our borders. Already in this fiscal year, we've seen more than 100 such large groups."

The Wall Street Journal's editorial board explains the problem clearly. Our "broken asylum system all but guarantees entry if you bring children," they write. Smugglers know this loophole well, and it doesn't take a law enforcement expert to understand the dire humanitarian and security consequences that such a law invites.

While Congressional Democrats remain in denial, U.S. border officials "have identified 2,400 'false families' over the last year as smugglers pair adults with unrelated children," the Journal reports.

Secretary Nielsen warns that America's immigration system was not designed to handle this influx of vulnerable populations. Because of outdated laws and troubling court decisions, the majority of those who break our immigration laws will never be removed from the United States—no matter how hard our border agents work at their jobs.

"The system is breaking," she says. "As a nation, we cannot stand for this."

President Trump on 'the power of redemption'

April is "Second Chance Month," and President Trump is using the occasion to celebrate a monumental achievement in reforming America's criminal justice system.

"Americans have always believed in the power of redemption," the President writes in his Proclamation. "Almost all of the more than two million people in America's prisons will one day return to their communities. In each case, they will have served their sentence and earned the chance to take their places back in society."

The First Step Act, which President Trump signed in December, is helping both inmates and former prisoners alike through rehabilitative programs, fair sentencing, and smarter confinement rules. The President's 2020 Budget proposes more than $500 million in programs to help prisoners succeed in society after their release, as well.

In a visit yesterday to Georgetown, Kentucky, Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump toured the world's largest Toyota manufacturing plant with Gov. Matt Bevin (R-KY). She carried the Trump Administration's message "that U.S. businesses have to become more prominent in working with the federal government to boost worker training and skills development," Grace Schneider reports for the Courier-Journal. Toyota answered the call to action and "committed to boosting the skills of 200,000 workers."

"Catherine Toney began February in prison and ended the month with a job at Walmart after White House adviser Jared Kushner called the Arkansas-based retailer on her behalf," Steven Nelson writes in the Washington Examiner. "Toney, 55, is believed to be the first woman freed by the FIRST STEP Act, which President Trump signed in December."

"The Mueller report confirms that the Obama administration, without evidence, turned the surveillance powers of the federal government against the presidential campaign of the party out of power," James Freeman writes in The Wall Street Journal. "It's time for Mr. Obama, who oddly receives few mentions in stories about his government's spying on associates of the 2016 Trump campaign, to say what he knew and did not know about the targeting of his party's opponents."

"Support for a southern border wall among conservatives has jumped since President Trump came to office, reaching a new high of 99 percent," Paul Bedard reports in the Washington Examiner. "The survey . . . found that support for Trump's border wall has increased 85 percent since he became president."

First Lady Melania Trump "continues to make an impact with her 'Be Best' initiative as she made a surprise visit to West Gate Elementary School in Palm Beach County, Florida, to discuss bullying and encourage empathy among students," Madison Summers reports for Independent Journal Review.

A raw, firsthand look at the 'crisis next door'

Opioids killed more people last year than either car accidents or gun violence. Among teens and young adults aged 15 to 24, a staggering three-quarters of all drug-related overdoses involve opioids. Behind each statistic is a story—often a heart-wrenching one.

- Sarah lost both her parents to fentanyl. "It's very disturbing to walk down Main Street in your own city, and see people overdosed in alleyways and seeing needles littered on the ground—and have your child ask what they're for." See Sarah's story.
- Ashley lost her only sister to an opioid addiction. "I had to call my mom and tell her. I was the first one in my family to find out." See Ashley's story.
- "I became a person I didn't recognize," Justin said. After being involved in a car accident, Justin was prescribed pain killers. Nearly five years later, he was addicted. "I dropped all my friends. I didn't do anything but go to work and pop pills. And that's not the way anybody should have to live their life." See Justin's story.

If stories like these sound familiar, you're not alone. Opioid abuse is truly the crisis next door, affecting everyone from football captains to stay-at-home moms. In 2019, two million Americans will suffer from addiction to prescription or illicit opioids.

President Donald J. Trump has put the full weight of the Federal Government behind fighting the epidemic. A year ago, he launched the Initiative to Stop Opioid Abuse, with a rare-for-Washington focus on tackling the root causes of the problem. The initiative aims to reduce opioid demand and overprescription in the United States, cut off the flow of illicit drugs, and improve treatment for those suffering with addiction.

If you've been affected, you can help lift the silence and stigma of addiction in America. Share your story and see others at www.crisisnextdoor.gov.

Ivanka Trump: More good news for American workers

Today, Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump visited Toyota Motor's manufacturing facility in Georgetown, Kentucky—the company's largest auto plant in the world—as part of the Trump Administration's major push to expand job opportunities for American workers.

Just two weeks ago, Toyota announced a massive $13 billion investment in the United States that will add about 600 new manufacturing jobs in Alabama, West Virginia, Missouri, and Tennessee. But the company didn't stop there. Today, they doubled down on their commitment by signing President Trump's "Pledge to America's Workers."

More than 200 companies have signed the pledge thus far, totaling more than 6.7 million new opportunities for the U.S. workforce. By adding its signature this morning, Toyota promised to create 200,000 enhanced career and training opportunities in Central Kentucky and across the United States.

On the factory floor, Ms. Trump was joined by Gov. Matt Bevin (R-KY), getting a firsthand look at the company's advanced manufacturing programs while meeting with employees and students. "We have 7.3 million vacant jobs, but we have 6.5 million unemployed Americans," Ms. Trump said. "So, there are people who need those jobs, and these training programs provide them the pathway to those jobs."

Tax Reform Is No 'Sugar High'

"The current mantra from opponents of the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act is that the strong economic growth that followed is the result of a 'sugar high,'" Rep. Kevin Brady (R-TX) and economist Lawrence Lindsey write in The Wall Street Journal.

"These arguments reflect political and ideological wishful thinking, not a substantive analysis of what is happening in the economy . . . Thanks to the tax cuts and deregulation, the economy boomed in 2018 despite monetary tightening" from the Federal Reserve, Lawrence and Rep. Brady explain.

"The fact that President Trump was exonerated of charges of collusion with Russia should be welcome news to any American. However, many Democrats consider it an inconvenient obstruction," the Boston Herald editorial board writes. "No investigation, no report, no evidence, will ever satisfy the Democrats that Trump is a legitimate president with whom they must work to accomplish the people's business."

"The nation's top border security official said Wednesday that the border is at its 'breaking point' during a visit to Texas, where as many as 1,000 migrants crossed into the U.S. and there are not enough agents to respond," Louis Casiano reports for Fox News. U.S. Customs and Border Protection Commissioner Kevin K. McAleenan said that "CBP is facing an unprecedented humanitarian and border security crisis."

"Of all the reputations in tatters now that Robert Mueller has exploded the Russian-collusion fantasy, Obama-era spy chiefs John Brennan and James Clapper stand out," the New York Post editorial board writes. "These two weren't average citizens: They spoke with the authority of having headed federal intel operations"—breaking a longstanding precedent of former top law enforcement officials steering clear of politics.

"Medicare for All would break a sacred promise and harm seniors' access to care by forcing a system designed to support them to take on every other American. They deserve a system that helps them get well, not get in line," Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Seema Verma writes in The Wall Street Journal. "The monetary cost of Medicare for All is surpassed by its moral cost. The plan would strip coverage from more than 180 million Americans and force them into government insurance."

"President Trump on Wednesday awarded a posthumous Congressional Medal of Honor to U.S. Army Staff Sgt. Travis W. Atkins, who heroically sacrificed his life and saved the lives of three fellow soldiers while fighting in Iraq in 2007," Emily Ward writes in the Washington Examiner. "In his final moments on Earth, Travis did not run," the President said. "He laid down his life to save the lives of his fellow warriors."

First Lady of Venezuela visits the White House

Venezuelan Interim President Juan Guaido is a tremendous leader working hard to free his country from the grips of a socialist dictatorship. Today, President Donald J. Trump welcomed his wife, Interim First Lady Fabiana Rosales, to the White House.

Venezuela's story is unfathomable. Once the wealthiest country in South America, years of massive wealth confiscation, suppressed free speech, and rigged elections have brought the country to the brink of ruin. Today, nearly 90 percent of Venezuelans live in poverty. In 2018, hyperinflation in Venezuela exceeded a staggering 1 million percent.

"Everything's broken," President Trump said today of the Maduro regime's destruction. "They have no water . . . The lights are out."

First Lady Rosales thanked the United States today for its leadership on the world stage. In January, Venezuela's National Assembly invoked its constitutional right to declare Guaido, President of the Assembly, as the country's legitimate leader. Within 30 minutes, America was the first nation in the world to officially recognize President Guaido.

"To see [President Guaido] and his courageous wife stand before the crowds and take that oath of office under the constitution of Venezuela was inspiring not just to people across our hemisphere and across this country, but all over the world," Vice President Mike Pence said before today's bilateral meeting between U.S. and Venezuelan officials. In the days that followed that oath, the Maduro regime unleashed untold horror—blocking humanitarian aid, killing innocent civilians, and burning medical supplies.

"Eighty percent of the population in Venezuela has no power. They are trying to break our morale," Ms. Rosales said today. "They want to submerge us in eternal darkness. But let me tell you that there is light, and the light is here."

America and the rest of the world are watching closely. The Venezuelan people do not stand alone.

President Trump presents the Medal of Honor

Travis W. Atkins first enlisted in the United States Army in 2000. Following a tour of duty in Iraq, he was honorably discharged from service as a Sergeant. But after attending the University of Montana, Atkins felt called to serve once again—and reenlisted in 2005. He was deployed to Iraq the following summer.

On June 1, 2007, Staff Sergeant Atkins engaged in hand-to-hand combat with a suspected insurgent. During the exchange, Atkins quickly realized the man had a suicide vest strapped to his body. Without hesitation, Atkins tackled the insurgent, using his own body to shield his fellow soldiers from the imminent explosion.

Staff Sergeant Atkins' heroic actions, at the cost of his own life, saved the lives of three American service members. Today, President Trump commemorated the selfless sacrifice of Staff Sergeant Atkins by awarding him a posthumous Medal of Honor.

"Today the name of Staff Sergeant Travis Atkins will be etched alongside of the names of America's bravest warriors and written forever into America's heart," the President said.

On the Green New Deal, the Democrats Are All Yellow

The Washington Examiner editorial board writes that the Green New Deal is a profoundly embarrassing and politically damaging proposal for Democrats—which is probably why not a single one of them voted for it yesterday.

“Faced with a day-of debate on their own embarrassing resolution, Democrats spent their floor time trying to blame Republicans for not taking global warming seriously enough. But if Democrats took it seriously, and didn’t just view it as a potential source of donations from gullible millenarian millennials, they would not have fallen in line behind this ludicrous unicorns-and-rainbows proposal in the first place.”

“Attorney General William Barr told Congress Sunday that special counsel Robert Mueller did not find collusion between the Trump campaign and the Russian government, destroying two years of media speculation and bad reporting,” Amber Athey writes in The Daily Caller. “In light of Mueller concluding his investigation, we’ve compiled a list of some of the worst media screwups in the history of Russia theories.”

Now that Special Counsel Robert Mueller has dispatched the Russia collusion theories, The Wall Street Journal editorial board writes, one has to ask “how did the partisan propaganda known as the Steele dossier become the basis for an unprecedented FBI probe of a presidential campaign, an abuse of law enforcement, and two years of media and political hysteria? . . . Its authors and promoters should be held accountable.”

“House Democrats on Tuesday failed to override President Trump’s first veto as part of their battle over border security, representing a victory for the administration that allows the president’s declaration of a national emergency at the U.S.-Mexico border to stand,” Andrew O’Reilly reports for Fox News. President Trump called it a “BIG WIN today.”

“Ivanka Trump is coming back to Kentucky. The adviser to President Donald Trump will tour Toyota’s largest manufacturing plant in Georgetown on Thursday,” The Associated Press reports. “Toyota Motor North America CEO Jim Lentz and Toyota Motor Manufacturing Kentucky President Susan Elkington are scheduled to sign the White House’s Pledge to American Workers,” an “effort to encourage private employers to adequately train their workers.”

Congressional Democrats fail to override the national emergency Congressional Democrats are having a banner week, and it's only Tuesday.

After the collapse of the 2-year, $25 million false Russian collusion debacle over the weekend, House Democrats this afternoon attempted yet again to reverse President Donald J. Trump's national emergency declaration for our southern border. In the end, despite Democratic control of the House, they fell a few dozen votes short of overriding President Trump's veto of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's (D-CA) resolution.

"The Democrat-sponsored resolution would terminate vital border security operations," President Trump explained before signing his veto on March 15. "Congress's vote to deny the crisis on the southern border is a vote against reality."

Too few in the media have bothered explaining to the American people why the situation at our southern border is a national emergency in the first place. The reality is that our immigration problem today is vastly different than what it was even just a few years ago.

In fiscal year 2000, for example, most U.S. Border Patrol apprehensions were of single adult males. Of these individuals, 95 percent were repatriated within hours. Today, apprehensions largely consist of family units and minors, many of whom end up remaining in the United States for a long time because of loopholes in our immigration laws.

Smugglers know these loopholes and exploit them to circumvent our safe, lawful, and secure immigration system. As a result, apprehensions of family units have surged by a jaw-dropping 338 percent this year. Daily attempts to cross the southern border illegally have hit a 13-year high, as well.

Here's what that means: "The surge has maxed out the capacity of existing detention centers" near the U.S.–Mexico border, NBC News reported today. "The Department of Homeland Security is now in negotiations with the Department of Defense to detain and care for the overflow on U.S. military bases."

In other words, America's immigration system is so broken that our military bases may have to become temporary shelters while U.S. courts try to keep up with the case backlog. The President's national emergency declaration tries to limit the damage by allowing access of up to $3.6 billion in military construction funds for border security.

Today's vote demonstrates yet again that Congress refuses to address the security and humanitarian crisis its own negligence has created. It should at least allow President Trump to use his executive authority to step in and fix it.

The Green New Deal goes 0-57 in the Senate

Today, Senate Democrats were given a chance to show Americans exactly where they stand on the far left's "Green New Deal" proposal.

The Green New Deal isn't "socialism lite." It's a full-scale government takeover meant to reshape every aspect of Americans' lives from Washington. The blueprint, unveiled by self-described Democratic Socialist Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-NY), would eliminate fossil fuels completely, upgrade or replace every single building in the United States, and aim to get rid of "polluting" commodities such as cattle and airplanes.

As one of North America's most prominent labor unions put it: "It is difficult to take this unrealistic manifesto seriously, but the economic and social devastation it would cause if it moves forward is serious and real."

This afternoon, Senate Democrats were caught between working Americans, who reject socialism, and their far-left base, who embraces it. What they chose to do was remarkable: Rather than register their opinion on the Green New Deal, dozens of Democrats simply voted "present" on the resolution to bring it to the floor for a vote. Three joined their Republican colleagues in rejecting it, resulting in a final tally of 0-57.

A Catastrophic Media Failure

"Robert Mueller's investigation is over, but questions still abound. Not about collusion, Russian interference or obstruction of justice, but about the leading lights of journalism who managed to get the story so wrong, and for so long," Sean Davis writes in The Wall Street Journal. "It wasn't merely an error here or there. America's blue-chip journalists botched the entire story, from its birth during the presidential campaign to its final breath Sunday—and they never stopped congratulating themselves for it."

"The saga that is the Mueller Report is a consequence of what happens when you begin with a conclusion and then desperately seek evidence you hope will confirm it," Cal Thomas writes in The Washington Times. "No amount of evidence to the contrary will keep [Democrats] from continuing investigations. House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jerrold Nadler, New York Democrat, says he intends to ask Attorney General Barr to testify before his committee. We can expect plenty of grandstanding by Democratic committee members if that happens."

The President "tweeted last week that the U.S. will formally recognize the Golan Heights as part of Israel. The decision is strategically wise and morally important," Sen. Lindsay Graham (R-SC) writes in The Wall Street Journal. "Mr. Trump has been one of the most effective American leaders in strengthening the country's relationship with Israel. His decision to recognize the Golan Heights as part of Israel should prove yet another major, lasting achievement for his administration."

From Inauguration Day 2017 through delivery of the Special Counsel's report last week, "the ABC, CBS and NBC evening newscasts produced a combined 2,284 minutes of 'collusion' coverage . . . a level of coverage normally associated only with a major war or a presidential election," Rich Noyes writes for NewsBusters.

Yesterday, Vice President Mike Pence "reaffirmed the Trump administration's support for the U.S.-Israel relationship" during his speech at the AIPAC annual conference, Lisa Hagen reports for U.S. News & World Report. "Anti-Semitism has no place in the Congress of the United States of America," the Vice President said, addressing recent comments by Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-MN). "Anyone who slanders this historic alliance between the United States and Israel should never have a seat on the Foreign Affairs Committee."

"House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, R-Calif., said Monday that Rep. Adam Schiff, D-Calif., should step down as chairman of the House Intelligence Committee," Zachary Halaschak writes in the Washington Examiner. "McCarthy said Schiff used his high-profile role as leader of the committee to push a false narrative about President Trump and insinuate to the American public that Trump colluded with Russia."
